REAL ESTATE CONTRACT.

GEORGE N. GRIDLEY V. T. H. BAYLESS APPEAL FROM THE CIRCUIT COURT OF COOK COUNTY.

Moran J.: This action was brought by appellee against appellant to recover the sum of five hundred dollars alleged to have become due to him by reason of appellant's failure to perform a certain contract with reference to the exchange of real estate.

There was a finding and judgment in appellee's favor in the Circuit court, and the case is brought here and eloborately argued on questions relating to the construction of the contract, whether it ever became operative between the parties to it, and which one was in fact guilty of the breach, if it did become operative.

The contract was between Hubbard Parker of the first part, and appellant Gridley of the second part, and the clause under which appellee claims to recover is as follows:

"If either party hereto shall fail or refuse to carry out this contract, he shall forfeit to the other the sum of five hundred dollars, which shall be accepted as full and complete satisfaction as liquidated damages for such refusal to carry out the contract.

"The provision is made with the approval of the brokers, and if said Parker shall default, the $500 to be paid by him shall go to W. A. Frye, broker for Gridley, and if Gridley shall default, the $500 to go to Col. T. A. Bayless, broker for Parker, the parties not to be liable for commission if this deal shall not be consummated."

A cause of action for the recovery of said sum of five hundred dollars could only accrue to Baylsss against appellant by proof of the existence of such facts and circumstances as would entitle Parker to maintain an action for breach of the contract, and before Parker could recover for a breach by Gridley he would be bound to show that he had performed all that the contract required on his part, or that he was ready, willing and able to perform.

There was contention as to this point, and the court was asked by the defendant to hold, and refused to hold the following propositions as law:

FIRST PROPOSITION.

In order to hold the defendant liable, under the contract in question, to pay the five hundred dollars ($500) forfeit as provided in the fifth clause of said contract, the said Hubbard Parker must have been able, ready and willing to have carried out said contract on his part, and the burden of the proof is upon the plaintiff to prove that said Parker was so able, ready and willing; and in so proving the same he must show, by a preponderance of evidence, that the requisite fact existed to have enabled said Parker to have maintained a bill against defendant for the specific performance of said contract, or to have maintained a suit against him for damages for nonperformance of the same.

While this is a general proposition not stating the specific acts which Parker should be ready and willing to perform, still it states a correct rule, and the refusal of the court to hold it indicates that the finding in favor of appellee was upon some smaller measure of proof than is required by the proposition. The case presented is not one which warrants this court in sustaining a finding and judgment of the court below, based upon an incorrect view of the law. There is no objection to appellee's maintaining an action on this contract in his own name, which seems to have escaped the attion of the parties and of the trial court, and which, as the case is to sent back for new trial, we will point out.

The contract is one under seal, and while it contains a provision for the benefit of Frye or of Bayless, as the refusal to perform the contract might be by Parker or by Gridley, yet neither Frye or Bayless is a party to the contract.

"The rule is, that a covenant cannot be sued upon by the person for whose benefit it is made if he is not a party to the deed, but the suit must be brought in the name of the person with whom the covenant is made."

Harms v. McCormick et al., 132 Ill. 104, overrulling Dean v. Walker, 107 Ill. 540.

Without passing on any of the questions made in the case, except the refusal of the court to hold the proposition of law above set out, we reverse the case for that error, and remand it to the Circuit court.

Reversed and remanded.

In the Sheridan Drive Subdivision it is expected that the sewers will be clean at all times. This result will be due partly to the land being high so that the sewers have a good fall; partly to many of the sewers being designed to carry house drainage only, and partly to flushing tanks to be placed at the upper ends of all sewers by which they will be flushed automatically every day. It is the aim in this Subdivision to have everything sweet, clean and healthful as well as artistic.

INDUSTRIAL DEPARTMENT.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Company's 6,150 miles of road traverses a vast territory, rich in all the resources that insure industrial success.

The Industrial Department is conversant with the Iron, Coal, Lumber and Tanbark, the Water-Power (both river and artesian) for factory and electric power purposes, the markets, the transportation and financial facilities, and other interests on the line pertaining to industrial development, and disseminates information concerning same.

A number of new factories has been induced to locate—largely through the instrumentality of this Company—at enterprising towns on its lines.

As the interest of the Company is to secure the location of industries at places where the surroundings will insure their permanent success, the information furnished a particular industry is pertinent and reliable.

In the Eastern States and in other parts of the world factories are so congested and distant from the actual markets as to result in fierce and destructive competition. That the West is taking a place as one of the great manufacturing territories of the world is forcibly impressing itself upon discerning and enterprising manufacturers. Steps should be taken by such while the field is as yet not fully covered, and while inducements are still being offered, to locate in the West.

Individuals or companies wishing to embark capital in Western industry can find a profitable field.

Luis Jackson,
Industrial Commissioner,
C., M. & St. Paul R'y, 160 Adams St., Chicago, Ill.

TRADE AND FINANCE.

It is a matter of congratulation that there still remains an abundance of gold in the United States. According to the latest estimate, there is $606,000,000 of gold in the country. The stock of bullion is $82,000,000. The sub-treasury has $76,000,000 of gold coin, and at the Assay office there is $42,000,000 of gold bar. The amount of gold held by the United States Treasury is $198,000,000—mostly against gold certificates. Altogether the situation displays considerable of reserved strength.

The anti-option bill continues to attract considerable attention at all the boards of trade and produce exchanges, throughout the country. Chicago has sent some of its ablest representative men to Washington, where they have given evidence before the committee presided over by Mr. Hatch. From all accounts the committee are weakening. The fact is, trading in futures is an essential feature of modern economic developments. Such trading not only creates a market but it steadies prices.

Wheat was boomed, Thursday, to 95 cents, upon an old chestnut published by a leading newspaper, to the effect that the Standard oil crowd, reinforced by Col. North (of Chilean Nitrate-bed fame) and Mr. Mackay, were manipulating that cereal. Multi-millionaires are not likely to risk their millions in any such unpromising gamble. The play is referred to as if the United States and Russia were the only sources of supply. The probabilities are that if any "cornering" is attempted, it will work almost wholly to the benefit of India, which could, without much effort, pour out a small reserve (P. B. Hutchinson's famous "invisible") of 100,000,000 to 150,000,000 bushels of wheat.

Business on Wall street has been brisk, though not of last week's sensational character. The coalers continue to attract most attention, but prices have yielded upon realizations. Reading is back to 58, after having mounted to 65. Lackawana and Delaware and Hudson have also declined in sympathy. There is some talk of difficulties ahead for the coalers from legislation, but insiders say that nothing in the shape of an anthracite trust is intended. It certainly seems that there is plenty of scope for earning increased dividends without resorting to any questionable expedients. Railway bonds fairly active, but recent high prices not fully maintained.

The railway earnings for January were not uniformly good. The earnings of the grangers were, it is true, 25 per cent greater than for the corresponding month of last year, but the Trunk lines only just managed to hold their own. The Pacific lines exhibit but a fractional advance. The Southern lines decline about 7 per cent; but the Western roads which of course largely share in the benefits of the heavy crop movements, advance 6.5 per cent. The total aggregate earnings for 125 leading railroads was $37,062,955, a gain of a little over three per cent.

Cotton rules weak, though it has recovered somewhat. Middling uplands sold, Wednesday, at New York at 7 3-16 cents. The total cotton crop in sight from September 1, 1891, to February 5, 1892, was 7,313,000 bales, as compared with 6,955,000 for the corresponding period of the preceding crop year. We have here some explanation of why cotton is selling so low.

Trade only fairly active in leading staples. The West continues to be the best purchaser. Structural iron in some request, but prices not advancing in conformity with manufacturers' views. Recent concessions in pig-iron have stimulated the demand, but ironmasters decline to concede present quotations for deferred deliveries, which would indicate that they regard early advance as in order.

Money continues plentiful and easy. At Eastern centers, good indorsed paper can be discounted at about 3½ per cent; but at Chicago, 5 per cent is asked. According to last statement of the New York banks, deposits increased $6,195,200, and loan's increased $5,637,700; the total deposits being $515,376,700, and the surplus $33,441,425.

On the other side of the ocean, the financial outlook is fair, though Russia continues to crave for gold and is obtaining it by reducing her balance at London, Paris and Berlin. The bullion at the Bank of England has increased during the week £379,000 ($1,840,000), and the reserve to liability, which stood last week at 44.85 per cent has fallen to 43.16 per cent. Bank of France gains on the week: Gold, 6,356,000 francs; silver, 4,225,000. Money easy, everywhere.

*Preceding week's returns †Not included in totals.

The total gain, as compared with returns for the corresponding week of last year, is $288,515,000 or rather better than 27.2 per cent. Of this amount, $212,636,000 must be credited to the Empire city, a gain upon its separate returns equal to 36.9 per cent. This leaves the gain at all outside points at $75,879,000, or rather better than 17.5 per cent.

Of the fifty-six cities of the United States available for purposes of comparison, thirty-seven exhibit rising returns, while nineteen send in lower figures.

As a glance at the table will show, the most notable gains are at the leading cities. Once more New York city leads the list, with a heavy gain, equal to 36.9 per cent. This favorable showing is mainly traceable to considerable speculative activity on Wall street. Thus, on Februrary 11, the last date covered by the returns before us, no less than 1,449,014 shares were disposed of, being the largest on record. Following New York comes Philadelphia, with a gain, over the corresponding week of last year, of 30.7 per cent. Last week, we stated that Philadelphia was evidently undergoing a great revival, and that the bank clearings at that point might be expected to fluctuate somewhat violently, the general tendency being, however, toward better things. In the returns before us, Philadelphia bank clearings exceed $80,000,000, being but 9 per cent less than those of Chicago. This is a somewhat startling advance, which however, may in measure be accounted for by the enormous speculative activity developed in the "coalers," and in which Philadelphia took a prominent part.

Among the principal gains we have, Boston, 7.1 per cent; Chicago 16.6 per cent; St Louis, 11.4 per cent; and Cincinnati, Buffalo and Minneapolis with gains of 11.1 per cent, 22.3 per cent and 50.2 per cent, to their credit respectively.

New Orleans records a moderate advance, equal to seven-tenths of one per cent, but, considering all the circumstances together with recent steady and heavy declines at that point, this is satisfactory. On the other hand, Baltimore yields a decline of 5.9 per cent.

The iron centers are rather neutral, apart from Philadelphia, which has already been alluded to; while Cleveland gains 4 6 per cent, Pittsburg declines 1.6 per cent. The iron centers of the South and Southwest continue depressed.

Excepting the cities already named, and Louisville which declines 1.8 per cent the losses are confined to the secondary and smaller cities. In this category, the following shrinkages may be enumerated: Richmond 11.4 per cent; Fort Worth, 32.8 per cent; and Seattle and Tacoma 12.5 per cent and 3.9 per cent, respectively.

Canada continues to send in favorable returns, its gain in the present instance being $2,544,000, or 26.4 per cent.

Continuing the analysis for the same weeks, but by groups of states, we have:

	WEEK ENDING FEB. 11, 1892.	WEEK ENDING FEB. 12, 1891.	PERCENTAGE.
New Engl'd States.	$ 109,273,826	$102,348,677	Inc 6.7

Northwestern "	119,621,626	99,466.941	" 20.2
Southwestern "	41.650,849	37,822,303	" 10.1
Totals,	$ 1,353,155,544	$1.064,640,394

Of the seven groups, six exhibit gains, and only one (Southern states) sends declining figures. The gains are in every instance substantial, the lowest (the New England states) being equal to 6.7 per cent, that for the Middle states reaching as high as 35.4 per cent, and for the Northwestern states over 20.2 per cent. The remaining three groups each advance over 10 per cent.

THE LOCAL STOCK MARKET.

Trading at the room on Dearborn street has presented no special feature during the past week. The volume of business has been satisfactory, and prices have remained almost stationary; the only movement of any account being an advance of two points in Packing and Provision, common stock. North-side cable is practically unchanged. Most of the trading was at 181¾, for the account On no day did more than a few parcels change hands. The trading in West-side cable has been far more active than in the sister property. On more than one day, over 2,000 shares changed hands. Rumors of the Lake street "L" sale did not depress the price as some anticipated. Indeed, what movement there has been has taken an upward direction. When it is stated that the range for this property was last Saturday from 134¾ to 135, and that the close on Thursday was at 135—with 135⅛ for the highest point—little remains to be added.

A few shares of City Railway sold last Saturday at 324. Since then there has been no deal. The asked price on Thursday was 325, with 322½ bid. There has been some heavy trading during the course of the week in Street's Stable Car Line, and, on the whole, the tendency has been fractionally upward. The range for the week has been from 38½ to 39 for regular; the close Thursday being 38⅝. On that day over 3,600 shares changed hands, mostly in hundreds, but including one 1,000 parcel, and 500 shares in two lots.

Calumet and Chicago Canal and Dock in good request. Range for week from 79⅞ to 80½. One hundred and fifty shares sold on the second call Thursday at 80, regular.

Western Stone entirely neglected. A few shares of Arc Light and Power disposed of at 89. This price was again bid Thursday, but without inducing any offers.

Diamond Match in steady request, and firm at 144 to 143¾. On Monday, 100 shares (in two lots) of American Strawboard sold at 88, regular. On Wednesday, regular advanced to 89½; and for the account, sold up from 90¼ to 90⅝. On Thursday, for the account started off at 91, but closed at 90½, having previously sold to 90⅝.

Brewing and malting continues to attract quite a little attention. With beer selling at $4 per barrel, it is admitted there cannot be much profit. Still, the feeling is, that the war of rates cannot continue indefinitely, and there is already some talk about sundry new concerns quitting the field. The common stock, which stood last Saturday at 34, sold down (Thursday) to 33½ regular, but the undertone of the market is fairly strong. Preferred stock advanced from 42 to 43.

Packing and Provision quite strong. Common stock advanced from 51¼ to 53¼, the latter being the closing price for regular. On Thursday, preferred stock, not much doing; what business was effected was at 48¾.

Bond market presents no special feature. Gas Light and Coke 5s ranged from 88½ to 89¼. The bulk of business was, however, effected around 89, the close on Thursday. Consumers' Gas 5s, advanced from 86½ to 87½ but closing at 87⅜. There has been quite a little business in City Railway 4½s at 99; and in North-side 4½s at 95½. On Wednesday, $50,000 West side Tunnels' 5s, was disposed of in a block, at 96.

Among the transactions of the week, the following may be enumerated: Opera House 6s at 100; Central Union Telephone at 56½; New York Biscuit at 71. Also Chemical National Bank, 10 shares (Wednesday) at 98, and 25 shares (Thursday), at 100.

UNITED STATES NATIONAL BANKS.

The National banking system was organized under an act of Congress passed in 1863, upon the recommendation of the Hon. Salmon P. Chase, secretary of the treasury. Two years later, 1,513 National banks were in operation, possessing an aggregate capital of almost $400,000,000. and $723,000,000 in deposits. On the 25th day of September, 1891, 3,677 National banks were in operation, with deposits aggregating over $2,000,000,000.

For the period of twenty-nine years, the failures have been equal, numerically, to about 3½ per cent. The annual average loss to creditors has been only one-twentieth of one per cent. Official data are not accessible as to banks other than National, but Bradstreet's furnishes a list of 117 institutions, consisting of bankers, brokers, savings banks, trust companies, and banks other than National, which failed during the year ending June 30, 1891, representing losses to creditors of almost $17,500,000, an amount in excess of the total losses of all the banks of the National system for the twenty-nine years of the existence of the system. The amount of domestic exchange drawn by all National banks during the year ended June 30, 1891, amounted to more than $12,500,000,000. This vast sum represents the transfer of bank credits necessary to simply adjust the balances arising out of trade relations between the various sections of the country. In these transactions only 6.94 per cent of actual money was employed, the remainder being represented by checks, drafts, and other substitutes for money. The total receipts of the 3,364 National banks for a single year aggregate $129,250,000,000, or a sum greatly in excess of the estimated value of all the real and personal property of Great Britain and the United States combined. If we consider with what economy and safety the immense business thus outlined is transacted, it will be apparent that we have already reached a condition of safety in banking not heretofore realized. Although the operations of more than a quarter of a century have demonstrated that associations organized under the National bank act approximate more nearly than any other to the ideal condition of perfect safety, it may be admitted without humiliation, that further progress in this direction is attainable.

In the consideration of measures looking to the greater safety of National banks, it should be borne in mind that 96½ per cent of these associations have in this respect, met the requirements of the most exacting; hence any new restrictions to be imposed, should be directed toward preventing loss to the creditors of the remaining 3½ per cent, without imperilling the general success attained. Under present conditions, no material profit can accrue to National banks by reason of the issue of notes for circulation, and therefore any onerous restrictions might cause many National associations, now successfully and honestly managed, to withdraw from the system. Similar consideration must be bestowed upon various propositions submitted for greatly increasing the liabilities of directors for losses which occur under their management. It is well known that bank directors are not salaried officers and that their services are usually rendered gratuitously; hence, in the large cities especially, it is with great difficulty that men of high character and great ability are induced to accept these positions, because of the labor involved, the loss of time and the grave responsibility. Any enactment that would necessarily increase the pecuniary responsibility of directors, and place in jeopardy their private fortunes, would no doubt, cause the withdrawal from these positions of the most efficient, and cause their places to be filled by men in every way their inferiors, thus aggrevating instead of palliating, the evil resulting from the present lack of attention and efficiency on the part of directors. Certainly no radical innovations should be adopted under the pressure of temporary excitement, at the risk of destroying the most effective system of which we have any knowledge.

As a general proposition, it may be stated that the success of a bank is dependent upon the integrity and ability of its active officers. Neither legal enactments nor official supervision can create these qualities, although the former serve to deter the wrongdoer and the latter to educate the inexperienced. Whatever, therefore, tends to induce greater care in the selection of these officers by boards of directors, will enhance the safety of the system. Experience demonstrates, also, that safety is promoted by a proper distribution of shares. In a general way success is jeopardized where the holdings of capital stock are so widely distributed as to prevent supervision of intelligent ownership, or so concentrated in the hands of a few as to make possible selfish or corrupt control. The governmental authorities cannot conduct a banking business—they can only inspect and supervise. So long, therefore, as bank officers are deficient in judgment or integrity, failures will occur. Certain suggestions are herewith submitted, which may reduce these disasters to a minimum.

The law should forbid the purchase by National banks of shares of any incorporated company as an investment, and should require the prompt sale of all shares taken to secure doubtful debts. Investments in bonds issued by such corporations should be subject to the same limitations as to amount as may be applied to direct loans to individuals.

There should be an amendment to the present law forbidding the active officers or employees from becoming liable, directly or indirectly, to the bank with which they are connected. The liability of directors also should be, by law, made subject to reasonable limitations as to both loans and discounts, inclusive of indorsements and guarantees for the accommodation of others.

No limitation is now imposed by law on the discount of large lines of commercial and business paper, including bills of exchange drawn against actual existing values. In my opinion this omission should be supplied, and such bounds put upon transactions of this character as will make imperative a proper distribution of loans and discounts, thus preventing the solvency of a bank from being dependent upon the success or failure of one or more of its chief customers.

The most serious obstacle encountered in all endeavors to promote sound banking, has been the inefficiency and inattention of directors.

It will be observed that the measures suggested as necessary to a greater degree of safety on the part of our National banks, are neither numerous nor radical. The system has passed its experimental stage, and, despite ephemeral and injudicious criticism, it to-day stands firmly established in public confidence, and recognized as indisputably superior to any hitherto known. Taken all in all, it has proved admirably adapted to the changed conditions developed by the experience of a quarter of a century, and well suited to the wants of the inhabitants of widely separated states, living under varied social conditions, with customs as dissimilar as climatic and race conditions can produce upon the continent.—E. S. Lacey, Comptroller of the Currency, in the North American Review

THE REAL ESTATE MARKET.

Real estate agents in the present market have to be satisfied with anticipation rather than realization. There are all the conditions present favorable to a revival of interest in real estate lines. The local money market continues to be easy, and as capitalists are not in the stock market to any great extent, the amount of investment capital on hand is on the increase rather than the decrease. The bond and commercial paper market have been thoroughly canvassed, and the prediction is made that the attention of investors will return to real estate. It is a fact, however, that few large transactions are being completed at the present time. It seems to be hard to interest purchirsers and more work is necessary in carrying through negotiations to a successful termination than is usual. One of the most interesting of recent transactions is that by which the Economic Gas company secure a site for a gas plant. A block of land extending foom Cologne street north to the Chicago river just east of Main street, has been transferred from three owners to Sanford B. French, representing the Economic Gas company. The land purchased has a frontage of 612 feet on Cologne street, about 750 feet of dock frontage, and a frontage on Main street of 400 feet. The price paid for the block, which is of irregular shape, is $135,000. Two lots forming the west half of this block were sold for the heirs of Joseph Brown for $70,000. A third lot with a frontage of 198 feet was sold for the Roach estate for $35,000. This purchase will go far toward convincing the general public that the Economic Gas company actually means business and is not in the field for the purpose of being bought up or combined with the Gas Trust. It will also set at rest the various rumors of purchases contemplated by the gas company at Deering, South Chicago and a half dozen other places. The engineers of the company have made plans for an extensive gas plant which will represent an outlay of over $1,000,000.

Two other deals of the greatest importanee were also given finishing touches last week. The Lake Street Elevated road has finally been sold. The purchasers are a syndicate of New York bankers and railroad men, and the original projeetors of the road will leave only a nominal interest in the enterprise. The exact amount paid for the road and the details of the transaction have not as yet been made public. It is understood, however, that the coterie of local capitalists which projected the road, has realized a trifle more than the amount actually represented in outlay.

Warren F Leland has at last admitted that the Leland Hotel is sold on the terms published some time ago. The fee and building bring $1,025,000. The purchasers of the fee are Boston parties, and the purchasers of the building and lessees of the ground are Chicago capitalists. The Grand View Hotel company has been organized with a capital stock of $500,000 to purchase the building and furniture for $400,000 and to expend $100,000 in adding two stories to the present structure.

The rental situation is somewhat interesting. Notwithstanding the great supply of office buildings which have been completed ready for occupancy, the demand seems to keep pace with the supply. The reports from agents having in charge the Woman's Temple, the Unity Building, the Masonic Temple, Ashland Block, Title and Trust Building and other new office structures, report good success in securing tenants. There does not seem to be any inclination as yet to cut prices, and office space at rates ranging from $1.35 to $2.50 a square foot is in good demand. There is a tendency toward increase in rents of stores and first floor offices, which will probably continue to be a feature. The opinion is quite freely expressed that there is an artificial demand being created for stores and business property by speculators in business leases. The amount of ground floor space is limited and can not be increased to an indefinite degree by building as in the case of office property. The location of the Fair in Chicago will undoubtedly cost Chicago merchants dearly in increased rentals. Retail merchants in many cases find when they attempt to renew their leases that some enterprising speculator has anticipated them and is demanding a bonus for the holdings. It is argued that landlords are pursuing a short-sighted policy in not discriminating in favor of bonafide tenants. The present system encourages the location of tenants who will agree to pay a higher rental than they can actually afford. One effect of the increase of rentals will be to drive established business houses into sections remote from the present business center and to extend the charmed circle which divides gilt-edged central business property from the second-rate business property which has been in poor demand for some time.

Down town owners by their action in conniving at increased rents will secure for themselves poor and experimental tenants and will also increase the amount of competing property.

THE REAL ESTATE SIGN NUISANCE.

Just what sentimental effect the posting of real estate signs promiscuously over property offered for sale or rent has upon it has always been an open question among real estate men. Early in the history of the Real Estate Board an effort was made to secure an ordinance which would regulate the enterprise of real estate men in sign board advertising. The practice is gradually becoming more general and at present its effects are seen in every part of the city. The effect of an array of more or less conspicuous advertising boards ranged on one piece of property can not be to establish the confidence of the prospective buyer. He arrives at the conclusion that a desperate effort is being made to sell the land and his human nature asserts itself in shunning it. The districts which have been most active are more thickly covered with signs. Outside sections, which are being developed by a real estate operators, carry only the signs of those interested. Sections which have been active are a field for all, and the variety and number of large and small signs testify to the number of brokers engaged in the real estate business. The property around the South parks and along the Lake Shore Drive has the most noticeable display of signs. Cottage Grove avenue between Forty-third and Sixty-third streets is lined with signs of all descriptions. They range across the fronts of lots, and in some cases vacant corners by moonlight have all the appearances of grave-yards dotted with modest tombstones. On one fifty-foot lot near Fifty-first street can be counted fifteen signs, all setting forth that the property is for sale by the respective firms who own the signs. On a vacant tract near the Midway Plaisance are over forty signs. They are of all sizes and descriptions and in all conditions of repairs. They will range in size from boards twenty five feet square down to narrow strips which are nailed to trees and tacked to fences. There are signs with letters in black, in red and in green; signs, round and square; and signs fitted up with every device to catch the eye. Signs of firms which are considered gilt-edged jostle with signs posted by wildcat firms which have quietly gone out of business. A lot will have a picket fence of boards along its street line, and back in the body of the lot will be a sign which will state that the property is for sale "exclusively" by an entirely different firm.

Signs on business property might be excused, but the lining of our pleasure drives and thoroughfares with the "for sale" boards is something which is wholly inexcusable. Strangers must have a queer opinion of the real estate men who advertise in this manner. They must think that the property owners are making an extraordinary effort to sell their property. In many cases too, the signs mean nothing. Agents put them up without the requisite authority and trust to make a sale in case a customer is attracted by them.

An owner will be approached by an agent in regard to price. A price is stated and immediately a sign is placed on the ground. In other instances agents will give orders for the placing of a certain number of signs irrespective of ownership.

In the case of a South Side lot it was found that six agents had placed signs upon it. Only one of the six had authority to sell. The others had seemed a show of authority not from the owner but by a sort of progression through the first agents. Though much is said about tearing down obstructive street signs, it would seem more of a relief to most people to see the real estate signs removed. They extend across entire blocks of the choicest South Side property and are no less abundant in some of the finest suburbs of Chicago. One of the city aldermen has promised to present an ordinance before the Council providing for the regulation of the real estate sign nuisance. This action indicates the general feeling against such a method of advertising. If this ordinance were enforced strangers would view the city property from a different standpoint. They would judge the city by the number and kinds of buildings erected; they would not go away with the impression that property owners are making a desperate effort to sell and therefore this is not exactly the time to buy. They do not know that possibly 90 per cent of the signs are put by unauthorized agents, in fact they can not draw correct conclusions without knowing the many arts resorted to by many agents.

AN INTERESTING SALE IN JEFFERSON

Cropper & Tucker, 607 Chamber of Commerce building, have just closed an important deal in Jefferson property. The land in question consists of 66⅔ acres and is legally described as the south half and the northwest quarter of the west 88 45-100 acres of the southwest quarter of section 31, town 40, range 13. It was sold for John D. Platt, who has owned it during the past eighteen years, to Anders Madsen, the consideration being $40,000. The property lies half a mile south of the depot, its southern boundary being West North avenue and Washington avenue or west 72nd street bordering it on the west. Mr. Madsen, the purchaser, is an extensive owner of property on the northwest side of the city and he proves his strong confidence in its future worth by continually adding to his possessions there. Since the new year opened interest in Jefferson real estate has been on the increase and the sales there that have been consummated or are under contract make a most satisfactory summary. This, by the way, is one of the best acre sales made thus far this year.

REAL ESTATE AUCTION SALES IN CHICAGO.

Thoughtful real estate men in Chicago are looking to the example of New York and wondering why we can not have a successful auction market here as well as in the eastern metropolis. The New York auction room is crowded daily with a throng of business men bent on trading and the weekly sales frequently aggregate close to a million dollars. This amount does not include sales in which property is bid in by the owners: so that it will be seen that the auction room offers an opportunity for the transaction of a large volume of business with the greatest possible ease and dispatch. It frequently happens that property reaching in value into the hundreds of thousands is thus knocked down under the hammer in the New York Exchange. In fact, in New York city the auction sales of real estate are assuming such formidable proportions as actually to rival the private sales.

It must be borne in mind that in the conduct of these sales property is frequently announced for sale at auction two or three months in advance; so that the exchange offers a valuable source of information as to what properties will be thrown on the market in the near future. The merits and demerits of these properties are discussed on the street and in the public prints for weeks before the sale, and thus a fair idea of the value of the offerings is obtained by all parties interested. Where property is not ripe for sale on the day appointed an adjournment is had to some later date. As a last resort the owner himself may bid in the property if a satisfactory price can not be secured.

The obstacles which stand in the way of a successful auction room in Chicago were fully discussed in a recent issue of the JOURNAL. It must be admitted that the conditions in Chicago are not so favorable to the sale of real estate by auction as they are in New York. However, indications point the establishment of sueeessful sales of this character at no distant date. One thing needed is greater facility in the transfer of titles. This has been already partially secured through title guarantees. Other similar steps will follow and soon real property will, it is hoped, be made a quick asset in the Chicago market.

PRESENT BUILDING ACTIVITY.

One of the most hopeful signs of the market, is the almost unprecedented activity in building circles. Not only from Chicago, but from every direction outside the city come reports of new buildings projected. Notwithstanding the fact that the number of new buildings erected in Chicago last year was remarkable, the record is likely to be surpassed this year. As the time for opening the World's Fair approaches, capitalists seem to be in haste to complete new structures which the anticipated rush of visitors is expected to make profitable. The JOURNAL is of the opinion that the most sanguine expectations of capitalists in this respect will be more than realized. When it is considered that not only all the states of the Union, but also the densely populated countries of the old world, will unite in pouring their well-to-do classes into our city during a good portion of the year 1893, some idea can be obtained of the immense throngs that will visit us, and the large amount of money they will leave behind. In this view of the situation we do not think that building is being overdone.

The present building activity is not confined to structures for business and World's Fair purposes. There is now a greater demand than ever before for dwelling houses. Leading firms inform us that this demand is far greater than the supply. There can be no doubt that we are entering on a period of great activity in house building. This is especially gratifying, as the success of business enterprises and the structures erected for their use, depends almost entirely on an increasing population with comfortable means—just such people as are now looking for permanent homes in Chicago.

THE BEST INVESTMENT.

The question is sometimes asked, what kind of investment may be regarded as safest? Shall I buy stocks, bonds, or real estate? Generally the returns are surest from investments in real estate. Opportunities for making money by purchasing land are so good in this country, that if the capitalist is at all judicious in his selection of time and place, he is sure to increase his fortunes rapidly. Those who buy near towns destined to enjoy a rapid growth are sure of large returns. The men who invested in Chicago and other large places a few years ago, either hold property of greatly increased value to-day, or have sold at a handsome profit. The growth of towns destined to be large cities, because of surrounding circumstances, is not dependent upon artificial booms, but they grow naturally—go forward by virtue of the life that is within them.

ALIEN LAND LAWS.

RIGHTS OF ALIENS TO ACQUIRE AND HOLD REAL ESTATE —CONSIDERATION OF STATE LAWS, TERRITORIAL LAWS PASSED BY CONGRESS AND TREATIES—ARGUMENTS PRO AND CON.

[SUBSTANCE OF A PAPER READ IN THE NATIONAL REAL ESTATE CONGRESS AT NASHVILLE BY R. C. SMYERS, AND ORDERED PRINTED AS PART OF THE RECORD OF THE CONVENTION.]

As the country grows older and population increases the subject of land ownership becomes more important and complex. Land transfer reform is a theme already familiar to every real estate operator in the United States, and in several of the States, notably New York and Illinois, steps have been taken in the direction of simplifying titles and facilitating the transfer of real estate. Whatever general system is adopted the aim in view is to make real estate a quick asset. Owners of land in need of funds will have a market on which to offer their holdings without delay. The remedy in this reform, it is claimed, can be reached by the adoption of the Torrens System of transfer.

But the simplifying of titles is not all that is needed. The absence of uniform laws to govern ownership by aliens is apparent from the large number of cases now pending in the courts of the different States wherein the rights of aliens to acquire or sell land are in dispute. It is not the purpose of this paper to criticize the laws of any State as they exist, because that would be the height of presumption; nor to expound the law, because that would place your humble servant in the light of a usurper. These features of the subject I shall leave to my superiors, the lawyers and judges who may be present, nor shall I propose a resolution or bill and recommend its adoption by Congress. If I can succeed in engaging the attention of the gentlemen here present and can awaken a greater interest in the matter of simplifying the laws bearing on this subject, I shall succeed in doing the little I have undertaken.

Having been the publisher of a newspaper devoted to real estate for the past twelve years, I have for a long time been impressed with the narrowness of the field I occupy as its editor. All attempts heretofore made by newspapers of this class to cover a wider field have resulted in failure simply because all real estate matters are purely local and not of general import. But a great change is already taking place. Real estate boards and real estate exchanges all over the land are being organized and several of them have adopted a system of selling real estate at auction in pretty much the same way as stocks and bonds are sold on our stock exchanges. This, however, can not be successfully carried on until our laws are changed and our system of transfers simplified. Questions of dower, of descent and of the doubtful rights of aliens to acquire and sell land are continually coming up to delay the settlement of estates and to involve litigation.

One of the strongest reasons to be urged for a more uniform system of alien land tenure is that present laws in many of the States drive out or discourage foreign capital and impose serious hardships upon many innocent people. The above reason is emphasized and others equally as weighty pointed out by a prominent lawyer in his suit in a case now pending before the Supreme Court of Illinois.

In the consideration of alien land laws we must of necessity contemplate several classes of aliens. Of these the most obvious are resident aliens and non-resident aliens. The former divide themselves into two classes, viz: aliens who have and who have not declared their intentions of becoming citizens. Non-resident aliens may be considered as differing according as they may take lands by descent or devise or by purchase.

An examination of the usages of the several States on this subject shows that the term land in this connection refers almost invariably to agricultural property. As a rule, no restrictions have been attempted on mineral lands or manufacturing property and but few on town or city lots. The chief solicitude of legislators has been for the freedom from alien ownership of the vast tracts of agricultural lands on which our people depend not only for their subsistence but as well for their surplus wealth, which manifests itself in the exchanges of our farm produce for the manufactures of foreign countries.

To protect these agricultural holdings from foreign ownership, laws have been passed, both State and National. The national laws are, of course, territorial in their jurisdiction. It may be added that in many of the Territories additional laws have been passed on this subject, always, however, in harmony with the federal law. The State laws have been numerous and as varied as numerous. In no two States is the law the same. In fact, while in some States aliens have all the rights of land ownership according to native-born citizens, in other States the law against alien ownership of real property is practically prohibitory. We must not lose sight of the fact that in the relations of the United States with many foreign countries this entire matter has been provided for by treaty, in the nature of reciprocity. It is an established principle that no law, State or federal, can abrogate a treaty. So that the laws of several States are thus brought into direct conflict with treaties between many foreign nations and the mother country.

The reason for the existence of any law must be found in some peculiar circumstances which combine to influence legislators to enact it. The raison d'etre of the alien land law in Illinois was very clearly given by the Hon. Henry L. Decker, who was a member of the Illinois Legislature in 1887, when the famous Alien Landlord Bill was passed. His explanation of the matter is valuable as giving a vivid practical illustration of the abuses which may arise under alien land ownership and the consideration of which has induced legislators in general to pass laws restricting such ownership. Mr. Decker says:

"The origin of the act was this: There is a man in Ireland by the name of Scully who had made purchases of large tracts of land in this State, (Illinois.) Instead of improving them as other farmers do, he put up shanties on them and then leased the lands out to tenants, making the tenants by the terms of the lease pay the taxes. The tenants were not interested in making improvements—such as school improvements—and they took no interest in improvements of any kind, or in building school houses. It was really introducing the Irish landlord system into the country, and the people in that county where these lands are felt very indignant about it. On that account some parties introduced a bill in the Thirty-fifth General Assembly which ripened into a law, approved June 16, 1887. That bill dealt with the leases under which the farms were held, and prohibited their renewal on the same terms.

"The introduction of that bill suggested a general revision of the laws in regard to the rights of aliens to hold real estate in this State, and thereupon several bills were offered, which were finally referred to a committee, who made up a bill out of several bills. It was adopted—part of the Senate bill and part of the House bill—and it was approved June 16, 1887, and went into effect July 1, 1887."

From the foregoing it will be seen that the theory of the law is sound. It is founded on the natural aversion which free Americans have to any allegiance, either political or industrial, to a foreign power. Care has been taken to protect, as far as possible, all legitimate investments of foreign capital in this country; but when such investments become in the nature of monopolies to the detriment of actual settlers here, then legislative enactment is necessary to protect the people. Such is the jealous care with which the liberties of the American people are guarded by their representatives.

But in practice the alien land law has been found to be somewhat defective. The chief objection to its workings appears to be that it conflicts with existing treaties. This is strongly illustrated in a recent Illinois case. A citizen of the State died leaving property. One of his heirs resided in this country and the others were residents of the republic of Hanseatic, Germany. Under the State law the alien heirs of citizens could not inherit. In this respect the law was singularly defective. It provided that alien heirs of aliens might hold land for three years, but made no provision whatever for alien heirs of citizens. Attorney Vocke, of the Chicago bar, argued the case before the Illinois Supreme Court. He contended that the alien land law of the State is void, because it is in conflict with treaties, because it violates the principles of international comity, operates as a special law as against alien heirs of citizens, and takes away vested rights and impairs contracts. He claimed for the act a liberal interpretation to the extent of including in its provisions the alien heirs of citizens as well as of aliens.

The decisions of the lower courts in the two Illinois cases which have come before them have been opposite. In one the law was sustained, in the other it was declared unconstitutional. In both cases an appeal has been taken to the Supreme Court of the State. The decision of the later tribunal is awaited with interest. It is worthy of note that in Texas recently in a case involving similar principles the Supreme Court held that the law was unconstitutional.

A brief summary of the laws of the several States on the subject of alien land tenure will be of interest in this connection. The laws of Illinois and Texas are practically the same. In the latter State an alien can hold land only on making declaration of his intention to become a citizen. Aliens taking by descent have nine years in which to become citizens or sell the property. I can do no better than to give as a typical law on the subject the Illinois statute of 1887.

"Be it enacted, etc., that a non-resident alien, firm of aliens, or corporation incorporated under the laws of any foreign country, shall not be capable of acquiring title to, or taking, or holding any lands or real estate in this State by descent, devise, purchase or otherwise; except that the heirs of aliens who have heretofore acquired lands in this State under the laws thereof, and the heirs of aliens who may acquire lands under the provisions of this act, may take such lands by devise or descent and hold the same for the space of three years and no longer, if such alien at the time of so acquiring such lands is of the age of 21 years, and if not 21 years of age, then for the term of 5 years from the time of so acquiring such lands, and if at the end of the time herein limited such lands so acquired by such alien heirs have not been sold to bona fide purchasers for value; or such alien heirs have not become actual residents of this State, the same shall revert and escheat to the State of Illinois the same as the lands of other aliens under the provisions of this act: Provided, that minor aliens actually residing in the United States may acquire title to lands in this State by purchase and hold the same for a term of six years after they might under the naturalization laws of the United States, have declared their intentions to become citizens of the United States, and if at the expiration of said term of six years said aliens have not become citizens of the United States, the lands so acquired by them by purchase shall revert and escheat to the State under the provisions of this act, and it shall be the duty of the State's attorney of the county in which said lands are situated to enforce forfeitures of of all lands mentioned in this section in the same manner as pointed out in this act for other forfeitures.

* * * * * *

Section 3. Any alien resident of the United States upon declaring his intention to become a citizen of the United States, which intention must be recorded, may take and hold lands for six years, but can not lease or devise any such lands unless a citizen of the State of Illinois.

In several of the States I find no law on the subject. In Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Kansas, Maine, Maryland, Michigan, Mississippi, Missouri, New Hampshire, New Jersey, Nevada, North Carolina, Oregon, Rhode Island, Tennessee, and the Virginias aliens have the same rights as citizens. In Nevada Chinamen are excepted.

In Arizona aliens taking by descent may hold for five years. The property shall then escheat to the State unless the alien has become a citizen or has sold the land.

In California, alien disability was removed in 1874. Resident aliens may take by purchase or succession the same as citizens. Non-resident aliens receiving by descent must appear in person or by attorney and claim the property within five years.

In Colorado, resident aliens may hold same as citizens. But non-resident aliens and foreign corporations cannot acquire any interest in agricultural, arid or range lands. This does not affect city or mineral lands.

In Connecticut, resident aliens and non-resident Frenchmen, so long as France accords to the United States the same privilege, may hold real estate. Other non-resident aliens may hold land for mining or manufacturing purposes, but property so held must not be in disuse for a period exceeding ten years, under penalty of escheat to the State. Land thus held will descend to heirs by devise or inheritance.

In Delaware, resident aliens who have declared their intention to become citizens may hold and sell lands. But non-resident aliens can not take at all, not even by legal inheritance from intestate.

In Indiana resident aliens who have made declaration may hold real estate the same as citizens. All other aliens, resident and non-resident, may take and hold by devise and descent only and may convey the property thus taken within five years. This limitation, however, is no bar to liens and mortgages held by aliens.

In Iowa, non-resident aliens or foreign corporations, or domestic corporations one-half of whose stock is owned or controlled by non-resident aliens, can not take land; except that non-resident aliens may acquire and hold real property to the extent of 320 acres, or city property to the amount of $10,000 in value, provided that within five years from the date of purchase of said property the same is placed in the actual possession of a relative of such purchaser, related within the third degree of kindred, and such occupant must become naturalized within ten years from said purchase. Resident aliens have the same rights as native-born citizens.

In Kentucky, an alien who has declared his intention to become a citizen has the same rights of real property as a citizen. Resident aliens who do not intend to become citizens may hold any property for residence or business purposes for 21 years. Non-resident aliens, taking by descent or devise may hold for eight years. Other non-resident aliens are accorded the same real property rights as are accorded to citizens of the United States by the alien's government.

In Minnesota, resident aliens who fail to become citizens, or non-resident aliens or foreign corporations, or corporations 20 per cent of whose stock is held by foreigners, can not hold lands, except by treaty, devise, or inheritance or in good faith in the collection of debts or foreclosure of mortgages.

In Nebraska, resident aliens have the same rights in this respect as citizens. Non-resident aliens can not take by descent, devise, purchase or otherwise. The act, however, does not apply to lands necessary to the operation of railroads or manufactures nor to real estate within the corporate limits of cities and towns.

In Pennsylvania, both resident and non-resident aliens may hold not more than 5,000 acres, or property the net annual income of which does not exceed $30,000. With this limitation aliens have the same rights as to real estate as do citizens.

In Wisconsin, resident aliens have the same rights as citizens. Non-resident aliens and foreign corporations, or corporations 20 per cent of whose stock is foreign, are limited to an ownership of 320 acres, except in the process of collection of debts by foreclosure, etc.

The rights of aliens in the Territories and District of Columbia are defined in the general acts of the United States statutes of March 3, 1887, which prohibits the acquisition of land in the Territories by any aliens except such as have signified their intention of becoming citizens, or by foreclosure. This act further prohibits the ownership of more than 5,000 acres of territorial land by any corporation in which more than 20 per cent of stock is owned by aliens.

The future policy of the nation in reference to alien land ownership is outlined in a bill now before Congress, introduced by Representative Wm. C. Oates, of Alabama. In a recent interview Mr. Oates said:

"The general idea of the bill is to prevent aliens and alien corporations or associations from coming into the United States and buying up and owning large bodies of land. However, the bill does not prevent aliens or alien corporations, authorized by their charter so to do, from loaning money on real estate security, or from holding, assigning, foreclosing and selling under any mortgage or deed of trust, given to secure the payment of money within the United States and its jurisdiction. The bill, therefore, cannot be said to drive foreign capital out of the country; but in cases of default above referred to, the alien or alien corporation can buy in the land on foreclosure and hold it for the period of seven years. If, during this period, the alien or alien corporation fails to dispose of the land, it shall, according to the bill, be subject to forfeiture. The bill provides further that any aliens who now own land in this country, may have ten years within which to perfect their citizenship, or dispose of their property. I know of the Scully case out in Illinois. There was in that case some dispute about the certificate of citizenship attached to a deed. This is avoided by the bill I have drawn, which declares that when any alien executes a deed of conveyance of any lands, and his or her title fails to show the grantor to have been an alien, it shall be presumed to have been made by a citizen of the United States, but such presumption shall not be conclusive."

It is probable that in the near future, if not during the present session, some such measure as this will be adopted, which will do much to establish uniformity in the matter of alien ownership and alien inheritance.

Inasmuch as a lengthy discussion of the subject under consideration is likely to prove confusing, it may be well for us to recapitulate the principal points of this paper.

In the absence of any statute to the contrary the rights of an alien landholder must be determined either by treaty or by common law.

The common-law rights of aliens were, as we have seen, very restricted. An alien might purchase real estate, but his title could be taken from him by the king at any time. Moreover, no alien could take lands by descent, nor could a citizen hold title to lands by descent if his descent was traced through an alien. This meant that neither of the natural born sons of an alien father could inherit from the other because their inheritance from each other must be traced through their alien father. Such was the harsh rule of the common law.

Treaty stipulations have not, as a rule, been favorable to the ownership of land by aliens except when taken by devise or descent, or by foreclosure, and then only so long as was necessary to dispose of the same. There is now no country in Europe in which aliens have not the right as heirs or devisees of real property to sell the inheritance and take the proceeds with them without detraction. This rule of international comity also prevails among the semi-civilized nations of the globe. It appears to be according to the enlightened spirit of the age. It does not, however, go to the extent of allowing aliens to own or control property for a longer period of time than is necessary to dispose of it to advantage. The policy of every nation is to prohibit the monopoly of land by foreigners. Treaties made by the United States specify that aliens taking by descent shall have "a reasonable time," or in some cases from three to five years, in which to dispose of their holdings.

Passing, then, to the statutory provisions on the subject, we find that the federal statute governs merely the Territories and provides against the ownership of real estate by aliens, either resident or non-resident. Exceptions, however, are made to cover all cases such as those of devisees and mortgagees. The statutes of the several States rest on the fact that each State is allowed to control the sale and tenure of its lands. Under this provision of the Constitution States which have felt the disadvantage of alien ownership have passed special laws to limit the same. These laws are uniform, in this respect, that they aim to restrict the ownership of land by aliens. Further than this, these laws are very diverse and some of them are so loosely framed that they violate existing treaties. The result is the movement on the part of Representative Oates to secure the passage of a bill in the lower house of Congress which shall at once and forever set at rest the question of alien ownership of lands in the United States.

THE NATIONAL REAL ESTATE CONGRESS.

Six hundred delegates from all parts of the United States have been in attendance on the National Real Estate Congress at Nashville, Tenn. The Chicago contingent consisting of nearly 100 solid business men, reached Nashville by special train and were met outside the city by a committee from the Nashville Commercial Club. The delegates were at once given the freedom of the city and were made royally welcome by the business men of Nashville.

The congress was the largest convention of exclusively business men which has been seen in the South for years. The sessions were held in the hall of the House of Representatives. Gov. Buchanan delivered the address of welcome. Mayor Guild in behalf of the municipality extended cordial greetings to the congress. George H. Armisted, of the Nashville Commercial Club, welcomed the delegates in behalf of the business men of Nashville. J. C. Bartholf of Milwaukee, responded in behalf of the visitors. Gen. W. H Jackson entertained a number of visitors at Belle Meade stock farm Wednesday afternoon.

Wednesday evening a constitution was adopted. The name chosen was the National Real Estate Association; the officers to be president, secretary, treasurer and a board of control of nine members; also a vice-president in every State in the Union. The membership fee was placed at $3.

On Thursday occured the election of officers. B. M. Weil, president of the Milwaukee real estate board, was chosen president of the association; W. M. Kline, Nashville, secretary; Wm. B. Cutter, Buffalo, treasurer. F. C. Maury of Nashville read a paper by Edward Atkinson, the prominent statistican, who was unable to attend. Other papers read were:—"The Torrens System of Land Transfer," by Theodore Sheldon and "Alien Land Ownership," by R. C. Smyers, of Chicago; "The Mission of the Real Estate Agent," by S. G. Sherwood of Buffalo; "Local Real Estate Boards," by Geo. E. Pomeroy of Toledo, O.; "The Rights of Husband and Wife in other Lands," by Morton B. Agnew, Milwaukee; E. C Holliday, Duluth; O W. Crawford, Texas. Buffalo was chosen as the meeting place for next October.

The Thursday evening reception given to the delegates in the Senate Chamber by the people of Nashville was one of the most brilliant in the history of the city.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE JOURNAL.

NASHVILLE, TENN., Feb 19.

REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING JOURNAL:

The National Real Estate Congress closed at 1 p. m. to-day. Chicago was well represented on all important committees. The paper on "Alien Land Ownership" was well received. R. C. Smyers of Chicago, J. W. Scales of Tennessee and E. C. Holiday of Duluth, were appointed a committee to draft resolutions antagonistic to unfriendly legislation by Congress on the subject. The attendance was large. Milwaukee got the president and Buffalo the next meeting to be held first Tuesday in October next. Nashville has done nobly. E S. DREYER.

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS IN FARM MORTGAGES.

Investors in farm mortgage securities have had their faith rudely shaken by the recent failure of the Western Farm Mortgage Trust Co., of Denver, Colo. A receiver has been appointed and is now in charge. As yet we have seen no official statement of the company's liabilities, and it is impossible to say to just how great an extent it is involved, but the amount is thought to be large The failure is said to have been brought about chiefly by bad management in the extension of credits on deferred payments and interest. As these payments became due many of the farmers were unable to meet them, and the company advanced the money from its own treasury. The result was that the company itself became involved, and was unable to satisfy eastern creditors, who held its bonds to a very large extent.

This failure comes at a time when well informed observers believed that the farm mortgage business would soon settle upon a firmer basis. Crops were improving and farmers had become so well supplied with machinery and tools, that they were able to devote all their surplus to the payment of their mortgage indebtedness For this reason, if for no other, the failure occurs at a most inopportune time It will cast discredit on a class of securities which are thought to be on the eve of being placed on a firm financial basis, by the general agricultural prosperity.

In this connection it is encouraging to note that an effort is being made by a prominent mortgage company in St. Paul, to form an association of loan companies, for the purpose of selling, farming, renting and looking after lands in North and South Dakota, that have been foreclosed. Many of these lands were taken up by parties who never intended to become permanent residents or to improve their claims, but with the sole intention of borrowing as much money on them as possible. As a consequence, a large number of foreclosures have been made, the mortgagees in nearly every case only foreclosing after every other resource had failed. The loan companies interested in the Dakotas will meet at St. Paul, February 24. It is proposed at that time to organize a stock company, to look after the scattered tracts of land, protect the property from neglect and loss, and cooperate with all enterprises which are being started to get immigration into the state. The loan companies are directly interested in this, Their holdings are large and their influence, if combined, would be a great assistance in getting settlers on vacant lands.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The financial world is rejoicing over indications of prosperity for the present and the near future. Exports since January 1, are said to have been largely in excess of imports, thus leaving a handsome balance of trade. The exports show a very handsome increase over last year. The figures for the period from January 1 to February 13, from the port of New York were $51,918,226 against $39,119,925 for the same period in 1891. Imports are also on the increase but it is thought that the balance of trade in our favor for February will be larger than was at first estimated.

The money market is also showing marked improvement. Loans are increasing and specie balances are being kept at normal figures with tendeney to increase. The indications are that no further exports of gold in large quanties will be made and that for the immediate future at least, the currency will not be seriously disturbed by the requirements of foreign trade.

Wall Street has been thrown into a fever of excitement this week by the Reading deal. This operation was remarkably well managed by men of wealth and ability, and is an illustration of what shrewd operators can do in the way of creating intense excitement and reaping large profits. Just how far the deal will go as a successful speculation can not at this writing be foreseen. That the high prices attained by the stock will be sustained is more than probable because the transaction has a basis of good business economy. The public does not care how great the profits of speculators are so long as the country at large is indirectly the gainer. In this case the transaction involves the saving of millions of dollars a year and is one of those cases only too rare in which the general public as well as the speculators will be greatly benefited.

The recent convention of cotton planters held at Augusta, Ga., January 27, adopted the following resolutions in reference to the real estate interests of the cotton belt:

Resolved, That this convention memorialize the Legislature of the cotton States, recommending the enactment of such laws as as they in their wisdom may think best calculated to accomplish the following results:

(1) The adaptation among us of the Australian or some similar system for the registration of land titles and transfers so as to render these evidences of property as secure and as easily and cheaply transferable as State and corporate bonds and stocks now are; (2)

To secure more effectually than at present all rights and privileges appertaining or in any way belonging to land (for example the right to game and the power to dispose of it as secured by law in Germany) to owners of land for their sole use and disposal; (3) That all agricultural lands be classified and a permanent valuation for taxation be fixed upon them as was done in England by act of Parliament in 1692; and that thereafter for a period of thirty-three years no improvements of agricultural lands be subject to assessment and taxation; (4) That to meet the present and prospective depreciation of cotton threatening bankruptcy we suggest a careful consideration by the legislatures of the subject of cotton tax.

The objection of underwriters to the erection of high buildings, does not appear to be confined to Chicago. At a late conference of the New England Insurance Exchange Committees with the Lynn Board, it was agreed that height, as well as area and floor space, will be a new feature in rating, by which high building construction will be discouraged. An extra charge of fifteen cents will be made on five-story buildings and contents; forty-five cents on six story buildings, and $1.05 on seven story buildings. It will be noticed that these rates are much higher than those fixed by the Chicago Board of Underwriters, as noted in last week's JOURNAL, but the fire-proof quality of the Chicago risks, is assumed to be of a far better kind.

Speaking of the comparative cost of building, a builder of forty years ago says: "In those days, everything but carpentry was cheaper than it is now. The cost of labor for laying brick is just about double what it was then. With carpenter work, however, the case is different. The introduction of wood-working machinery for turning out finishing woods has so cheapened the cost of the interior woodwork, that I think, in spite of the fact that the workmen earn more, the whole carpentry is done to-day as cheap as it was in 1850; $1.50 a day was the regular wage of a carpenter then.

AGENTS' BUDGET.

Recent sales, however small, not yet recorded, will be reported in this column. All matter must apply to the real estate business and real estate men.

A. S. Trude reports the sale of 50x77½ feet, northeast corner of South Water street and Wabash avenue at their junction with River street; consideration, $110,000. The property is now occupied by Scully & Co., and the sale is contingent upon surrender of their lease. However, no difficulty about the lease is anticipated, and Mr. Trude considers the property sold.

Walter H. Wilson has sold for Walter L. Peck to E. T. Kiggins, represented by Charles C. Whitacre, the premises Nos. 2240 and 2242 Michigan avenue, 34x171 feet, east front, improved with two modern three story brick residences, for $36,000.

Mr. Thome, Vice-president of the Peter Hand Brewing company, has leased the property Nos. 75 and 77 Randolph street, from the Huntington Estate, at a rental, including taxes and assessments, which amounts to $125,000 for a ten-year term. The negotiations for the lease of the property was carried on by Van Vlisingen & Ismond. The property consists of a building 40x160 feet on a lot 40x180 feet. It is a four story building, of which the lower floor is now occupied by the Central restaurant. It is on the north side of Randolph street between State and Dearborn. The lease is made for a term beginning May 1, 1892. The lessee proposes to make improvements representing an outlay of about $50,000, making it one of the finest brewery headquarters in Chicago.

Haywood & Wright report the sale of two five acre blocks in the southwest corner of their Edgemoor subdivision, for $40,000, to Layton, J. W. Norton and Paul Remington. They have let contracts on the south eighty acres, for a 6 foot granite cement sidewalk, and a combination curb and gutter, to the Northwestern Asphalt Co., for $50,000. This is the first subdivision to introduce the combination curb and gutter. Edgemoor will be one of the finest residence districts in the city when completed. The property is located between Western and California avenues, and 79th and 83d streets. A building restriction of $3,000 has been written in the deeds, thus insuring first class improvements. The Chicago Central Railroad which will be completed next May, will run through the center of this property, and insure excellent suburban service.

Eggleston Mallette & Brownell have sold 100 feet on 72nd street between Perry and La Fayette avenues in Eggleston, to Robert Studer, for $6,000. Mr. Studer will erect at once a block of Bedford Stone front flats, to cost $25,000. The buildings will be in modern design with all improvements, and are designed as an investment by Mr. Studer. They will be ready for tenants about May 1st.

Mr. Jenks, of W. A. Merigold & Co., reports that collections on subdivision sales are remarkably good. The small purchasers seem to have plenty of money, and in some cases are paying up in advance. The indications in this direction for spring trade are excellent.

Mr. Holinger, of the firm of Engers, Cook & Holinger, has returned from Washington, where he received from President Harrison an exequatur, which confirmed an act of the government of Switzerland, on the 2nd of this month, appointing him consul of the Swiss Confederation, for the states of Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin and Iowa, the seat being in Chicago. This selection gives great satisfaction, not only among the Swiss people, but among business men generally, with whom Mr. Holinger has a wide acquaintance.

Mr. Cook, of Engers, Cook & Holinger, returned Thursday from his extended trip through California and Mexico. He is now in prime condition for the handling of a new seasons' business, having secured the rest and recreation he was so in need of when he left Chicago some months ago.

Charles S. Smith, of the Kenilworth Company, has closed several sales of property in Kenilworth, and inside of the next thirty days, over a dozen residences will be commenced there. These, with those already erected, will give that beautiful suburb thirty-five residences, as a result of one year's work. VALUE OF IRRIGATION IN MONTANA.

A recent article in the JOURNAL discussed at some length the process of irrigation and hinted at its general use eventually throughout a large portion of our western country. The value of irrigation is well exemplified in Montana, the larger part of whose agricultural area is 4,000 to 5,000 feet above sea level, to say nothing of its northerly latitude. The census shows that it irrigates a larger area than either Wyoming, Utah, Arizona or New Mexico, and raises more products by irrigation than Utah and Arizona combined, or Wyoming and New Mexico combined, although there are nearly three times as many persons in Utah as in Montana who farm by irrigation, and about an equal number in New Mexico. The first cost of a water right is less in Montana than in Utah or New Mexico, perhaps because of the greater water supply. According to the census of 1890 Montana had 5,661 farms of which 3,706 were cultivated by irrigation. The total irrigated acreage was 350,582 acres. In addition 217,000 acres were irrigated for pasturage. The average first cost of water right in that State was $4.63 per acre, and the average cost of land and its preparation for cultivation was $9.54 an acre. The average annual cost per acre was 95 cents, which, deducted from average annual value of products, leaves an average annual return from irrigated farms of $12 per acre.

OF SPECIAL ASSESSMENT WARRANTS NOT YET FULLY PAID, ESPECIALLY REPORTED FOR THE REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING JOURNAL.

The JOURNAL prints this week through the courtesy of Mr. J. S. Sheahan, superintendent of the bureau of special assessment, a list of warrants upon which rebates are due. Owners will find in many cases that rebates have been paid them on these assessments, and if on examination of their receipts this is found to be the case, they will save themselves disappointment and the department annoyance by not calling a second time. Owners who have received no rebate on the warrants listed below can obtain the same by presenting their receipts at Room 50, City Hall, the office of the special assessment bureau.

RULES FOR THE INSPECTION AND GRADING OF LUMBER.

Inspectors of lumber are not manufaoturers and must measure and inspeot lumber as they find it, of full length and width (except as to wane, which must be measured out and inspected in a lower grade), making no allowance for the purpose of raising grade.

Inspectors must use their best judgment, based upon these rules for their guidanoe.

The standard knot shall not exoeed 1¼ inohes in diameter, and must be of a sound oharaoter.

Spilts are always more or less damage to a pieoe of lumber. An allowanoe must be made, either in determining the quality or quantity, acoording to the nature of the split. A split extending to exoeed one foot will rednoe it to one grade lower.

Lumber should be sawed plump thickness, otherwise it is not oonsidered marketable, and must be reduced to the next standard thiokness or at least one grade lower, on acoount of thinness.

A cull below the standard thickness is a mill oull,

A oull which will not work one half of its size free from all defeots, is a mill oull and no recognized value and no account is necessary to be made of it.

When lumber or timber does not oome up to the grade or oontraot, it must be placed in the next lower grade named.

Lumber sawed for speoifio purposes, suoh as axles, bolsters, tongues, reaohes, newels, balusters, squares, etc., must be inspeoted with a view to the adaptability of the piece for the intended use, as in many oases, it cannot be used for other purposes.

Wagon stock must be olear, out from good, live, sound, tough, straight-grained timber.

Timbers must be free from unsound knots. Sound hearts not showing on the outside will be allowed.

In the grade of firsts and seoonds, the purohaser is entitled to the full average of firsts, whioh must not be less than 33⅓ per oent.

Standard lengths are always reoognized as being 12. 14, and 16 feet. Shorter than 12 and longer than 16 feet does not oome within the range of standard. In black walnut and cherry an exception is made, and ten feet is a standard length. Shorter or longer than standard lengths, in all varieties of hardwood lumber, exoept in oounter tops, are reduced one grade lower.

Common and cull lumber must be 8 feet and over long, exoept oherry and walnut, whioh must be 6 feet and over long.

Mixed lots, oontaining boards, planks, flooring, bolsters, reaohes, etc., shall be measured and inspected aocording to the rules governing the measurement and inspeotion of boards and planks.

Flooring strips should be 4 and 6 inches in width; 1 and 1¼ inohes in thickness. Other widths and thicknesses shall be designated as special sizes. It must have one faoe and two edges olear.

Common flooring strips shall be of the same size and general oharaoter as clear, but may have two small sound knots not exoeeding three-fourths of one inoh in diameter, or a small amount of wane on one edge whioh will not injure it for working to its full size.

Hickory should never be out while the sap is rising, as it is then liable to powder-post, and indioations of deterioration of this oharaoter should be oarefully scrutinized.

Newels from all kinds of timber must be clear and free from heart, to square 5, 6, 7, 8, 9 and 10 inohes plump. The length must be 4 feet full or multiples thereof.

Balusters and table legs shall be clear and square, 2x2, 2½x2½, 3x3 and 4x4, 32 inohes long.

Newels, balusters and table legs not ooming up to the grade of olear, shall be olassed as oull.

Counter tops shall be 12 feet and over long, 1, 1¼ and 1½ inohes thiok, and must be strictly olear, not less than 20 inohes wide.

Firsts are always olassed as olear.

Clear lumber must be 6 inohes and over wide, exoepting cypress and poplar, which must be 8 inches and over wide, free from all defects of every kind and nature.

Bolsters must be 4 feet, 4 feet 6 inches or multiples thereof in length, and the size must be 3x4, 3½x4½, 3½x5, or 4x5 inohes.

Reaches must be 2x4, or 2½x4½ inohes, and the lengths 8, 10, 12 and 16 feet.

Harrow timber must be 2½x2½ inohes, and the lengths 5, 10 and 14 feet.

Hiokory axles must be clear, and in lengths of 6 or 12 feet, for sizes 3½x4½, 4x5, 4x6, 4½x6 and 7 or 14 feet, for 5x6 and 5x7 on speoial order, out from sound, tough, butt logs.

Wagon tongues must be olear and straight, 3x4 at small end and 4x4 at the butt end, or 2½x4½ at small end and 4½x4½ at butt end, 12 feet long, from tough, straight-grained timber.

Bolsters, reaohes, harrow timber, hickory axles and wagon tongues not up to grade of olear, will be olassed as oull.

Standard thickness shall be 1, 1¼, 1½. 2, 2½, 3 and 4 inches, except poplar, whioh will allow 5-8 inch.

When lumber is sold on this market to be measured merohantable, the inspeotor must measure full, except in culls. which are to be measured at one half.

It is important that all lumber should be parallel in width, square edged, and with square ends. Tapering lumber is measured at the small end. Ordinary season checks are not defeots, Squares must be clear. 4x4, 6x6, 7x7 and 8x8 inches.

Stains, speoks, hearts, shakes, rot, worm-holes, holes, etc., are considered serious defects, reducing lumber to grades lower than firsts and seoonds.

Log-run is the entire cut of the log, mill culls out.

RECENT LEGAL DECISIONS.

The Superior Court at Indianapolis, Ind., has reversed the opinion given by Judge Harper some time ago, in the case of the First National Bank of Shelbyville v. the Meridian National Bank of Indianapolis. The facts of the case are in brief as follows: Last spring a cattle thief sold cattle to the firm of Stockton & Co., at the Union Stock Yards of Indianapolis. Stockton & Co., gave the man a check on the Meridian National bank in payment. At the bank the man could not furnish identification, and so, getting the che k certified, he went to Shelbyville and had it cashed at the First National Bank. In the meantime, Stockton & Co. had learned that the cattle bought were stolen, and ordered the Meridian bank to stop payment of the check. But it was too late. As Stockton & Co. had a clear right to stop the payment of the check, the question arose whether the Shelbyville or Indianapolis bank, should lose the money. The Shelbyville bank sued the Meridian bank for the amount of the check, on the ground that in certifying it the latter bank had guaranteed it, or at any rate had made itself responsible for it. Judge Harper decided the case for the defendant, holding that in certifying a check, a bank simply certifies that the signature is genuine, and that the drawer of the check has enough money on deposit to pay it, but does not in any way vouch for it further. In reversing this decision, the Supreme Court in effect, holds that a bank becomes fully responsible for any check which it certifies. Judge Walker prepared the opinion. The case will be appealed.

The appellate court of Indiana held that a real estate broker, employed at a stipulated commission, in case he finds a purchaser for certain designated real estate, at a price fixed, who produces a purchaser ready, able and willing to purchase at the price and upon the terms, with notice to his employer, is entitled to his commission, and that the fact that the conveyance was made to some person other than the real purchaser, if it was the same transaction and resulted in the sale of the property, of which the broker was the procuring cause, would not debar the latter from recovering his commission.

The Supreme Court of Louisiana has held in a recent case, that mortgages cannot be extended by implication to secure any other obligation than that expressly mentioned; and that a mortgage given to secure $2,500 for money advanced and acceptances made, and to be made during the present year, cannot be extended to cover advances made after the expiration for the reason that to do so by any implication from the subsequent dealings between the parties would involve the creation of a mortgage by parol of implication.

The Supreme Court of Kansas has decided that for all purposes of establishing and opening highways through mortgaged premises, the mortgagor in possession is to be regarded as the owner of the land. The court said:

In view of the statute in our state in relation to notice in road proceedings, and the law relating to mortgages and rights of mortgagors and mortgagees, we do not think it was necessary to serve notice on the plaintiffs for the purpose of establishing the road which was laid out across lands upon which they at the time held a mortgage. There is nothing in our statutes that requires service of notice upon anyone in such proceedings except the "owner." It has been seen that in our state a mortgagee of land is not the owner thereof. The mortgagor holds the legal title, and in the absence of stipulations to the contrary, the right of possession. He is regarded as the owner of the land, and when in possession by himself or agent, notice to him or his agent is, in proceedings to establish a public road, notice to the "owner" to the full inent of our statute requiring such notice."

The recent decision of the Supreme Court of Illinois affirming the right of a city to extend streets across railroads already constructed, is thus summarized by the Chicago Legal News:

Held, in a case where a city institutes a condemnation proceeding to open or extend a street across a railroad already constructed, the company owning such railroad is not entitled to be allowed, as a part of its compensation, the amount of its expense in constructing and maintaining the street crossing.

That in the extension of streets over other railroad lands than tracts or rights of way, and in the construction of sewers under or through the railroad rights of way, serious damage might be done which would require compensation or restoration. But where the approaches to the crossing are graded, and planks are laid between the rails to make an even surface for the passage of persons and teams, and gates are erected to delay such passage until a train passes, there is no part of the track or right of way or land to be restored to its former state, nor is the usefulness of the railroad in any way impaired. That the use of the crossing by the public may result in the stoppage or slower movement of trains, and in the increased danger of accidents, but it has been held by this court that no damages can be allowed for these inconveniences.

In the Sheridan Drive Subdivision it is expected that the sewers will be clean at all times. This result will be due partly to the land being high so that the sewers have a good fall; partly to many of the sewers being designed to carry house drainage only, and partly to flushing tanks to be placed at the upper ends of all sewers by which they will be flushed automatically every day. It is the aim in this Subdivision to have everything sweet, clean and healthful as well as artistic.

INDUSTRIAL DEPARTMENT.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Company's 6,150 miles of road traverses a vast territory, rich in all the resources that insure industrial success.

The Industrial Department is conversant with the Iron, Coal, Lumber and Tanbark, the Water-Power (both river and artesian) for factory and electric power purposes, the markets, the transportation and financial facilities, and other interests on the line pertaining to industrial development, and disseminates information concerning same.

A number of new factories has been induced to locate—largely through the instrumentality of this Company—at enterprising towns on its lines.

As the interest of the Company is to secure the location of industries at places where the surroundings will insure their permanent success, the information furnished a particular industry is pertinent and reliable.

In the Eastern States and in other parts of the world factories are so congested and distant from the actual markets as to result in fierce and destructive competition. That the West is taking a place as one of the great manufacturing territories of the world is forcibly impressing itself upon discerning and enterprising manufacturers. Steps should be taken by such while the field is as yet not fully covered, and while inducements are still being offered, to locate in the West.

Individuals or companies wishing to embark capital in Western industry can find a profitable field.

Luis Jackson,
Industrial Commissioner,
C., M. & St. Paul R'y, 160 Adams St., Chicago, Ill.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

The situation is one of marked contrasts. Business is generally reported as unsatisfactory, as a glance at the bank clearings will show. Collections are slow notwithstanding the banks are complaining of an over supply of money. Many mortgages have been paid off during the last four months, more especially in the western states, while the exports of the country continue to be largely in excess of the imports, we are confronted with the apparent anomaly of gold going out instead of coming in as all the conditions would seem to require.

During the last eight days, over $1,500,000 gold has been shipped to Europe, and sterling exchanges continue to be perilously high. There seems to be little doubt that the demand for gold comes from Austria, which country has announced its intention of floating a £300,000,000 gold loan, to be used mostly for curreney purposes. The loan in this form was substantially refused by London, and the international bankers are doubtlessly now tapping all the little rivulets in order to get the required gold together, without unduly draining any partieular souree of supply. Russia, too, is quietly absorbing gold. Partly to meet the emergencies of famine, and partly as a provision in the event of a possible war. Meanwhile, the action of Congress in connection with the subject of silver legislation, is inducing many Europeans to let go of their American seeurities.

The committee on Ways and Means is proceeding cautiously in the direction of tariff reform. At present its efforts are directed toward reducing the rates on raw materials entering into processes of manufacture, sueh as wool, and so adjusting them as to bear least onerously on the lower grades. A bill has also been framed for putting gunny cloth and bagging for cotton upon the free list; also binding twine, sisal grass, etc. Immediate legislation is not to be feared, the two parties apparently being intent merely upon manuevering for position in view of the fortheoming eleetions. Meanwhile the indications are, that nothing of a sweeping character will be attempted.

Business on the Chicago Board of Trade during the past week has been mostly of an uneventful character.

On Wednesday, the directors of the Board of Trade made it known that no further trading in "puts and ealls" would be allowed inside of the building. A similar announcement was made on the open Board of Trade. Meanwhile these privileges are freely traded in on the curb.

The crop conditions are reported as being well maintained, and the export of wheat continues in satisfactory volume, though Europeans are not frantie buyers just now. As indicating the enormous movement of grains and of the lake traffic, it may be remarked that the single city of Buffalo shipped in the eight open months of last year upward of 129,000,000 bushels of grain, and including flour as grain, over 164,000,000 bushels.

The production of pig iron during the past few weeks has been largely in excess of the requirements of eonsumption. Manufacturers foreseeing a turn in the market were in too great haste to put all their furnaces in blast. As a result, eonsumers are standing aside to let stocks accumulate and so force prices their way. Struetural ironwork is similarly suffering. Manufacturers of hardware and agrieultural implements announce a plentiful supply of orders, with bright outlook.

The week on Wall street has not presented any special feature. Exports of gold tend to frighten outsiders from purehasing. Meanwhile, priees are fairly well maintained, espeeially so considering the reeent sharp advances. There is a growing impression that the Vanderbilts are acting in a way to sustain prices, and in so doing are supported by several big banking houses.

Money continues to aecumulate in the banks. Aceording to the last statement of the New York banks, there was an increase on deposits of $9,689,000, and in loans of $11,279,000. The difference indicates an improved demand for money. The total of deposits footed up to $531,261,000, and the surplus to $36,857,000. At Chicago, first class paper has been plaeed as low as 4½ per cent. Not a few of the leading houses have had the offer of cheaper money from eastern centers.

Gold bullion at the Bank of England has increased during the week £624,000 ($2,926,000); and the proportion of reserve to liability, which was last at 45.16 per cent., now stands at 44.05.

The bank elearings at Chicago for the week were as follows:

Friday	$15,792,982
Monday	Holiday.
Tuesday	19,288,082
Wednesday	17,318,283

These returns show still another advanee in the matter of bank elearings. The total gain is $370,216,000, as eompared with the eorresponding week of last year, or equal to 36.2 per eent. Of this amount, there must be credited to the Empire city no less than $312,648,000, which is equal to a gain on its separate returns of 53.3 per cent. This leaves for all outside points a gain of $57,568,000, or 13.2 per cent.

Of the fifty-seven cities available for purposes of comparison forty-one send in augmented returns, losses being limited to seventeen.

The figures from New York show a preponderance over all other points combined, and the per-centage of gain at the great city on the Atlantic over other points is equally pronounced, being 53.3 per cent to 13.2 per cent..

These contrasted figures should be broadly considered. Though there is, of course, much in the fact that New York city is the financial center and clearing-house for the whole country, this does not furnish the entire answer to a somewhat remarkable and eomplex situation.

Philadelphia is moving along the course indicated by the JOURNAL a fortnight ago. But her progress is far beyond the expectations of her best friends. Last week the JOURNAL noted as a somewhat remarkable fact that the clearings at Philadelphia were but $10,000,000 less than those at Chicago. This week, Philadelphia grasps the second place, exeeeding Boston by over $2,000,000, and Chicago by nearly $8,000,000. Philadelphia's per-centage of gain almost equals that of New York, being 47.8 per cent.

Most of the leading cities yield quite substantial gains, viz: Chicago, 13.1 per cent; St Louis, 15.4 per cent; Baltimore, 21.9 per eent; Minneapolis and St. Paul 38.7 per cent. and 33.5 per eent., respeetively; and Kansas City and Omaha, 7.4 per cent. and 48.1 per cent., respectively.

The great iron eenters Pittsburg and Cleveland gain 15.3 per cent. and 12.0 per cent., respectively. And Milwaukee, which has some large machine shops, advanees 6.3 per cent. The phenomenal advance of Philadelphia, another city largely depending upon the iron trades for its prosperity, has already been referred to. But the advanee does not appear as yet to have reached the iron and mining districts of the South.

Among leading cities, three only furnish drooping returns, the losses being 2.1 per cent at Boston; 12.6 per cent at San Francisco; and 6.5 per eent. at New Orleans. We have also a deeline at Providence of 4.7 per eent., and at Galveston of 3.7 per cent.

Canada furnishes but a moderate gain, equal to 3.2 per cent.

Continuing the analysis for the same weeks, but by groups of states, we have:

	WEEK ENDING FEB. 19, 1892.	WEEK ENDING FEB. 20, 1891.	PERCENTAGE.
New Eugl'd States.	$ 105,178,404	$106,710,683	Dec 1.4
Middle "	1,017,856,087	672,463,664	Inc 51.3
Southern "	46,853,001	45,422,615	" 3.1
Western "	40,908,108	36,618,328	" 11.7
Northwestern "	114,353,480	97,470,581	" 17.4
Southwestern "	41,706,315	37,141,908	" 12.
Far Western "	26,602,768	27,404,217	Dec 2.9
Totals,	$ 1,393,458,163	$1,023,231,996

We have here, a gain in five of the groups, including the Southern states whieh make a moderate advanee of 3 per cent. This is, however, principally due to the substantial gain at Baltimore, without which the group as a whole would have shown another falling off.

The New England states and the Far Western states decline 1.4 per cent. and 2.9 per cent., respectively. For these deelines, the cities of Boston and San Francisco are primarily responsible.

THE LOCAL STOCK MARKET.

Trading on the Local Stock Exchange during the past week has been of a conservative eharaeter, the volume of business well maintained, and priees steady. The cables have received a fair amount of attention. On Thursday North-side eable experieneed quite a lively turn under the spirited purehases of a leading broker. The industrials were maintained at a satisfactory range, with Packing and Provision and Brewing stoeks showing a disposition to climb. Early in the week, Gas Light & Coke 5s looked as if about to make a substantial advanee, in sympathy with the common stock and upon the purchase of the Economic. Some large holders of the stock, however, availed themselves of the bulge to realize on the New York market, and hence a slight reaction.

North side cable started out at the beginning of the week with 182⅛ bid for regular and advanced to 182⅞; for the account it opened at 183 and advanced to 183¼. On Thursday regular started off at 182⅞, rose to 183⅛ and relapsed to 183 on the second call. For the account it opened at 183¼ advanced to 184 and closed at 183½.

There is little to record of West side cable, beyond the fact that the price advanced upon a fair amount of trade. The range for regular during the week has been from 135⅝ to 136, at which price a block of 200 shares were disposed of.

A few shares of City Railway sold during the week at 324. Market remains extremely limited.

Street Stable Car line continues to be one of the most active stocks on the list, parcels of fifties and hundreds moving quite freely. Most of the business done has been for the account, and the tendency has, on the whole, been downward. The close, Thursday, was at 38. A decline of ⅞ for the week. This property has, however, displayed so much vitality of late, that it may be depended upon to respond promptly to any support it may receive.

Calumet and Chicago Canal and Dock is fractionally lower upon restricted trading. The sales of property for the fiscal year are given as $420,000. It is claimed that the prices realized establish the fact that official valuation appearing upon the books is 20 per cent below that of the actual market. Be that as it may, the property sold down to 79⅝, at which 200 shares—in three parcels—sold on Thursday at the first call.

Western Stone is entirely neglected.

Diamond Match has moved steadily upward, and a number of small lots have changed hands. The high price was made on Thursday, when 145 was reached, but the close was at 144½. Sales, for four days, 215 shares.

Arc Light and Power in moderate request. Range for the week, 88½ to 90. Closing price, Thursday, 89, at which figure 72 shares, in three lots, were placed.

Packing and Provision, common stock active with trading on each day. On Tuesday, 163 shares, in seven lots, sold at 55, regular. On the same day, 300 shares in four lots, sold down from 54¾ to 54½, for the account. On Thursday 120 shares, in four parcels, sold down from 54⅛ to 54, regular. This was the low mark for the week. The preferred stock sold off from 49 to 48, upon small trading.

American Strawboard was in special demand, and sold off from 90 to 89.

Brewing and Malting, common stock has moved upward. On Tuesday, 100 shares in three lots, sold up from 32⅞ to 33¼. On Thursday, the opening was at 33¼, advanced 33½, and closed at 33⅝, with 160 shares in four lots, changing hands. On the second call, for the account was firm at 33½, with 33⅝ paid for second accounts. A few preferred shares were disposed of at 42¾.

The Bond market, so far as reflected on the Local Stock Exchange is neglected. Gas Light and Coke 5s which moved up Saturday last to 90, in sympathy with the purchase of the Economic Gas system, sold off to 88¾, closing, Thursday, at 88⅝. Average daily sales, below $25,000. On Thursday, $10,000 Consumer's Gas 5s., went over at 86½. The following bonds were also marketed: $10,000 West Chicago tunnel 5s., at 95¾, and subsequently, $30,000, buyer's 30, at 96. Also, $10,000 City Railway 4½s, at 99⅛; and $25,000 North Chicago 1st Mtg 5s., at 100⅝. Also, $10,000 Central Safe Deposit 5s., at 101½.

Among the transactions of the week the following may be mentioned: New York Biscuit sold off, from 69½ to 68¼. Chicago Board of Trade 5s , at 102. West Division Ry. 6s., at 101½.

IMPORTANT RAILWAY CONNECTIONS.

THE ROCKFORD TERMINAL.

A corporation is being organized to be known as the Rockford Terminal railway company, with a capital stock of $1,500,000, to construct a belt line railway around Rockford, touching all the outlying manufacturing settlements and connecting with the Elgin, Joliet and Eastern railroad, over which right of way will be afforded to Chicago.

The new road expects to pick up Rockford bound cars at Chicago and deliver them to the door of the factory for which they are bound, and to take Chicago cars from the Rockford factories, delivering them there to the roads leading to their destinations. The scheme is based upon the fact that the factory districts of Rockford are built on the outskirts of the city, and nearly encircle it so that roads which enter the city by one line are nearly as far from the factories on the opposite side as though they were in a different city, and a great many goods have to be hauled to and from the down-town freight depots, where the volume of the business warrants a car-load method of handling. The new railway expects also to do a passenger business with Chicago.

Among those interested are Horace Alexander and Fremont White of Chicago and City Engineer Dunlap and T. H. Marsh of Rockford.—Chicago Tribune.

THE REAL ESTATE MARKET.

GOOD DEMAND FOR INVESTMENT PROPERTY—DIFFERENT PHASES OF THE MANUFACTURING TOWN QUESTION—REQUISITES OF A SUCCESSFUL REAL ESTATE AGENT.

There are many things which may be said in defense of the present real estate situation, although the market is possibly not all that brokers expected it would at this time. There is a decided demand for investment and choice residence property, while on the other hand there is almost no demand for speculative property. For strictly investment property, there is an unusually sharp demand, a demand which has absorbed almost everything offered in the line of local securities and interest bearing bonds. The agent who has on his list something that will show a fair return of income with unquestionable prospects of the continuance of this income does not, as a rule, have to look far for a customer. In fact the demand for business property which can be sold on a satisfactory income-bearing basis is far greater than the supply. There is an abundance of money seeking investment and the right kind of Chicago real estate offers an attractive field for such investment. Three important transfers which were made a part of the records last week, indicate the trend of the investment market. The transfers of 40x80 feet on Washington street from David Sears to Nettie F. McCormick for $220,000; of 50x60 feet on Dearborn street adjoining the Pontiac building from Martha A. Watriss to C C. Heisen for $125,000; and of 70x130 feet on the southeast corner of Michigan avenue and South Water street from the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Co. to Edward Uihlein for $165,000, all mark purely investment transactions. They are all transactions which foreshadow building improvements of interest to the entire city.

In addition to the demand for down town business property, there is an increasing demand for high-class residence property both north and south. There is demand for property all along the choice residence streets of the south side and along the North Shore. It is, of course, an arbitrary and scattering demand, as buyers make purchases for actual use. Persons who can pay fancy prices for ground upon which to build homes, are becoming more and more numerous here. It is not so much, perhaps that there are more rich men, but it is the fact that there are more rich young men who are ready to expend money for their own pleasure and comfort. The matter of a few hundred dollars a foot for the property upon which a residence is to be placed does not cut much figure with a man having a six figure bank account.

During the week two acre sales have been reported which may or may not have influence in future development. The more important in acreage and amount of money represented, is the purchase made by a syndicate headed by R. W. Hyman Jr., of 1240 acres on the Grand Calumet river in the East Chicago district. The property was purchased for something over a third of a million dollars and it includes 883 acres sold by Josephus Collett of Terre Haute, Ind., and 357 acres sold for the Estate of Mary T. Young. The land has a river frontage of two and one-quarter miles. The second acre transaction involves the purchase of 875 acres on the line of the Eastern Illinois railroad about thirty-five miles from Chicago. This tract of land, known as the Beecher Stock Farm, has been sold by T. L. Miller to a syndicate said to be formed of Eastern capitalists. Options have been secured on adjoining lands and the average price paid is given at $150. The land purchased includes all the unsold lots in the town site of Beecher. The purchasers of both these tracts announce their intention of locating manufactures and developing industrial towns. This announcement, however, does not attract the attention that it would have been given in 1889 or 1890. The fact has become understood that a large tract of farm land although well situated for possible development is in no sense of the word an industrial town. In many cases such tracts of land by the expenditure of large sums of money and corresponding amounts of hard work, have been turned into successful town sites. It is patent to everyone that there is a limit somewhere to the establishment of manufacturing towns. However great the demand may be from Eastern manufacturers to secure locations in and around Chicago, it will not be extensive enough to warrant the location of an unlimited number of so-called industrial towns with the customary subdivision features. There have been a number of manufacturing towns projected and carried on with a remarkable degree of success. There are others, however, which have never passed the embryotic state. It is not difficult to recall a number of large acre transactions which were announced with unusual pomp and circumstance as having been made in the interest of some manufacturing town syndicate, and of which nothing more has since been heard. There are two things necessary to the establishment of an industrial town. In the first place, a suitable tract of ground large enough to protect subdivision operations, and with some railroad or water facilities to commend it must be secured. In the second place, a syndicate having sufficient capital and influence to bring responsible manufacturers to the projected town must be found. In many instances promoters have found but little difficulty in securing the first of these two requisites. In more cases, however, they have signally failed in finding responsible buyers.

A CALL FOR RESPONSIBLE BROKERS.

The condition of the market has a tendency to improve the personnel of the brokers engaged in selling Chicago real estate. Efforts are being made constantly by real estate organizations to improve the standard of the real estate business. There is nothing, however, like a quiet market to thin out the irresponsible brokers who flocked to Chicago during the boom period of two years ago. It was not thought necessary by any of these operators that a real estate man should have any technical knowledge of the business in which he was engaged. The business of a real estate agent is practically a new calling, separate and distinct from that of a lawyer or ordinary agent. The selling and transferring of property at present has become of such magnitude equalling each day the transfer of capital in any other one line of business that it attracts the attention of substantial business men. These men fit themselves by experience and study to become experts, and consequently raise the standard of the profession to the plane it deserves. A successful broker should be thoroughly acquainted with the general laws of realty and particularly with local regulations. He should keep pace with recent legal decisions where there is a bearing upon the subject of realty and transfers, so that he may safely transact the business of his clients. He should be accurate in descriptions and avoid superfluous matter, promising to lead into legal complications. The position of a real estate broker is more delicate than that of a lawyer who can appeal to authorities regarding his case. A lawyer is not called upon to settle matters at issue between disputants. The real estate broker, however, has this task to perform. A real estate broker, too, occupies a sort of position of trust between buyer and seller, and the law to a certain extent places this construction on his position. The great number of so-called real estate men who have contributed to the rank and file of Chicago's brokers during the last two years have been men who know absolutely nothing about the principles of real estate law, justice and business equity.

AUCTION SALES OF REAL ESTATE.

At a meeting of the Real Estate Exchange held Wednesday afternoon at the new rooms in the Watson Building, 125 La Salle street, arrangements were completed for the sale of real estate at auction, beginning next week. At the meeting of the exchange next Wednesday the exclusive auction privilege for the sale of property listed at the exchange will be sold to the highest bidder. Also six auction booths will be rented to private firms for the sale of property listed with them. The auction sales will be made daily between the hours of 11 and 1 o'clock.

Property owners desiring to have their property sold at auction must list it with some member of the exchange. For every piece of property listed for sale by auction, a fee of $2 must be paid to the secretary, half of which goes to the exchange and the other half to the auctioneer. In the event of a sale being made the fee will be $3.50 to be similarly divided. In addition to this the broker must pay the exchange 5 per cent of his net commission, and this will be placed to the credit of a fund which will be established for the purpose of advertising the exchange and the properties listed. After a sale by auction the secretary will make out a certificate of sale to be signed by the auctioneer and brokers. The seller shall then have a reasonable time in which to submit his abstracts. The purchaser will then be allowed twenty days for examination and acceptance. All disputes are to be referred to the arbitration committee.

The exchange will be fitted with a number of classified blackboards on which properties will be listed a week in advance, and they will also be advertised in the daily press. So far there has been listed with the exchange, to be posted when it opens, about sixty pieces, including mortgages, and with this showing, the officers of the exchange are sanguine that their auction feature will be a success from the start.

$1,300,000 WORTH OF PROPERTY IN ESCROW. $1,000,000 OFFERED TO LOAN ON REAL ESTATE.

A good indication of the activity that may be expected in real estate transfers during the coming spring season is the fact that one prominent firm, that of E. S. Dreyer & Co., have in hand contracts for the sale of property to the amount of over $1,300,000. Transactions of this kind are usually put in escrow, so that no record of them can be obtained from the Recorder's office, but we have it from the best of authority that the figures given are correct. They indicate a very gratifying condition of the market, so far as demand is concerned, and prophesy a large volume of business in the near future. It was reported that the same firm recently refused a million dollars from Eastern clients who wanted the amount invested in mortgages and real estate, on the grounds that they had all they could judiciously handle. Money seems to be very abundant in Chicago.

REFORM IN SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS.

The special assessment plan of making street improvements in Chicago has for a long time been regarded as unsatisfactory. The first proceeding is to declare the assessment. This is in the nature of a legal process and any property owner who objects to the proposed improvement is at liberty to file his objection in open court and can usually secure a stay of the improvement. If no such stay is obtained the collection of the tax is the next step, and this is done invariably in advance of the completion of the work. Then the work is done as soon as the contractor can be persuaded to do it. And lastly, after months or perhaps years of waiting the property owner is informed through the columns of the REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING JOURNAL that a rebate is due him, which he can obtain by a visit to the office of the Special Assessment Department.

The result of this method is, first delay and second dissatisfaction. The work is delayed to begin with and the payment of the rebate is delayed long after the work is completed. The contractor is dissatisfied because collections of special assessments made in this way are slow and he receives his payment for the work as the money is paid in. The property owner, also, is dissatisfied, because he must pay a larger sum for the improvement than it actually costs and must wait for months or years for his rebate.

Men who have had occasion to give the matter a good deal of thought are just now considering the methods employed in some other cities, with a view to adopting some improvement here. The Canadian method has been under consideration, and at the present time a representative of the city is in Canada investigating the working of the system there. The general outline of the Canadian plan is as follows:

When it is decided to make a street improvement at the expense of the adjoining property the work is begun at once and completed as soon as possible, and simultaneously bonds are issued running for twenty years and covering the cost of the improvement. The contractors are paid out of the proceeds of these bonds as soon as the work is completed, and the cost being then definitely known is assessed against the property benefited. Any property holder who may be unable or unwilling to pay the entire amount of his assessment at once can pay in yearly installments extending over a period of ten or twenty years.

The advantages claimed for this method by its advocates, and noticeably by the contractors themselves is that it expedites matters and suits all parties concerned. The property owner is not called upon to pay for the improvement until that improvement is made. When the assessment is charged it is definite and there is no further need for work in computing and paying rebates. The contractor receives payment for his work at once and consequently the city is benefited by securing the work at the lowest cash figure and in the shortest possible time. Improvements are possible in localities which could not afford them if immediate cash payments were required, but which find it comparatively easy to meet the small yearly installments provided for by the twenty year bonds.

The principal objection to the present method of levying special assessments is that it invites litigation. The very first move on the part of the city is the institution of a suit to which every property owner is made a defendant and is thus invited to a a legal contest. What is needed is a method whereby the onus of legal proceedings is thrown on the property owner and not on the city. This would expedite improvements and would make possible many improvements which are now kept back by the opposition of interested parties; for it is a principle of human nature that a man who will not readily commence a suit is always ready to defend one.

A COMMUNICATION.

Chicago, Feb. 22, 1892.

Editor REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING JOURNAL:

I have read your recent article about National Banking and Loan Societies, and, also the reply to your criticism of them written by Mr. W. P. Chamberlain, who, I understand, is treasurer of the North and South National, and I have kept silent, thinking that some one else would take up the discussion in favor of local associations. I am surprised that there is not more interest manifested on the subject by the local associations, which certainly come in direct competition with the nationals, but inasmuch as no one else has seen fit to reply to the national side of the argument, I will, with your permission advance a few ideas on the subject.

I have heard officers of national associations boasting about the immense business they are doing and how they go into every state in the Union, but I can not understand that. As I understand it the law in each state is different and provides only for local business. I do not believe it was intended by the legislature of Illinois that associations in this state should loan money outside of the state, and if I were an officer of an Illinois association doing business in that way I would be afraid our charter would be declared invalid for that very reason.

Another thing, the Illinois law says that only the secretary shall receive a salary. It is a wonder to me how they get around that. They must pay their officers salaries, of course, because the business requires their entire time, but it looks as though they were violating the law in so-doing. The law also says they must offer the money for loan to the highest bidder in open meeting. Will some officer of a national tell me how they comply with this?

The expenses of national associations are something enormous, judging from their own statements. In an association paying 75 cents a month dues, 10 cents goes into the expense fund. Very few of these associations have less than 5,000 shares. This means from $500 a month up for expenses and does not include membership fees, which are $1 a share and go to pay agents' commissions Now in a local association of the same size the expenses are not one-quarter as much and furthermore they are met of the membership fees almost entirely. In fact, in a well managed local association the membership fees of only 25 cents a share will pay all the expenses. Contrast this with the expenses of the nationals.

There are other criticisms I might make, but I fear this letter is already too long. I do not wish to be understood as endeavoring to injure the business of the nationals. But it does seem to me that there are some things about them that are open to serious criticism.

Yours for the best interests of the building and loan cause in general, LOCAL SECRETARY.

ERRATA.

The following errors appear in the printed editions and type written copies of the paper on "Alien Land Ownership:"

In the eleventh line of the first paragraph the adverb then should be inserted between will and have, thus: "will then have a market on which to offer their holdings."

In the twelfth line of the second paragraph as printed in this JOURNAL February 20, a semicolon should precede the word nor.

In the eleventh line of the third paragraph the word adopted should be "inaugurated," and in the fifth line from the bottom of the fourth paragraph the word suit should be "brief," thus: in his brief in a case now before the Supreme Court of Illinois.

In the eighth paragraph in the tenth line the word according should read "accorded," and further on the word vivid should be vividly.

The present tense is used in referring to the bill passed by the Illinois Legislature, thus: Mr. Decker says. It should read, Mr. Decker said etc. Other errors have crept in almost all newspaper reports and less than one-half of the paper as delivered has yet been published.

In printing the copies ordered by the convention the secretary will submit proof to the author before the address is bound and issued.

NATIONAL REAL ESTATE CONGRESS.

PROCEEDINGS OF THREE DAYS' SESSION AT NASHVILLE.

The three days' sessions of the National Real Estate Congress at Nashville, Tenn., were occupied by the following order of business as condensed from the report in the Nashville papers of Thursday and Friday, omitting the speeches:

From the Atlantic, whose restless waves kiss the rising sun, to the distant Pacific, whose murmuring waters blue chant the evening requiem; from the frozen lakes of the North and the orange groves of the South, the real estate men of America went many miles to see the greatness of Nashville and to organize themselves into a national congress.

All Tuesday night and Wednesday morning the delegates to the National Real Estate Congress poured in on every incoming train. By 10 o'clock the State Capitol had put on signs of welcome and hospitality, and in a few minutes more the structure was alive with delegates. The big hall of the House of Representatives, decorated with festoons of bunting which gracefully swung in heavy folds about the hall, lent a charm to the scene, and it looked as if the old crowd of law makers were returning for work.

At 10.35 President M. B. Pilcher called the congress to order. A committee of three, Hon J. H. Acklen, T. T. Wright and J. H. Yarbrough, were appointed to escort Gov. Buchanan to the stand. The chief executive was introduced by President Pilcher. The Governor's welcome followed.

The Governor was followed by the Mayor of the city, who extended the hospitality of the city to the delegates to the congress.

Geo. H. Armistead, Secretary of the Commercial Club, followed in an address of half an hour, which claimed the closest attention and admiration of the gathering by virtue of its forcible composition and the oratorical delivery of the well-rounded phrases. He was frequently interrupted by spontaneous applause, and at the conclusion of the session the accomplished young orator was surrounded by his enthusiastic auditors and warmly congratulated and thanked for the splendid exposition of the meaning and intent of the congress he had made. His eloquent address will be published in full in next weeks' issue.

Hon. J. C. Bartholf, of Milwaukee, responding to the addresses of welcome, spoke most earnestly and happily.

After this President Pilcher again took the stand. Mr. Morgan, of Milwaukee, moved that three committees be appointed, on organization, credentials and on constitution and by-laws, each to be composed of five delegates. The motion was carried and the following appointments were announced:

Credentials — W. L. Hayworth, Louisville; Wm. Moore, Kansas City; A. P. White, Knoxville; Sanford Duncan, Nashville; Wm. Hodge, Buffalo.

Organization—E. S. Dreyer, Chicago; E. C. Holliday, Duluth; Garnet Andrews, Chattanooga; H. C. Cushing, Toledo; O. W. Crawford, Texas.

Constitution and By-Laws—Wm. Cutler, Buffalo; S. W. Goode, Atlanta; W. J. Morgan, Milwaukee; R. F. Oneal, Nashville; S. Delamater, Chicago. The three committees were given time to report at the next session.

Invitations were extended the delegates to visit Chattanooga, Atlanta, Marietta, Tampa and Huntsville. Secretary Kline then read the following letter from General Passenger Agent W. L. Danley, of the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis: "In addition to the special train which has been tendered the members of the National Real Estate Congress by the management of the road for a trip to Belle Meade, to add still further to their pleasure and present an opportunity for visiting members from the North and West to see more of the Southland, the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis Railway will place on sale Friday and Saturday at the ticket offices special excursion tickets to Lookout Mountain, Chattanooga, Huntsville, Maricta, Atlanta and to all points in Florida. These tickets were good to return to Nashville in 30 days. In order to effect this, arrangements were made to have certificates of parties who take side trips from Nashville honored here within 30 days, provided they deposited their certificates with the ticket agent. On return to Nashville these tickets to initial starting point were given at one-third fare."

T. H. Vance, of Louisville, moved that a Committee on Resolutions be appointed at the night session. Carried.

The Congress returned thanks to Gen. W. H. Jackson for the invitation to Belle Meade and to the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis for the special train. Adjournment was then taken until the night session.

BELLE MEADE.

Six coaches, all filled, pulled out of the Chattanooga depot at 2:30 o'clock and after a delightful spin of 15 minutes through the balmy air of the suburbs, the cargo was deposited at Belle Meade. Gen. Jackson was awaiting the visitors at the approach to the mansion and, having been introduced by Capt. M. B. Pilcher, delivered an address of welcome. He eulogized the splendid resources of Tennessee and gave his auditors a correct idea of their variety and extent. He then personally conducted the party to the points of interest on the estate. The deer park was a revelation to most of the visitors, and they manifested much keen enjoyment of the drive which had been arranged. The famous stallions, Iroquois, Luke Blackburn, Tremont, Inspector B. and Imp. Loyalist were exhibited and were the subjects of general encomium. The dairy was the object of interested examination, and the "plantation negroes" were the source of amusement and entertaining observation by many of the visitors, to whom the Southern negro was a personage little known. A kodak was on hand and reproduced many of the more novel scenes about the party.

Every one spoke in the highest terms of the courteous manner of Gen. Jackson and evinced admiration of the magnificent domain of Belle Meade. At five o'clock the party returned to the city, after an afternoon of unmarred pleasure.

NIGHT SESSION.

At 8 o'clock President Pilcher called the congress to order and submitted a committee on resolutions: T. C. H. Vance, Louisville, chairman; J. W. Toohey, Milwaukee; H. E. Reed, Evansville; W. B. Ragsdale, Knoxville; J. F. McCasland, East St. Louis. The committee was appointed.

At this juncture Secretary Kline read the following telegram from Georgia: "Georgia and Atlanta, the empire State and city of the South, send greeting. Our people join in asking that you hold the next session in Atlanta. W. J. Northern, Governor; W. A. Hemphill, Mayor."

W. L. Haworth, Chairman of the Committee on Credentials, read the following report:

"Resolved, That every person present representing real estate interests be admitted as a delegate with one vote into the deliberations of this congress. It is the sense of this committee that a roll-call be made by States and each delegate will signify the same by answering, and the chairman of each State delegation be requested to furnish the chairman with a full list of names in writing."

President Pilcher then read an invitation from Harriman asking that the delegates visit the "baby city of Tennessee." A communication offering reduced rates to Knoxville, was also read.

E. S. Dreyer, Chairman of the Committee on Organization, asked time until Friday to make a report. Then began a regular howl pro and con. Frazier, of Louisville, wanted the report sooner. Pollock, of Milwaukee, seconded. Hendricks, of Atlanta, objected. Pollock appealed from the decision of the chair granting the committee further time. Vance, of Louisville, seconded the appeal. "State your grounds for appeal," shouted Mr. Hill, who had taken President Pilcher's seat for the moment. Vance, of Louisville, rose to a point of order, when Hill allowed a division on the vote.

Hon. John Laughlin, of Buffalo, made a splendid speech here, advising that the Organization Committee be granted further time and that permanent officers be elected Friday, and that the temporary officers be retained until then. This was seconded and carried.

President Pilcher then took the stand, thanking the convention for the honor. The motion for the report of the Organization Committee was brought up again, when Pollock withdrew his appeal from the decision of Hill. B. M. Neil, of Milwaukee, asked for the report of the Committee on Constitution and By-Laws. Chairman Cutler, of Buffalo, then read the constitution and by-laws adopted by the committee.

After the reading of the constitution and by-laws a general discussion ensued as to its adoption. For a moment the delegates seemed to forget themselves and pandemonium almost followed. But only for a moment. Then came discussion and finally a motion prevailed to have the constitution re-read section by section and adopt or reject as the convention saw fit. This was done and after a few amendments were made to the general body of the article the convention adjourned to meet at 9 o'clock Thursday morning.

THE OFFICERS.

The report of the Committee on Nominations being ready and the proposed roster to be elected was: B. M. Weil, Milwaukee, President; M. M. Kline, Nashville, Secretary; George Bailey, Buffalo, Treasurer. The previous day there was an apparent uneasiness manifest in both the Milwaukee and Buffalo delegations.

Finally an agreement was made and it was definitely understood that Buffalo would be the place of the next meeting, while Milwaukee was satisfied with the presidency. Tickets were handed about Wednesday night on which was printed "For President, B. M. Weil, of Milwaukee."

Following were the States represented: Alabama, Arkansas, New York, Tennessee, Wisconsin, Texas, Ohio, Kentucky, Illinois, Missouri, Minnesota, Kansas, Indiana, Iowa, Mississippi, Florida, Georgia and Maryland. The following cities in Tennessee were represented: Nashville, Memphis, Knoxville, Chattanooga, Harriman, McMinnville, Iron City, Johnson City, Tullahoma, Jackson, Lawrenceburg, Bristol and others.

The other cities outside of Tennessee were: Buffalo, Milwaukee, Louisville, Atlanta, St. Louis, East St. Louis, Chicago, Duluth, Huntsville, Florence, Birmingham, Evansville, Toledo, Cincinnati, Kansas City, Little Rock, Niagara Falls, Tonawanda, Velasco, Des Moines, Baltimore, Tampa, Jacksonville, and many others.

The important points adopted in the constitution and by-laws are that the congress is to be called the National Real Estate Association, holding its annual meeting in October of each year. The officers shall be a President, Vice-President for each State in the Union, Secretary, Treasurer, and a Board of Control of nine members. The dues are $3 per year, and seven standing committees are provided for. Any one representing real estate interests in the United States and recommended by three members in full standing can become a member of the association.

The constitution after providing for the regular number of officers and defining the duties of each also provides that the congress shall meet every year at a place designated by a committee of nine.

PROGRAMME FOR THURSDAY.

A striking feature of the congress was the reception at the Capitol. Hundreds of invitations were issued and an opportunity was offered the community to meet the distinguished guests of the city. The presence of several hundred Nashville matrons and maids added to the attractiveness of the occasion. Quite a number of ladies accompanied the delegates. Light refreshments were served.

The morning session opened at 9 o'clock. The programme was as follows:

"The Moral Effect of Safe Investments," Dr. D. C. Kelly, Nashville, and John Sheridan Meninger, Brooklyn.

"Homes for the Working People; How May They Best Be Procured," Hon. Edw. Atkinson, Boston.

CLOSING SESSION. FRIDAY.

President Pilcher rapped for order at 10:45 a. m,

The following resolution was introduced and passed by the association:

Resolved, that The National Real Estate Association has heard with pleasure and profit the address delivered on the second day of its session by Mr. R. C. Smyers of Chicago, on the laws of the several States and of the United States as to Alien Ownership of Lands, and that the thanks of this association be hereby tendered him for the same, and that the following committee be appointed to watch legislation by Congress on the subject: J. W. Scales, of Clarksville, Tenn; R C Smyers of Chicago, and E C. Holliday, of Duluth, Minn.

Mr. S. W. Goode, of Atlanta, offered the following which was adopted:

"Resolved that it is the sense of this convention to return thanks to the press of Nashville, the Herald, American and Banner, for the magnificent way in which they have written up the details of the National Real Estate Congress from the date of its announcement up to the present, and to Mr. Frank Chambers for untiring energy and zeal in pushing forward the Congress in the press of the country."

Mr. G. B. Seaman, of Milwaukee, offered resolutions acknowledging that the National Real Estate Association had been first suggested by Col. T. T. Wright, of Nashville, and electing him an honorary member. Adopted.

Col. Wright was sent for, and when he appeared in the hall he returned his hearty thanks for the honor conferred on him and wished the Association the greatest success.

T. H. C. Vance of Louisville, Chairman of the Committee on Resolutions, made the following report which was adopted:

"WHEREAS, This organization views with pleasure the work of agitation of the subject of improvement in the public highways of the country, conducted by the League of American Wheelmen; and

"WHEREAS, Owners of real property throughout the country have a most active interest in the improvement of streets and highways; therefore be it

"Resolved, That the President of the National Real Estate Association appoint, as soon as possible after adjournment, a special committee consisting of one member from each State and territory, so far as may be possible, which committee shall co-operate with the Bureau of Roads Improvement of the League of American Wheelmen in its effort to accomplish needed reforms in the system of constructing and caring for the public highways of the country."

"Resolved, That the first congress of the National Real Estate Association hereby tenders its sincere thanks for and high appreciation of the cordial reception, kind consideration and liberal hospitality which it has received at the hands of the citizens of Nashville. Especially do we desire to express our appreciation for the magnificent management and untiring zeal which has been displayed by the Nashville Executive Committee in bringing to a successful consummation the first National Real Estate Congress of the United States.

Resolved, That the thanks of this congress are due and hereby extended to Gen. W. H. Jackson for his courteous and hospitable entertainment of the delegates at Belle Meade farm, and to the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis Railroad for the special train which conveyed the visitors to the farm.

The following was referred to the standing committee on legislation:

"WHEREAS, The conveyancing of real estate is the machinery of our business; and

"WHEREAS, The laws of separate States, by their radical and conflicting differences, are an ever present menace to the investor in another State; and

"WHEREAS, All bad titles can be traced to imperfect conveyancing, due in a majority of instances to ignorance of the laws of conveyancing in the State in which the property is located; therefore be it

"Resolved, That it is the unanimous voice of this convention that the same laws should be adopted by every State in the Union and by the government of the United States for the transaction of business."

On motion of Mr. J. C. Hendricks, of Atlanta, the following was adopted:

"Resolved, That this association appreciate and return thanks to the ladies of Nashville for the elegant reception tendered them last evening, and for the special courtesies they have been pleased to extend.

Hon. J. W. Scales, of Tennessee, moved that Mr. R. C. Smyers, of Chicago, be thanked for his splendid paper on "Alien Land Ownership," and that the uniformity of laws advised by said paper be recommended by this congress. Carried.

It was decided that no member should be retained on the roll who should not pay their dues in 30 days.

It was decided that the Secretary should send six copies of the proceedings to each member, if the edition of 6,000 copies would be sufficient.

A rather heated discussion was started in regard to an official organ of the association. President Weil said that the Board of Control had not intended that the Milwaukee Realty and Building News should be the official organ of the association, but that it be made the medium of communications from the President.

Mr. Smyers, editor of the CHICAGO REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING JOURNAL, opposed having any official organ and said an official organ would injure the association. He offered a motion that all well established real estate journals in the country be recognized as official organs, placing all on an equality. Carried.

Mr. Crawford, of Texas, introduced a resolution advising the appropriation of money by the association in order that the real estate men of America be represented at the World's Fair at Chicago. Adopted.

President-elect Weil offered a resolution returning thanks to the State for the use of the Capitol, to the Governor, Mayor, the presiding officers of this congress, Capt. M. B. Pilcher, and the Nashville Commercial Club. Adopted by a rising vote.

A Chicago delegate suggested that the convention to be held in Buffalo in October be fixed so as not to conflict with the fourth-centennial observances at Chicago and New York, October 12. It was decided that the Board of Control should fix the time with this in view. The Board of Control, after retirement, reported in favor of Tuesday, October 4, as the time, which report was adopted.

On motion of O. W. Crawford, of Texas, the President was authorized to appoint a committee to confer with the managers of the World's Fair in regard to providing for real estate men. The President appointed O. W. Crawford, Velasco, Texas; T. C. Vierling, Chicago; John Means Thompson, Nashville, and F. T. Story, Milwaukee.

Mr. R. C. Smyers, of Chicago, made a motion that Geo. H. Armistead, of the Nashville Commercial Club, be invited to make addresses in ten or more of the principal cities, under the auspices of the local real estate boards. Mr. Smyers paid a very high compliment to Mr. Armistead's enthusiasm, practical executive ability, and oratorical gifts. S. W. Goode, of Atlanta, and others, spoke in favor of the motion, and it was referred to the Board of Control.

The Chairman of the Board of Control, after an interval, reported that all local boards that desired Mr. Armistead to address them should communicate with the board, and that Mr. Armistead would be ready to respond to calls within 30 days.

On motion of J. C. Bartholf, the President was authorized to appoint a committee suggesting uniformity in the working of local real estate boards. President Pilcher appointed C. S. Caldwell, Nashville, H. Delamater, Chicago, and J. C. Bartholf, Milwaukee.

Mr. Bartholf spoke in favor of erecting a building to cost about $150,000 for real estate men at the World's Fair, where maps and other information regarding the co-operative cities would be displayed.

All business being completed, the convention adjourned to meet in Buffalo, October 4, 1892. Three cheers were given for Nashville and three for the presiding officers.

At 2 o'clock in the afternoon the delegates and ladies accompanying them, visited Fisk University.

The ladies accompanying the Milwaukee delegation to the National Real Estate Congress expressed their sincere appreciation of the special courtesies and hospitalities extended to them by the ladies and gentlemen of Nashville during their visit to the city.

To Restrict Alien Land Ownership.

The members of the National Real Estate Association, and the various real estate boards throughout the United States, will be interested in the bill introduced by Congressman W. C. Oates, of Alabama. A copy of the bill was sent for by the editor, for the purpose of introducing it in the debate which followed the paper on Alien Land Ownership in the meeting at Nashville. It arrived too late to receive attention, and is here published in full. It is as follows:

52nd CONGRESS 1ST SESSION. H. R. 5147.

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

FEBRUARY 1, 1892.

Read twice, referred to the Committee on the Judiciary, and ordered to be printed.

Mr. Oates, of Alabama, introduced the following bill.

ALIEN LAND OWNERSHIP A FACTOR IN POLITICS.

The recent convention of the "so-called" third party at St. Louis adopted a resolution demanding that alien ownership of lands should be prohibited. This was in line with other resolutions calling for the reclaiming of railroad bonds, also that no land should be held for speculative purposes but for actual settlers only.

In the Iowa lower house last week further consideration was given to the alien land law of the state, and a bill was passed permitting alien corporations to own land to the amount of 160 acres for manufacturing purposes.

A case involving alien land ownership is now pending in the Supreme Court of South Dakota. The question raised is whether the sale of a mining claim by a citizen to an alien works an abandonment of the claim or not. Millions of dollars have been paid by aliens for mining claims in Dakota and this is a test case as to whether such purchases are valid or not.

Col. Samuel T. Busey, from the Fifteenth District of Illinois, has introducsd, in the house of congress a bill which provides for the giving of lands in trust to the respective states and territories to be leased to actual citizens, subject to revaluation every ten years. The lands are never to be sold, but will remain forever in the hands of the states and the rentals will go into the public treasury. Col. Busey thinks the bill will pass the house.

SOME FACTS ABOUT USURY LEGISLATION.

The utter folly of attempting to regulate the money market by the passage of usury laws, is well illustrated by the measures now pending in the state legislatures of New York and Kentucky In both of these states, bills have been introduced, proposing to make the legal rate of interest five instead of six per cent. The idea seems to be that the borrower will be benefitted, whereas the fact is that the borrower will be the principal sufferer from such legislation.

Usury laws have been valuable in regulating the rate of interest to be charged in new states, where the conditions are such that unscrupulous men can take advantage of the ignorance and necessity of a rural population to extort an exorbitant rate of interest. In such cases the money of the community is concentrated in the hands of a few brokers, most of them acting merely as agents for eastern capitalists, and these money handlers have things pretty much their own way. Under such circumstances, a reasonable usury law is no doubt beneficial to all concerned. It not only protects the borrower, but also, indirectly, the lender, by reducing the number of foreclosures.

But the settlement of a new country brings a change in the conditions of the money market. Not only does capital become confident and plentiful, but money is more widely diffused, so that any attempt to corner it must necessarily result only in failure. Business settles down into natural and healthful channels, and the rate of interest regulates itself according to the laws of supply and demand, without the need of any intervention of laws against usury.

Such is now the condition of the money market in the states of New York and Kentucky. The absurdity of attempting to regulate the rate of interest in those states, is seen from the fact that in New York while the legal rate has been six per cent money has been offered repeatedly at 3½ to 5 per cent on approved security. Where the security is good, the rate is much lower than the legal rate; where the security is not good, as in the case of chattels, the law is evaded, and the rate is raised to a point limited only by the demand. In Illinois, the legal rate is eight per cent, but money is loaned on real estate at five and six per cent, and on chattels as high as 5 per cent a month. Thus the law is clearly inoperative.

In Kentucky, the opposition to the proposed Basham interest and usury bill has been so pronounced, that the general statistics committee of the Kentucky legislature has reported in disfavor of it. The objection urged is, that the proposed law would operate to diminish the supply of money in the loan market in three ways: 1st. By keeping out foreign money that would otherwise have been sent into the state to be loaned. 2nd By driving home money out of the state to some other place where there is less interference by legislation. 3d. By driving both home and foreign money out of the loan market into other kinds of investment.

In New York the opposition to the new measure is pronounced, and at a special meeting of the New York Board of Trade and Transportation, the following resolution was adopted:

WHEREAS, an effort is being made to reduce the legal rate of interest in the State of New York to five per cent per annum, therefore,

Resolved, that the passage of a law making five per cent per annum the legal rate of interest in New York State will not benefit any class of our citizens, but will injuriously affect all classes, and be most disastrous to those who are obliged to seek loans; and the New York Board of Trade most earnestly but respectfully protests against the passage of such a law for the following reasons, viz.

The character and quality of an article, together with the demand for it, regulate the price for which it is sold, and in like manner the character and quality of any security regulate the rate at which loans thereto are sold.

Unquestioned security to-day readily commands loans ranging from 3½ to 5 per cent per annum in this state, while poorer securities must pay higher rates, competition among lenders reducing the rates as low as is consistent with the nature of the security.

A law fixing the legal rate of interest at 5 per cent could not compel the loaning of money at that rate, but would make it impossible to effect a loan where the risk was worth more than the legal interest limit. Capital seeking investment involving no more than the legal rate, can procure 7 and 8 per cent elsewhere, and in some states as high as 10 per cent, and would not, therefore, accept 5 per cent here for like risk. Existing loans worth 6 per cent would be called in at maturity, and could not be replaced at the proposed legal rate. Thus would follow innumerable foreclosures and general distress among all classes in the state, especially among owners of mortgaged farm lands.

The present system on consignment of goods, which enables many manufacturers of limited means to carry on extensive business operations, would be seriously disarranged. The lower rate would not be in proportion to the risk involved. The loans made thereafter would be a much smaller proportion of the value of the goods than at present, and manufacturing operations conducted under this system would be necessarily curtailed.

The greatest needs of the south and west to-day as, shown in the arguments on Alien Land Laws at Nashville, are: Abundance of capital, low interest rates, and facility in the transfer of property. The tax on mortgages proposes none of these things. The banks and money lenders will simply exercise their prerogative rights either by exacting higher rates, or by seeking investment elsewhere. In an article on the subject, the American Banker has the following:

"No system for equalizing the burden of taxation has ever been proposed or tried, which found unanimous favor among the people. The law-making power recognizes the principle that every citizen will reduce to a minimum, and escape if possible, his obligations to the state. The universal recognition of this fact has called into being a number of systems of taxation which are supposed to leave no loophole for escape; so that though the intending tax dodger be as wise as a serpent, his subtlety avails him not at all. Of all projects of this character, that of laying a tax upon credits is at once the most alluring and the most deceptive. There is a large body of testimony in existence, and a weight of unquestioned authority, which shows that a tax upon mortgages does not accomplish its purpose, that is, it does not yield a tax from the creditor. But this evidence of authority and experience has not been sufficient to weaken the hold which the mortgage tax has on the imagination of a large number of influential and perhaps well-meaning citizens.

"The legislature in Michigan enacted such a law. It went into effect July, 1891. The new constitution of Kentucky, which is now under the fire of committee criticism, embodies a measure of similar import. It is possible that some legislation in that direction will be considered in Iowa, and the bankers of every state in the Union are interested in knowing how firmly this mortgage tax is fixed in the affection of the people, especially in the states where the farmers have become aggressive. The mortgage tax does not present the same features in the states mentioned. In Michigan it is modified by a clause which allows the parties to write off their liabilities, and confine the tax levy to the unincumbered portion of the property. The law has not been in operation more than half a year, yet some of its effects have become known. A person who wishes to escape taxation on his real estate, for example, need only execute a fictitious mortgage to the amount liable for taxation and he is exempt. A bank loaning money upon real estate securities increases the rate to the borrower to such an amount as will cover its liabilities to the tax department. It is true that the abounding astuteness of the Michigan legislature adopted a usury clause in order to reduce any possible exaction on the part of the creditors; but if this usury restriction is not entirely ignored, its more disastrous effect is to drive loanable capital from the state, and confine borrowing upon bond and mortgage to distressing limits. Its immediate effect is to reduce the rate of interest to savings bank depositors. Is there a possibility of escape by the bank? The funds which banking institutions use in making loans are not their own property. The bank is a debtor to the extent of every cent which it has invested in mortgages. It should, therefore, be exempt from this tax, or so it would appear upon a reasonable examination of the case. If escape is possible by this means, or that of laying an increased burden upon the borrower, and if the borrower, as we have shown, may find an easy method of dodging the tax, the attempt to collect revenue from this source is crushed ignominously between the upper and nether mill stone of public opposition.

The mortgage tax, as devised by the revisers of the constitution of Kentucky, is remarkable for the absence of any modifying feature like that of permitting debts to be written off against credits. The tax will be drawn both from the mortgage and the security which has created it. It is quite natural that the protests against the ratification of such a measure should be wide and deep among the prominent and experienced business men of that state; yet this law will fail; fail utterly to accomplish the fond dream of its projectors. It will discourage banking, and diminish investment in Kentucky property. It will hinder and obstruct those very agencies which operate most powerfully in the development of the community.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Nothing that has occurred during the last twelve months has so shaken the confidence of the general public in the sincerity of new corporations as the recent sale of the Economic Gas Company. Prominent stockholders in that company have for months protested that they were not organized for the purpose of selling out. They have denied and re-denied every insinuation to this effect. Even within a few days they have gone so far as to make large purchases of land, ostensibly for the purpose of locating new works, but really, as the public now believe, to add the finishing stroke to a gigantic game of bluff. In the light of the recent sale of the Economic to the Gas Trust, every previous movement of the former will be construed by the public, whether rightly or wrongly, as merely a succeseful blackmailing scheme on a large scale. Whether such a conclusion is justified from the facts, we do not attempt to say. It is evident however, that this conclusion has already been arrived at in the minds of many readers. This feeling resolves itself into the general belief that all corporations seeking new franchises from the city, are merely endeavoring to make money out of the franchises; that these valuable rights, which the people have heretofore given away so lavishly, have become the objects of barter and sale to make shrewd speculators rich. Is it any wonder then that there is a growing sentiment in favor of the municipal ownership of gas works? This last farce of the new company selling out to the old octopus, will have more weight than high gas bills in favor of a speedy establishment of a municipal gas plant.

In this connection, the street railways also come in for consideration. The two schemes most prominently before the public, are the Lake Street "L" and the Torrence System. A deal is now on foot to dispose of the Lake street line and right of way. The present owners of the line expect to make a comfortable fortune in the sale, because their franchise is valuable. The plant itself has depreciated, but the intangible rights with which the company is invested, are becoming more valuable every day. It is these rights, not the few miles of clumsy iron structure which for nearly two years has blocked and darkened Lake street, that the gentlemen of the company are now offering for sale. It is to be hoped that they will not be disappointed. But the impression still grows in the public mind that a franchise is a good thing to speculate on.

The Torrence system is claiming a good deal of attention. It looks like a good thing. But thoughtful people are beginning to look very closely at such new enterprises. Is there an African in the back yard? Is the Torrence scheme merely a variation of the old song—get from the city and property owners valuable concessions and then sell them at a handsome profit? If it is, the public ought to know it. We do not wish to cast discredit on any worthy enterprise. But the experience of the past with monopolistic corporations, organized on the stand-and-deliver plan has been so bitter, that the public has apparently lost all faith in new schemes which depend on public franchises for their success.

The visit of the congressional delegation to Chicago cannot fail to be of great practical benefit both to the congressmen and to the city. Many of the visitors had never seen Chicago, nor in fact any portion of the west. To them the experience was a novel one, and will certainly result in a healthful and generous enlargement of ideas. Their tour of inspection of the World's Fair buildings was a genuine surprise. It impressed them as never before with the magnitude of the undertaking and the wonderful energy and enterprise of Chicago as shown by the work already so nearly completed. That the Fair will profit by this experience goes without saying. Hard must be the heart and stubborn the will of the congressman whom a visit to the World's Fair grounds does not inspire with a disposition to favor a liberal appropriation.

But the action of the citizens' committee in inviting the Congressional party to Chicago, was wise in more ways than one. Chicago has other interests than the World's Fair. The Fair is merely an incident as compared with the substantial and lasting business interests of the city. Various improvements of a national character are needed here. A new post office and custom house building is a necessity. Certain public works of magnitude are in great demand. An outer harbor should be constructed. Rivers like the Calumet should be dredged and opened to navigation. Measures of this character will be introduced into the lower house before long, if our representatives do their duty.

From this view then, it will be seen that the visit of the congressmen was not ill timed. It is eminently proper that the men who make the laws of the nation should become familiar with its most central city, whose population equals if not exceeds one-fiftieth of all the states combined. Congress can not well undertake to provide for the wants of such a city, unless acquainted with it.

The recent National Congress of real estate men at Nashville, Tennessee, was one of the most notable gatherings of business men ever held in this country. The tendency of real estate interests is to remain local. This congress has made them national. In fact, by its action on alien land ownership, it has practically made real estate interests international. The prevailing idea at the congress seems to have been, that the real estate business should be dignified by a strong national organization, and this the congress practically effected. In the space of a few days or weeks at most, the idea was formulated; the call for a convention was made, the convention held, and the National Real Estate Association was made an accomplished fact. It would be hard to name an instance in which such a representative body of men from all sections of the country have met and organized in so short a time, on so large a scale, and with such remarkable unanimity, as did the real estate men at Nashville.

We believe that this is the beginning of national real estate business. Henceforth the interests of the entire country will be linked together by this organization. Six hundred delegates were present at Nashville. The number will be much larger next fall at Buffalo, and the movement which has now been fairly set on foot will assume bigger and bigger proportions as it grows older.

The bill introduced in Congress by Col. Samuel T. Busey, of Illinois, which provides for giving the public lands in trust to the respective states and territories, to be leased to actual citizens, subject to revaluation every ten years, is the nearest approach to the single tax idea that has ever been reached in this country. The bill provides that the lands never shall be sold, but shall remain forever in the hands of the states and territories. The rentals shall go into the public treasury to provide for expenses and guard against state debts. Col. Busey in speaking about his bill, said:

"I believe the bill will pass the house. I know that it will pass the committee. Unless the lands are given to the states subject to these conditions, they will be sold off as the Illinois lands were sold. Agents were appointed to sell them, and to save trouble they put them up at auction and they were bid off at ridiculously low figures. The leasing is the best plan, and by it no one will be wronged. On the contrary, the people of the state in which the land lies will be greatly benefitted. And, too, the people of the country will be benefitted, because the general government will not be taxed to pay the expenses of these land officers, who are now a constant source of expense and worry.

FAVORS FREE COINAGE OF SILVER.

Extract from the majority report by the committee on Coinage Weights and Measures.

"The familiar warning that free coinage would cause ship loads of silver from other countries to be brought here and dumped at our mints in exchange for our gold, is still urged. How can this be under the proposed law? The ship load of silver brought to our mints by the foreigner would be coined into standard dollars, and these dollars returned to him, but he could not go to the Treasury and demand gold for them nor can he compel one of our citizens to swap him a gold dollar for a silver dollar. If the American citizen gives him a gold dollar for a silver dollar, that is a voluntary trade that no law ought to interfere with. Should the foreigner take coin notes for his bullion instead of coin the same thing happens. He can take his coin note to the Treasury and demand redemption, but the note is redeemable in coin, and the Secretary of the Treasury could hand him back the coin struck from his shipload of bullion. The foreigner then would ascertain that he had committed the blunder of bringing silver to our mints, where it is worth three cents on the dollar less than it was at home, and that he looses his three cents and cost of transportation besides. What then, will he do with his money? He must either invest in property here or go home with it. He could not buy gold with it or gold exchange, unless gold and silver were at par. In this case then there could be no reason for preferring the one metal to the other. If gold went to a premium, he would have to pay the premium on his exchange, thus entailing on him additional loss in sending shiploads of silver. If he invests his shipload of silver money in our property and business enterprises, it would at once stimulate industries, awaken enterprises, and give us a healthy business and sound currency? What more could be desired?

"The following from the report of the Secretary of the Treasury, Mr. Windom, for the year 1889, is submitted as pertinent to this discussion:

"There is, in fact, no known accumulation of silver bullion anywhere in the world. Germany long since disposed of her stock of melted silver coins, partly by sale, partly by re-coinage into her own new subsidiary coins, and partly in coining for Egypt. Only recently it became necessary to purchase silver for the Egyptian coinage executed at the mint at Berlin."

It is plain then that there is no danger that the silver product of past years will be poured into our mints, unless new steps be taken for demonetization, and for this improbable contingency ample safeguards can be provided. Nor need there be any serious apprehension that any considerable part of the stock of silver coin of Europe would be shipped to the United States for deposit for the Treasury notes. There is much less reason for shipping coin to this country than bullion, for, while the leading nations of Europe have discontinued the coinage of full legal tender silver pieces, they have provided by law for maintaining their existing stock of silver coins at par.

In England, Portugal and the States of the Scandinavian union, there is no stock of silver coin, except subsidiary coins used for exchange purposes, the nominal value of which is far in excess of the bullion value. Germany has in circulation about $100,000,000 in old silver thalers, but ten years have passed since the sales of bullion arising under the anti-silver legislation of 1873 were discontinued. It is safe to say there is no stock of silver coin in Europe which is not needed for business purposes. The States of the Latin Union and Spain, which has a similar monetary system, are the only countries in Europe which have any large stock of silver coins, and the commercial necessities of these countries are such that they could not afford, without serious financial distress, to withdraw from circulation silver coins, which are at par with their gold coins, to deposit them at our mint for payment of the bullion value in notes.

When the utter inconsistencies and fallacies of all other objections to free coinage is shown, we are confronted with the ultimatum that our gold will flee this country, at once contracting our currency to the amount of $686,000,000. The monthly statement of the Secretary of the Treasury for January 1, 1892, shows that we have in the Treasury, gold coin and bullion, $278,846,750. The last annual report of the Comptroller of the Currency shows gold in National banks amounting to $87,675,142, and in private banks and other institutions $8,883,552, a total in banks of $96,558,694, making a total in Treasury and in banks of $375,402,554. This amount we have trustworthy record as being in this country. The remainder of the estimate of $686,000,000 is mere guess work.

Of all the objections urged against free coinage this in the opinion of your committee, is the only one that deserves serious consideration. That the change proposed in our currency law, involving the complete restoration of the bimetallic standard, a return to the coinage of both metals on equal terms will cause for the moment some apprehension, and probably a disposition to hoard gold may be expected; yet any evils that may result must, from the nature of the situation, be transitory. No important change that effects our financial system can be made without causing some inconvenience or friction somewhere. Yet it will not be contended that our laws relating to the currency or to the tariff or other modes of taxation are never to be altered. The ultimate good to be obtained is and always has been a sufficient argument. To restore silver now would not make the radical change that was effected in our currency laws as the act demonetizing it did. Indeed demonetization took place without warning and at a time when we were looking to a resumption of coin payments, and surely needed all the specie possible. We have approached free coinage gradually and we resumed the coinage of the standard silver dollar in 1878 with the distinct purpose of putting this country on the gold and silver basis.

ASSESSMENTS AGAINST UNRECORDED SUBDIVISIONS.

The importance of dealing with reputable real estate firms cannot be better illustrated than by referring to the methods of some subdividers who have been platting ground and selling lots before recording the plat. It would seem almost incredible in this age of general intelligence, that anyone should be so ignorant and careless as to buy lots which have no legal existence because never recorded, but there is ample evidence to show that such is the case. Unscrupulous men get an option on a few acres and proceed to subdivide them and sell the lots. They pay a few dollars for a survey and have cheap plats printed, and if they are fortunate in securing good agents, they manage to dispose of the lots at a fine profit. Later, they put their plat on record. If the market is good everything turns out well. If not, let the buyer beware.

The secret of the whole matter is, that the would-be subdividers do not own the property. They merely have an option on the land, and are compelled to wait until they can sell it out in lots before they can put the plats on record. So long as sales are good, the scheme is safe. But the success of the entire undertaking depends on continued sales. Let the sales once fall off, and the bottom will drop out of the scheme in an instant.

Fortunately, the Chicago market is one in which there are always plenty of buyers. Consequently these schemes in the past have been successful. But there are sometimes curious complications arising out of them, which cause more or less trouble all around. An instance of that kind once occurred in this city.

A firm whose enterprise exceeded their capital, subdivided some property which they did not own, and sold several of the lots before recording the plat. Sales were slow and several months dragged by. At length it was decided to build a sewer in the neighborhood. Accordingly, a special assessment was levied against the property, amounting to several thousand dollars. Here was a dilemma. The profits on the entire subdivision were knocked out at a blow, and in their place was left an actual deficit. The special assessment department was besieged to change the assessment from the acres to the lots. This could not be done. The subdividers had to pay their assessment. What part of it they recovered subsequently from the lot buyers we do not know, but it is reasonably certain that the lesson was as severe as it was well deserved.

This method of putting subdivisions on the market would never be resorted to by a first-class firm. But purchasers of subdivision lots, especially when buying on contract, should assure themselves that the subdivision is properly recorded, and that the sellers have in themselves a clear and indefeasible title.

AGENTS' BUDGET.

Recent sales, however small, not yet recorded, will be reported in this column. All matter must apply to the real estate business and real estate men.

The informal dinners of the Real Estate Board are altogether enjoyable affairs. The sixth occasion of this kind was held at the University Club Thursday evening and was well attended. The subject, "Streets and Alleys; How They Are and How They Should Be," was discussed by E. S. Dreyer, and others.

The frontage is 50 feet and the price paid is at the rate of $1,800 per front foot. Two three-story stone front buildings erected some years ago now occupy the ground. The lot adjoining on the north is owned by the purchaser, and it is reported that he will erect a handsome apartment house on the three lots.

Supervising Architect Edbrooke of the Treasury department proposes a new postoffice building on the lake front which could be extended and added to as fast as the growth of the city required and into which mail trains could be run. He is preparing a bill to this effect, which will be introduced by Congressman Taylor or McGann during the present session. The bill calls for an appropriation of $4,000,000. The plan is to sell the present postoffice block for $5,500,000, or a sufficient sum to pay for a new building. The new structure would contain also the United States Courts and other Federal Departments.

Dresser well known in real estate circles through his connection with C. U. Gordon & Co. Mr. Dresser looks for a very good demand throughout the balance of the year but no boom. RULES FOR THE INSPECTION AND GRADING OF LUMBER.

Inspectors of lumber are not manufacturers and must measure and inspect lumber as they find it, of full length and width (except as to wane, which must be measured out and inspected in a lower grade), making no allowance for the purpose of raising grade.

Inspectors must use their best judgment, based upon these rules for their guidance.

The standard knot shall not exceed 1¼ inches in diameter, and must be of a sound character.

Splits are always more or less damage to a piece of lumber. An allowance must be made, either in determining the quality or quantity, according to the nature of the split. A split extending to exceed one foot will reduce it to one grade lower.

Reaches must be 2x4, or 2½x4½ inches, and the lengths 8, 10, 12 and 16 feet.

Harrow timber must be 2½x2½ inches, and the lengths 5, 10 and 14 feet.

Hickory axles must be clear, and in lengths of 6 or 12 feet, for sizes 3½x4½, 4x5, 4x6, 4½x6 and 7 or 14 feet, for 5x6 and 5x7 on special order, cut from sound, tough, butt logs.

Wagon tongues must be clear and straight, 3x4 at small end and 4x4 at the butt end, or 2½x4½ at small end and 4½x4½ at butt end, 12 feet long, from tough, straight-grained timber.

Bolsters, reaches, harrow timber, hickory axles and wagon tongues not up to grade of clear, will be classed as cull.

Standard thickness shall be 1, 1¼, 1½, 2, 2½, 3 and 4 inches, except poplar, which will allow 5-8 inch.

When lumber is sold on this market to be measured merchantable, the inspector must measure full, except in culls, which are to be measured at one half.

It is important that all lumber should be parallel in width, square edged, and with square ends. Tapering lumber is measured at the small end. Ordinary season checks are not defects,

Squares must be clear, 4x4, 6x6, 7x7 and 8x8 inches.

Stains, specks, hearts, shakes, rot, worm-holes, holes, etc., are considered serious defects, reducing lumber to grades lower than firsts and seconds.

Log-run is the entire cut of the log, mill culls out.

EDGEMOOR.

We are now offering for sale blocks and lots in EDGEMOOR the new suburb on the Chicago Central road, at 79th street. Edgemoor is one half mile square and includes 160 acres of the beautiful ridge property in the southwest part of the city, with an east frontage on Western ave., and a north frontage on 79th st. The Chicago Central, the Northern Pacific's new suburban road, runs directly through the center of the property with a depot at 81st st.

On this road will be inaugurated, within 90 days, the most complete train service as to elaborateness of equipment and quick running time, given on any suburban road in the city. The scheduled time from Edgemoor to the Grand Central depot will be 22 minutes. The south 80 acres of Edgemoor will be improved in a high class manner the coming season, the improvements to include water and sewer, macadam streets, granite cement walks six feet wide, combination curb and gutter also of granite cement and a double row of trees. A special form of warranty deed has been prepared which establishes a 20 foot building line, a $3,000 building restriction, and also prohibits factories of all kinds and the use of buildings for saloon purposes. Contracts for the grading and sidewalk and curb and gutter work have already been let. The work will be begun soon as the ground is in condition in the spring and all of the improvements will be pushed to completion as rapidly as possible. The contract for the side-walk and curb and gutter work on the 80 acres has been let to The Northwestern Asphalt Co. the cost being $50,000. Several houses will be built and occupied by June 15th. We are prepared to offer special inducements to individual investors and syndicates who will take a five acre block interest in the property. LIBERAL COMMISSIONS PAID TO BROKERS AND AGENTS.

RECENT LEGAL DECISIONS.

Contract for the the of land—Right of party to rescind.—A contract for the sale of city lots, provided that in case the tittle, on examination should be found defective, then unless the material defects should be cured in sixty days after written notice thereof, the earnest money should be returned, and the contract to become inoperative; and also, that if the purchaser should fail to perform the contract promptly, at the time and in the manner specified, the earnest money paid, should, at the option of the vendor, be forfeited as liquidated damages, and the contract should become void. Held, that the failure of either party gave the other the right to rescind, but not for his own failure to perform the contract.

In such case the failure of the vendor to remove defects in the title within the time limited, gave the vendee the right to rescind if he so elected, but did not authorize the vendor to declare a rescission and thus free himself of his obligation to sell and convey a good title. The vendee might still insist upon a specfic performance of the contract.

When a party sgrees to convey to another a good title to land, he agrees to convey an unincumbered title; and a decree for the specific performance of the contract is not open to the charge of making and enforcing a new and different contract than that of the parties, because it requires the vendor to remove an incumberance on the land, and on his failure to do so, allows the purchaser to lift the same out of the purchase money.

On bill for the specific performance of a contract for the sale and conveyance of a good title to land, which was subject to a mortgage for the payment of money, the court among other things, required the vendor and his gurantee with notice to make and file with the clerk of the court a warranty deed by a time fixed, conveying a clear title and provided that if the vendor failed to have such mortgage released, the vendee might procure the same, and that the amount paid for that purpose should be deducted from the purchase money, and reserved the power to investigate the question of the amount the vendee was compelled to pay for such release. Held, that there was no error in the decree.

Settling disputed one by parol agreement. — It is well settled in this state that the owners of adjoining tracts of land may by parol agreement settle and establish permanently a boundary line between their lands, which, when followed by possession and the making of improvements, will be binding and conclusive and can not afterward be disputed.

But such an agreement must be clearly proven and can not be implied from slight acts of the parties, though it may sometimes be implied from their unequivocal acts. There must have been a dispute as to the boundary lines, and the party acting must have authority from the owner whom he represents.

In the Sheridan Drive Subdivision it is expected that the sewers will be clean at all times. This result will be due partly to the land being high so that the sewers have a good fall; partly to many of the sewers being designed to carry house drainage only, and partly to flushing tanks to be placed at the upper ends of all sewers by which they will be flushed automatically every day. It is the aim in this Subdivision to have everything sweet, clean and healthful as well as artistic.

INDUSTRIAL DEPARTMENT.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Company's 6,150 miles of road traverses a vast territory, rich in all the resources that insure industrial success.

The Industrial Department is conversant with the Iron, Coal, Lumber and Tanbark, the Water-Power (both river and artesian) for factory and electric power purposes, the markets, the transportation and financial facilities, and other interests on the line pertaining to industrial development, and disseminates information concerning same.

A number of new factories has been induced to locate—largely through the instrumentality of this Company—at enterprising towns on its lines.

As the interest of the Company is to secure the location of industries at places where the surroundings will insure their permanent success, the information furnished a particular industry is pertinent and reliable.

In the Eastern States and in other parts of the world factories are so congested and distant from the actual markets as to result in fierce and destructive competition. That the West is taking a place as one of the great manufacturing territories of the world is forcibly impressing itself upon discerning and enterprising manufacturers. Steps should be taken by such while the field is as yet not fully covered, and while inducements are still being offered, to locate in the West.

Individuals or companies wishing to embark capital in Western industry can find a profitable field.

Luis Jackson,

FINANCE AND TRADE.

Judging from the signs and movements of trade, the situation is apparently becoming less anomalous. Last week we briefly indicated some of the strong contrasts that confronted us. 1. Reports are received of unsatisfactory business, yet a large increase is shown in the volume of the bank clearings. 2. There is a difficulty in making collections, yet the cash deposits at the banks are swelling to phenominal and unheard of proportions, while the number of mortgages cancelled or about to be paid off, testify to the plenitude of money in the hands of producers, and finally, the continuous outward flow of gold in presence of a large balance in favor of this country upon its international trade.

These contrasts were, as stated last week, anomalous. Some writers ignored them, others sought to explain them away. But hard facts are not to be disposed of by these methods. And even if we cannot satisfactorily account for them, the duty of recognizing facts is none the less incumbent upon the honest man. Indeed, the situation is quite understandable if we confront it fairly. The essence of all business is the fair exchange of commodities. Whenever one party to a deal endeavors to secure some undne advantage, there is sure to be friction. The machinery of business moves slowly or by spurts and starts, and there is a constant demand for more tinkering and further oiling, which usually end in some fresh complication.

All that is now needed for prosperity is, that the business of the country should be left to those who run it. Prices are made by competition based upon the laws of supply and demand. A small supply and a great demand insure high prices, and cheapness results from excessive production and limited consumption. This is the common sense view of the whole matter, and it applies universally—to freight, to farm produce, to land, to gold, to silver, in fact to everything. Legislation is powerless. It may lift one end of a beam, but only to depress the other end. No amount of legislation can make water dear at the falls of Niagara, but the owners of flumes in California can make a tidy fortune, even out of water.

There has been much disregard of this fundmental truth of late. Hence the country, though not exactly suffering, is not riding on a great wave of prosperity as expected. A feverish and unwise activity—not wholly without an alloy of dishonesty in some respects—has been removing the landmarks. Every interest has been calling for special favors, to be paid for, of course, by the community at large. The energy that should have been put forth in manly endeavors has been wasted—so far as the country is concerned—in lobbying.

The state of New York is once more being aroused upon the subject of reducing the legal rate of interest from 6 to 5 per cent. Borrowers think by this means to obtain money more cheaply. Of course they will do nothing of the sort. Should any such law pass, money at present invested in the state would depart for some more promising field of investment. The state of New York would be drained of its money for the benefit of other states. Something of the same kind was threatened in Kansas, but was found not to work. But all these things are disgusting to capital, and render it all the more timid and exacting.

Further and heavy shipments of gold have been made to Europe. The gold absorbing powers just now are, undoubtedly, Austria-Hungary and Russia, though doubtlessly a moderate proportion of the prized metal rests on passage at Germany. Secretary of the Treasury Foster has reached England, where he will exchange opinions upon silver and Bimettalism, with the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Goschen. The present British ministry is not wholly adverse to favoring silver, but its ability to take action of any decided character may be doubted. The chances are that there will be an international conference on bimettalism. England, Germany and France probably, will reserve their freedom of action. Resolutions will be passed, and there the matter will rest. Of late, Lord Salisbury has materially modified his views as to the benefits of protection. But that is of no particular account, seeing that the indications all point to the early overthrow of his government. On the other hand, Mr. Gladstone—Lord Salisbury's probable successor—is a confirmed free-trader. What chance is there for Mr. Gladstone to say: Free trade for Great Britain and as far as practicable with all her possessions and colonies, but 100 cents for every 70 cents of United States and Mexican silver? The very idea gives exercise to the risible centers.

The week on Wall street has not been particularly eventful. Operators continue to watch the deal in coalers, which have suffered some set-back owing to the fear of possible legislative interferences. The matter hinges as to whether there is intended a a practical monopoly. Then too, the action of the great Pennsylvania system in the matter is shrouded in darkness, though the general impression is that some satisfactory working arrangement between the rival interests will be arrived at. Meanwhile, prices are, as a rule, well maintained, despite the exporting of gold and the continued indifference of the public. The latest rumour is that the Vanderbilts are after Delaware and Hudson, and that another gigantic consolidation movement is in progress. But the bears aver that all such reports are circulated merely to sell easy upon. One thing is quite certain, the strength of Wall street just now is based upon trust in the Vanderbilts and the Drexel-Morgan group. This is quite a legitimate source of strength, and appears to be largely justified by the facts.

The last statement of the New York banks would, in the strictly technical sense, be considered as relatively bad. But, regarded from the practical standpoint, quite otherwise. The decrease in the amount of deposits and the increase in the inquiry for loans, would appear to show that merchants and manufacturers were once more finding a use for their surplus funds. The improvement in the volume of loans would also seem to imply a greater feeling of confidence in the future, and a more pronounced inclination to run the risks of trade. The amount of gold bullion in the vaults of the bank of England has increased during the week £119,000 ($577,000); and the proportion of reserve to liability, which was last at 44.05 per cent, now stands at 42.69 per cent. Concurrently, the Bank of France returns the following increase; of gold, 7,100,000 francs; of silver, 800 000 francs. Money is plentiful and easy the other side, but the great instituions are vigilantly protecting their reserves, in view of possible contingencies.

At home, trade continues to be reported as dull. Stocks are accumulating in most all of the branches of the heavy iron industry, though this is traceable rather to excessive production than to any paucity of orders.

The comparatively mild weather experienced in the winter wheat section has had a beneficial effect, and hopes are expressed of another bumper year. Spring work is already being advanced, and the prospects for the American farmer are decidedly good, though it is too early in the year to speak with confidence.

The bank clearings at Chicago for the week were as follows:

Friday	$14,621,968
Saturday	13,416,148
Monday	15,400,000
Tuesday	17,530,900
Wednesday	17,338,368
Thursday	16,397,289

ANALYSIS OF BANK CLEARINGS.

The following table of bank clearings is a comparative statement from sixty-six leading cities for the week ending February 26, 1892, showing also the figures for the corresponding week of last year and the percentages of increase and decrease:

*Preceding weeks' returns †Not included in totals.

A study of the above table is useful for the purpose or comparing present with past activity in the commercial centres of the country and also for a further comparison of the relative activity as between those centres. The first point that strikes the attention of the reader is the remarkable increase of clearings over the corresponding week of last near. While New York city shows the wonderful gain of 44.8 per cent, some of the minor cities surpass even that ratio, the percentage af gain of Des Moines being the highest, 85.1 per cent, while that of Duluth is 60 8, of Minneapolis 50.3, and of Portland, Me, 44.2, These cities have shown handsome gains for some time past, but the present week is far in advance of recent preceding reports, which would indicate not only that they are centres rapidly advancing, but also that they are apparently entering on a period of increasing prosperity,

Chicago again takes second place, leading Boston by over 8 millions and Philadelphia by 12 millions. The other cities are so far behind as to be practically out of the race. The volume of St. Louis' clearings represents only a little more than one-fourth those of Chicago and less than one-third those of Philadelphia. The three cities of Chicago, Boston and Philadelphia then may be regarded as the competitors for second place; and of late the contest has narrowed down to a struggle between Boston and Chicago, with Boston not infrequently in the lead. The indications shown by the percentages, however, are all in favor of Chicago. The incresed percentages attributed to Boston are very small, with now and then a decrease, while the percentages of Chicago's increase are large and constantly advancing, this week being 26 per cent over the corresponding week of last year; so that we may expect that within a twelvemonth Chicago will take her rightful place second only to New York, with a total of clearings so large as to distance all other competitors.

Fourteen cities show decreases averaging about 10 per cent, but this is no more than is to be expected and is almost lost sight of in the very gratifying total gain of 31 per cent for the entire list. New York, as heretofore monopolizes not only the bulk of the clearings but surpasses also in percentage of increase, showing 44.8 per cent as agaiffst 14.9 for all outside points. As previously noticed, however, the percentage of increase at some of the outside cities exceeds even that of New York,

An analysis of the situation by groups of States gives the following:

	WEEK ENDING FEB. 26, 1892.	WEEK ENDING FEB. 27, 1891.	PERCENTAGE.
New Engl'd States.	$ 86,321,756	$ 83,844,827	Inc 2.9
Middle "	746,648,411	527,153,063	Inc 41.6
Southern "	43,550,700	40,864,983	" 6.6
Western "	38,414,524	34,061,522	" 12.8
Northwestern "	111,696,051	86,929,792	" 28.5
Southwestern "	36,802,570	31,374,099	" 17.
Totals,.....	$ 1,084,617,059	$ 826,750,049

Six out of seven of the groups establish gains which—with the exception of the New England States, where the advance is but equal to 2.9 per cent—are substantial. The only decline is in the Far Western or Pacific Coast States, where the falling off is equal to 6.7 per cent. This is to be traced to the substantial shrinkage of 10.9 per cent at San Francisco.

THE LOCAL STOCK MARKET.

Investors have displayed but slight interest in the action of local securities, and brokers have shown little disposition to enliven matters by trading on ther own account. Deprived of all support, the general tendency in prices has been downward, though the changes have in but few instances been more than fractional

The cables continue to be neglected, and what little animation there has been was centered about trades in "for the account." Little remains to be added. The range in North Side cable has, during the past week, been from 183½ to 181⅝, regular. The close, on Thursday, being at 182. On no day were more than a few hundred shares disposed over. Trading in West Side cable, though it has been more active than in the sister property, has displayed even fewer variations. The range covered was from 136 to 134⅞, regular. Trading for the account constituted almost the entire business on Thursday, and the price yielded relatively further, the closing at 134¾.

Business in City Railway was confined to Tuesday, on which day, 135 shares—including two fifties—changed hands. The action was as follows: opened at 324, sold off to 324, bid up to 324½, and closing at 324¾.

There has been something like an attempt to raid Street's Stable Car line, and the property has yielded somewhat under the attack. Range, 37¾ to 37, the close being at the latter figure, for regular. A few weeks since this property was, perhaps, the most active on the list. But on Thursday, last, the business mostly took place in small parcels of tens and twenties. No commentary is necessary as to the prevailing dullness.

Diamond Match in fair request, at a range of from 144⅝ to 143½, the closing at 143¾.

Western Stone last sold at 95½, with little doing.

Arc Light and Power, nothing doing.

Calumet and Chicago Canal and Dock has suffered from the prevailing temper of the room. Range, 79½ to 79, the close. A few lots went over each day, and that completes the story.

Brewing and Malting in moderate request. Regular sold during the week anywhere from 34 to 33⅝. Tendency downward. For the account was traded in on Thursday at 33⅝. Preferred stock steady at 43.

Packing and Provision, common stock ranged from 53½ to 53, regular. Preferred stock, after going to 49¼, sold off to 48¾. On some days there was quite a little activity in this property, which, however, is a trifle slow.

The bond market neglected and easy; Gas Light and Coke 5s., touched 89¾, on Monday, with $30,000 passing. Since then, the price has gradually, but steadily, sagged, bringing the close to 88¼. The action of the city in connection with the Economic franchise has something to do wtih depressing the price. Consumers Gas 5s., a few thousands changed hands at from 86¾ to 86, the last being the close. Among miscellaneous bonds, the most notable deal was the sale, on Tuesday, of $20,000 of North Chicago first mortgage 5s, which went at 100⅝.

The following prices were established during the week: Atlas National Bank, at 115. Chemical National Bank, at 100. Illinois Steel Co., at 77. New York Biscuit Co., at 69 to 68. And National Railway of Illinois, at 112.

USURY LEGISLATION.

In the JOURNAL's two column article on usury legislation in last week's issue the rate per cent adopted by law in the State of Illinois was given as eight instead of seven per cent: The article was carefully prepared and the references to authorities properly made, but the error was committed in the composing room and overlooked by the proof reader. Heretofore the records have received first attention and miscellaneous matter has been handled late on Friday. The dignity and importance of the subjects presented under editorial headings will hereafter claim the same careful attention that has been given to record matter.

THE REAL ESTATE SITUATION.

Plans for an Extensive South Side Improvement. Better Street Railway Service for the Future. A Block of Land with a History. Subdivided.

A MARKET CHARACTERIZED BY INTERESTING DEALS.

The most important event of the week from a real estate standpoint is the announcement of plans of the depot for the Chicago Elevated Terminal Railway. It is of interest from the mere fact that it represents an outlay in building improvement of $3,500,000. It is also of interest from the fact that it is to be located in a section now occupied by third or fourth class buildings and in a section toward which the business centre of Chicago seems to be slowly tending. In the third place it is interesting on account of the features incorporated in the building itself. It is to be a combination of a railway building, an office building and a commercial building. The main building will be eight stories in height and will occupy the southwest corner of State and Twelfth streets. This portion of the building will be eight stories high and will have a frontage of 350 feet on State street. It will be surmounted by a tower sixty feet square reaching an extreme height of 420 feet. This portion of the building might be considered as the office structure. South of this will be an immense two-story train shed with a State street frontage of 1000 feet. The commercial feature of the building is found in the fact that the entire State street frontage is to be cut up into stores, with the exception of the space needed for entrances. As a usual thing the location of a railroad improvement is not hailed by surrounding property owners as a promising feature. In this case, however, the construction of the building will provide for stores along a State street frontage of 1350 feet. The property on State street in the vicinity of the Santa Fe freight yards is considered unsuited for anything but warehouse and low grade business purposes. The improvement of a quarter of a mile of frontage with stores will revolutionize the character of the street and make it a retail business district.

There is, however, another side to the story. Notwithstanding the definite announcement that the Elevated Terminal company will begin operations in the early spring, there are a great many skeptics who express a doubt in regard to the immediate erection of the depot building, and in fact express a belief that it never will be built on the plans outlined. There is no question, however, that if the depot and office building is constructed it will give impetus to the general southward movement which has been inaugurated among business interests. Business has been gradually extended south on State street and the same causes which promise to result in establishing a retail centre at the corner of Van Buren and State streets, are gradually changing the nature of Wabash and Michigan avenues. One of the most striking illustrations of the southward movement among business firms is given in the exodus of the wholesale dry goods interests from Madison street to Adams street which has taken place in the last few years. The causes which lead to this movement are building operations and improvements in transportation service. The construction of the Alley L. road with a terminus at Congress street, and the action of the West Side Street Railway company in cabling Van Buren street and building the new tunnel have been supplemented by the building improvement inaugurated by the Brooks Estate, L. Z. Leiter, C. C. Heisen and other pioneers in the southern portion of the business district. The Chicago Elevated Terminal Railway's plans might be placed in either of the two classes, as the company promises improved railway service, which will directly inure to the benefit of the South Side, and in addition promises an extensive building improvement.

The question of rapid transit is constantly being brought up before the public and promises are made that before long horses as a motive power on street car lines will be a thing of the past. At a recent meeting of the Tax-payers' Association the fact was developed that Chicago is far behind the times in the matter of urban transportation service. Some comparisons made with outside cities go to demonstrate that Chicago, in the matter of street railway service, unlike many other improvements, does not lead. In Minneapolis the one company operating lines uses electricity as a motive power. In St. Paul the one company operating cars uses electric and cable lines. In Kansas City twelve distinct companies operate cars propelled by cable, electric and steam power. In Cleveland three companies operate cable and electric lines. In Columbus, Ohio one company operates an electric line, while in Allegheny, Pa. two companies use the same motive power. Some of the other cities which use electricity exclusively are Des Moines, Lincoln, Neb., Omaha, Albany, Buffalo, Memphis and Richmond, Va. Detroit and New Orleans are among the few large cities which depend entirely on horses in their street car service. Among the cities which combine horse-car service with electric, cable and steam roads are Denver, Grand Rapids, Baltimore, Boston, St. Louis, Pittsburg, Providence and Milwaukee.

A suggestion was recently made by a street railway journal for a rapid transit system in Chicago based on the idea of excluding transportation lines from the business centre, which is fully as good as many of the theories which have been advanced on the same subject. It suggested a belt-elevated line running entirely around the congested business district. On this line cars propelled by steam or electricity were to be used. From this elevated belt line surface railroads were to radiate to all parts of the city. Just what will be done remains somewhat of a puzzle. That something will be done, however, is evidenced by the fact that the varions street railway companies of the city are making tests of almost every available system or plan for propelling street cars.

The lease of the property at Nos. 100 and 102 Randolph street, which was recently closed, determines a high land valuation, and indicates as well the trend of improvement on this thoroughfare. The property leased is 40x100 feet on the south side of Randolph street, forty feet west of Dearborn street It was leased by the Stephen Swift estate to Koelling & Klappenbach for a term of ninety-nine years. The annual rental is $8000 for the first seven years and $9000 for the remainder of the term. A rental of $9,000 determines a land valuation af $180,000. This is $4,500 a front foot or $45 a square foot. The Kedzie property on the same side of the street just west of the Swift property was leased some time ago at a valuation equivalent to $60 a square foot.

An acre deal involving the purchase of 200 acres at the junction of the Milwaukee and St. Paul and Outer Belt lines was announced a few days ago with the customary statement as to the intentions of the purchasers to locate a manufacturing town kept somewhat in the background. The property is at Roundout and was sold for $40,000. The purchaser is C. M. Kendall of Milwaukee, who is said to act for a manufacturing company.

An event of the week which was of some interest to real estate men was the subdivision and partition of the Story property on Grand Boulevard and Forty-third street. The well known five-acre tract has been subdivided into forty-nine lots, and the equally well known "Story Castle" is to be torn down and removed. The plat of the property was approved and the partition deeds were made a part of the records early this week. The fact will probably dispose of the rumor that Leslie E. Keeley is negotiating for the purchase of the Story mansion to be used as a sanitarium.

The Ozark flat building on the southeast corner of Thirty-fifth street and Wabash avenue has been sold by John W. McFarlane to James R. Cormack and James S. Bruner. The building is a seven-story structure covering 75x135 feet. This land is leased from Louisa M. Waller at an annual rental of $3500. For the building and leasehold interest, the sum of $400,000 is paid. The original lessees of the land were Howard & Berwin, who put the building under roof but did not finish it. They sold the building in that conditon to J. B. Skinner. Mr. Shinner sold it to John W. McFarlane and J. S. Huey. Mr. McFarlane purchased Mr. Huey's interest and by the present transaction disposes of the entire property. The building contains fifty-five flats, nearly all of which are rented.

A BIG DEAL ABOUT CLOSED

A report was circulated on the street yesterday to the effect that the final negotiations had been completed in the syndicate deal for the purchase of 2,400 acres southwest of Blue Island on the Rock Island railroad. Mr. Bellamy, of Rexfort & Bellamy, pronounced the report premature and said that some further time would be required before the completion of the negotiations now in progress.

The details of this transaction will be remembered as having been published in the JOURNAL several months ago. The principals were said to be prominent Eastern capitalists and manufacturing concerns in connection with the Chicago & Rock Island Railway Company and the promoters Rexford & Bellamy. The property secured lies about three miles southeast of Blue Island, and adjoins the Rock Island tracks. Negotiations were entered into at first with a view to securing a large tract of land for a manufacturing town. With this end in view options were secured on a number of parcels at varying prices, the aggregate being 2,400 acres, secured at an average price of about $500 an acre. One-third of the purchase price is to be paid down to close the contract. It is expected that this will be done shortly.

It has been reported that the Rock Island Railroad Company will remove their machine shops to the new site as soon as possible after present negotiations are completed. It is also stated that other large manufacturing interests will at once step in, so that the new town will assume much the same proportions as Harvey and other manufacturing centers in a short time.

IMPORTANT NEGOTIATION PENDING.

A syndicate represented by A. J. Cooper has been for some time negotiating for the Equitable Building on the southwest corner of Dearborn and Washington streets. It reported that $450,0 0 has been offered for the property as it stands. This figure is just $50,000 more than the offer reported as having been made for the Antheneum property on Dearborn street. Both these deals, however, are incomplete, and are neither affirmed nor denied by the principals.

REPORTED $1,200,000 SALE.

Negotiations are now in progress for the purchase by an eastern syndicate of 827 acres belonging to the Ogden Sheldon Company, near Riverside. This property lies in sections 31 and 32 in the town of Cicero and sections 1 and 6 in Lyons. It has a mile of frontage on Ogden avenue and extends south to the Illinois and Michigan Canal and the Santa Fe Railroad. The property is being bought for investment merely. The price named is $1,500 an acre, but this is largely conjecture.

A TALL BUILDING FOR THE WEST SIDE.

The latest project of a tall building to be fourteen stories in height concerns the West side, says the Melrose Tribune. Hannah & Hogg, the liquor merchants who had a holding on West Madison near Halsted street, have succeeded in purchasing the southwest corner of these two streets, giving them a building site of 100 by 160 feet. The price agreed upon is at present withheld, so are the details for the projected big building, though it can be authoratively stated that the latter will be a fact in the near future. The corner is not likely to be productive of any choice prices for offices, as viewed from a downtown standpoint, but it is certain to prove a safe investment on account of the great inquiry for offices in that locality.

The ground and building at the intersection of Madison street and Colorado avenue, with a frontage of 200 feet on either side, has been transferred by M. A. Farr to E. W. Oglesby of Wheeling, W. Va., for $75,000. The improvements consist of a three-story and flat building, erected about two years ago. In part payment Mr. Oglesby gives fifty-nine lots lying south of the Northwestern railroad at Ridgeland at a valuation of $60,000. The property consists of about seventeen acres, lying half way between Ridgeland station and Austin avenue.

STATUTES OF LIMITATIONS.

For the benefit of our readers we give a few points in law governing collections in the State of Illinois:

An open account is barred or outlawed in this State after a lapse of five years. A note or a debt, evidenced by writing, is barred in ten years, unless during that time the debtor has been out of the State of Illinois, and then the time of his absence shall not be included in the ten or five years aforesaid, and unless the debtor has during that time promised to pay the debt, or in some lawful manner recognized the debt as being valid and binding upon him.

A judgment before a Justice of the Peace is barred or outlawed after ten years has elapsed from the day of its rendition; the time that any appeal may be pending of such judgment not being included therein; an execution may be issued thereon any time within seven years from such date.

A suit in a Court of Record is barred in twenty years; it is lien on real estate for seven years, providing execution has been issued within one year from its date.

EXEMPTIONS.

Every married man, and every person the head of a family residing with the same in the State, is entitled as exempt from execution and sale four hundred dollars in personal property, besides his necessary wearing apparel, family books and pictures, and has a homestead exemption of the value of one thousand dollars, and is entitled as exempt from garnishment the sum of fifty dollars wages.

Every unmarried person is entitled to the necessary wearing apparel, bible, school books and family pictures, and one hundred dollars worth of other personal property. There is no exemption to any person against an execution rendered for the services of a servant or laboror.

The government in any of its branches cannot be garnished, nor any municipality, such as the city, county, etc.

TREATIES WITH FOREIGN NATIONS, GOVERNING LAND OWNERSHIP OF ALIENS.

In taking up the treaties between the United States and foreign countries which have treaty relations bearing on real estate matters the JOURNAL will give the substance only. The wide spread interest awakened by the paper on "Alien Land Ownership," the substance of which was published in this JOURNAL two weeks ago warrants a further exposition of international laws on the subject. In last week's issue the text of a bill to restrict the rights of aliens to own lands within the United States, now before congress, was also published.

FRANCE.

Of the many treaties and conventions entered into and held by the United States and France none previous to the "convention concerning the rights and privileges of consuls," concluded Feb. 23, 1853, ratified Aug. 11, and proclaimed Aug. 12 of the same year, make any mention of real property. But in the convention above referred to in article VII, the subject is clearly set forth as follows: In all of the States of the Union whose existing laws permit it, so long and to the same extent as the said laws shall remain in force, Frenchmen shall enjoy the right of possessing personal and real property by the same title and in the same manner as citizens of the United States. They shall be free to dispose of both as they may please, either gratuitously or for value received by donation, testament or otherwise, just as American citizens can do, and in no cases be subject to taxes or transfer inheritance or any others different from those paid by Americans or to any taxes not equally imposed. As to the States of the Union by whose existing laws aliens are not permitted to hold real estate, the president of the United States engaged to recommend to such States the passage of such laws as may be necessary for the purpose of conferring this right.

In like manner but with the reservation of the ulterior right of establishing reciprocity in regard to possession and inheritance, the government of France accords to the citizens of the United States the same rights within its territory in respect to real and personal property and to inheritance as are enjoyed there by its own citizens.

In accordance with this treaty the State of Connecticut long ago passed a law which gave Frenchmen the same rights as regards real estate as citizens of that State so long as France lived up to and enforced this treaty of 1853.

AUSTRIA.

In the treaty between the Emperor of Austria and the United States, concluded May 8, 1848, ratifications exchanged at Washington, D. C., Feb. 23, 1850, and proclaimed Feb. 25, 1850, I find under Article 2nd that, "where, on the death of any person holding real property or property not personal, within the territories of one party, such real property would, by the laws of the land, descend on a citizen or subject of the other, were he not disqualified by the laws of the country where such real property is situated, he or she shall be allowed a term of two years to sell the same, which term may be reasonably prolonged according to circumstances, and to withdraw the proceeds thereof without molestation, subject only to same charges etc., as may be imposed in like cases upon the inhabitants of the country from which such proceeds may be withdrawn.

ARTICLE III.

In case of the absence of the heirs the same care shall be taken provisionally, of such real or personal property as would be taken in a like case of property belonging to the natives of the country until the lawful owner, or the person who has the right to sell the same according to article second, may take measures to receive or dispose of the inheritance.

Those who have kept pace with the subject will readily see that the old treaty does not contemplate the many complexities and hardships which arise under our present laws, and the treaty with Austria-Hungary is not as favorable to "alien land ownership," as are the treaties now in force with many foreign countries. This old document expired by limitation two years after its ratification. The writer finds it too tedious to follow up our relations with the country above mentioned in this connection, but will, at the close of a series of articles on the subject, print a sort of digest of all of the treaties in force between the United States and foreign countries, wherein real estate ownership and real estate titles are involved. Our renewed relations with Austria Hungary will again be taken up when the average reader will be better prepared to understand the policy of our own government in such matters.

The treaty with Baden, entered into long before the new-empire existed, was concluded January 30, 1857, ratified at Berlin April 21, 1857, and proclaimed May 19th of the same year.

BADEN—ARTICLE I.

Citizens of the Grand Duchy of Baden who have resided uninterruptedly within the United States five years, and before, during or after that time have become or shall become naturalized citizens of the United States, shall be held by Baden to be American citizens and treated as such. Reciprocally, citizens of the United States who have resided uninterruptedly within the Grand Duchy of Baden five years, and before, during or after that time have become or shall become naturalized citizens of Baden, will be held by the United States to be citizens of Baden and shall be treated as such. The declaration of an intention to become citizens of the one or the other country, has not for either party the effect of naturalization.

BAVARIA.

Article II of the treaty with Bavaria is as follows: Where on the death of any person holding real property within the territory of one party, such real property would by the laws of the land descend on a citizen or subject of the other, were he not disqualified by alienage, such citizen or subject shall be allowed a term of two years to sell the same, which term may be reasonably prolonged, and to withdraw the proceeds thereof without molestation, and exempt from all dutics of detraction, the same as with Austria-Hungary.

In Article III of the treaty with Bavaria, it is provided that the citizens or subjects of the contracting parties shall have power to dispose of their real and personal property within the states of the other by testament, donation or otherwise, (as incorporated in the original treaty in parenthesis in red ink), and their heirs, legatees and donees being citizens or subjects of the other contracting party, shall succeed to the said real and personal property and take possession thereof, either by themselves or by others acting for them, and dispose of the same, paying such duties only as the inhabitants of the country where the said property lies shall be liable to pay in like cases.

Article IV provides, that in the absence of the heirs, the same care shall be taken provisionally, as in other treaties heretofore given, and according to Article II, may take measures to receive or dispose of the inheritance. In Article IV, if any dispute should arise between different claimants to same inheritance, they should be decided in the last resort according to the laws and by the judges of the country where the property is situated. Done in the city of Berlin in quadruplicate, on the 21st day of June, 1845.

Proctocol at Munich, May 26, 1868, relating to the first article of the treaty. 1st. That not the naturalization alone, but an additional five years of uninterrupted residence is required before a person can be regarded as coming within the treaty. But the five years residence need not take place after naturalization. It is further understood that if a Bavarian has been discharged from his Bavarian indigenate, or on the other side, if an American has been discharged from his American citizenship in the manner legally prescribed by the government of his original country, and then acquires naturalization in the other country, then an additional five years residence shall no longer be required, but a person so naturalized shall, from the moment of his naturalization be treated as a Bavarian, and reciprocally as an American. The words "resided uninterruptedly," do not mean a continued bodily presence, but in the legal sense, and therefore a transient absence, a journey or the like, by no means interrupts the period of five years contemplated by the first article. This treaty was signed and sealed by

BELGIUM.

The original treaty with Belgium, concluded Nov. 10, 1845, is long since obsolete. It provided almost perfect reciprocity between the two countries, and subseqent treaties have perpetuated a somewhat similar relation, though almost wholly of a strictly commercial and maratime nature, and for the perfect aprehension and prompt punishment of criminals, embezzlers and defaulters. The words real property or real estate do not occur in all the successive treaties between the two countries, but the rights of Belgians and Americans to acquire and hold real estate in either country, are assured by the liberal provisions made in the original treaty, and reiterated again and again in subsequent treaties. There are practically no restrictions as to alien land ownership between the two nations.

In the treaty with Bolivia, ratified November 9, 1862, and proclaimed January 8, 1863, Article XII provides, that if in the case of real estate, heirs would be prevented from entering into the possession of the inheritance on account of their character as aliens, there shall be granted to them the longest period allowed by the law to dispose of the same as they may think proper, and to withdraw the proceeds without molestation, nor any other charges than those which are imposed by the laws of the country. It will be observed that in this case, no specified time of ownership is provided for.

In the treaty with Brunswick and Lunenburg, proclaimed July 30, 1855, Article II provides, that if, by the death of a person owning real property in the territory of one of the high contracting parties, such property should descend, either by the laws of the country, or by testamentary disposition, to a citizen of the other country, who, on account of being an alien, could not be permitted ro retain the actual possession of such property, such term as the laws of the state or country will permit, shall be allowed to him to dispose of such property, and collect and withdraw the proceeds thereof, without paying to the government any other charges than those which, in a similar case, would be paid by an inhabitant of the country in which such real property may be situated. Here it will be seen that the treaty is made subordinate to the laws of the state, so far as to the time which the state allows for the disposal of the property.

In 1825, the United States concluded a treaty with the Confederation of Central American States, which treaty expired by its own limitation, August 2, 1838. This treaty provided that alien heirs of real estate should be granted a term of three years to dispose of the same as they might think proper, and to withdraw the proceeds without molestation, and exempt from all duties of detraction, on the part of the respective states. The same provision was inserted in the treaty with the Republic of Columbia, proclaimed May 31, 1825, and expired by limitation October 3, 1836. In November, 1831, the Republic of Columbia was divided into three independent republics of New Granada, Venezuela, and Ecuador. In 1862 New Granada changed its name to the United States of Columbia.

The treaty with Ecuador, known as the treaty of 1839, contained the same stipulation of three years time for the disposal of property left to aliens.

The treaty of 1846 with New Granada provides that citizens of each of the contracting nations shall have power to dispose of their real estate within the jurisdiction of the other, by sale, donation, testament or otherwise; and their representatives, being citizens of the other nation, may succeed to their real estate, whether by will or inheritance and may take possession either by themselves or by others acting for them, and dispose of the same at their will, paying such dues only as the inhabitants of the country wherein said property is situated shall be subject to pay in like cases.

Two treaties were concluded with Venezuela covering the ownership of real estate by aliens, one known as the treaty of 1846, and the other as that of 1860. Both of these treaties were terminated by notice. Both contained provisions permiting citizens of either country to own property in the other.

The present condition of alien land tenures between citizen of the United States and of the United States of Colombia must be deduced from the treaty of 1846 with New Granada, which country assumed the name Colombia in 1862.

The treaty in 1851 with Costa Rica provides that on the death of any citizen of either of the two contracting nations, the Consul General or Consul of the nation to which the deceased belonged, shall have the right to nominate curators to take charge of the property of the deceased so far as the laws of the country will permit, for the benefit of the lawful heirs and creditors of the deceased.

Treaty with Honduras under date 1864, provides that curators may be appointd to take charge of the property of deceased aliens, so far as the laws of the country will permit for the benefit of the lawful heirs and creditors of the deceased.

The treaty stipulation with Nicaraugua contained in the treaty of 1867, are very broad, and provide for complete reciprocity between that country and the United States.

The treaty of 1870 with San Salvador provides that the citizens of each of the contracting nations shall have power to dispose of their real estate within one jurisdiction of the other, by sale, donation, testament or otherwise; and their representatives, being citizens of the other nation, shall succeed to their real estate, whether by will or descent.

I have been unable to find any mention of the important subject of alien land ownership in any of the numerous treaties with Mexico. The nearest approach to the subject is a provision in the treaty of 1848, which secures to Mexicans remaining in the territories ceded to the United States the same rights of property as was before accorded to them.

The conclusion arrived at from a study of the treaties with the Central American republic is that the subject of alien land ownership is not very definitely treated. But the tendency seems to be to reciprocity in this matter as well as in others. In almost every instance it has been expressly stated that reasonable provisions are made to protect the holdings of aliens, especially when acquired by descent or devise.

A CLUSTER OF MEMORIES.

Scarcely more than a century ago, when the echoes of the Revolution were dying and from the mountains in East Tennessee, a hardy band of pioneers were planting on the banks of the Cumberland river a colony destined to expand into the Capital of the State of Tennessee, and a city foremost among Southern centers. A single circumstance controlled the judgment of General Robertson, who had distinguished himself with Light Horse Harry in the struggle with Great Britain, in selecting this spot as the scene of his labors in founding and nursing the village that was to be an outpost on the borders of civilization. In those days salt was an article of luxury to the hardy spirits who left the main travelled roads and pushed forward into the primeval forests where the redskin and wild beast had held carnival. Salt had to be transported hundreds of miles over mountain and valley, river and swamp and was prized as an element of food hard to obtain. Near the banks of the Cumberland was found a magnificent salt spring or "lick," so named from the circumstance that the deer would repair to the rocky bed over which the fountain rippled its way to the rivers, in order that they might refresh their dainty palates with the saline deposit. Here was salt in abundance and near this treasure the pioneers pitched their restless tents and decided to spend the remainder of their days. Decades have come and gone since these pilgrims from North Carolina halted on these tall bluffs. The old spring has survived time, however, and is now in the heart of a city of nearly 100,000 population. Robertson has gone to that "happy hunting ground" where his brave arm and trusty rifle sent many an Indian marauder. His name survives in an honored progeny and their broad acres he bequeathed are now covered with massive dwellings and imposing business structures. The village has become a metropolis; the wigwam and the council chamber have been supplanted by the towering temples of justice and the capitol which crowns the hill where once sentinels looked over the abode of the pioneer and his family. The years have wrought wonders whose prophecy then would have been deemed the phantom of a disordered mind.

Twelve miles from this now bristling city of nearly 100,000 inhabitants is the tomb of a man whose name has been deeply graven on American annals—Andrew Jackson. Crossing the mountains from North Carolina with only his horse and dog for companions and his unerring rifle his sole protection, he practiced law and fought duels in East Tennesse, and then in obedience to his restless spirit, pushed westward to the colony on the Cumberland, He erected his log cabin in the wilderness and began a career which was novel and, in fact, unparalleled. He raced horses, fought other duels, studied law and from uncongenial surroundings evolved a personality around which will always cling the aroma of romance. A born leader, he led the pioneers against the marauding indians and blazed his way through forests vast to track the redskin to his lair. The war of 1812 with the mother country, saw him leap into national fame and thence forward the nation claimed him. The rude cabin disappeared to be followed by a stately mansion, and the "Sage of the Hermitage" (so named from its early solitude) became the apostle of the Democracy and climed to the Presidency. Here Lafayette came to dwell for a season under his roof, and in its chambers were formed the plans by which an imperious will made Martin Van Buren and James K. Polk presidents of these United States. Forty years ago Andrew Jackson passed away but his fame is still the mecca of pilgrims to Nashville and his name is magical in its effect on his partisans in every recurring contest, local, state, national. Until a few years ago his last resting place was illy cared for, however, but now the Ladies' Hermitage Association has been formed, with offices in nearly every state, who propose to buy the relics in the homestead for $17,500, to repair the house and keep the grave green for ever. They propose to do for Jackson and the Hermitage what has been done for Washington and Mt. Vernon.

In the heart of the city of Nashville lie the remains of James K Polk, who was one of Jackson's most trusty lieutenants, and whose political success was largely due to Jackson's favor. Polk was not in any sense the peer of Jackson, but he was true, and fidelity was the jewel above price to the master of the Hermitage. Polk was practicing law a few miles from Nashville when the news of his nomination for President reached him, and few were more surprised than he at the nature of the intelligence. His death was comparatively easy. His widow spent the remainder of her days at the homestead in Nashville. She had been a woman of great beauty and brilliancy in her youth, and even to her death, last year, was possessed of rare intelligence and distinguished men Many noted men were her friends to the last, among others Bancroft, the historian, with whom she maintained a regular correspondence for thirty five years. Mr. Polk gave his widow a life interest in the homestead, devising it then to the "most worthy of his name." That provision will lead to hotly contested litigation, it is said. The property is now in the centre of the city and quite valuable.

Andrew Johnson, the third president whom Tennessee furnished to the nation, was an East Tennessean, but he spent much of his time in this city. Its halls and public places were the scenes of some of his most intense political speeches. More than once he delivered a philippic standing on a barrel at the corner near the Maxwell hotel. Johnson, as the world knows, rose from a tailor's bench to the White House. He had more power with the masses when at the zenith of his career than any man who ever lived in Tennessee, Jackson alone excepted. He had Titans for rivals when he was running for the Senate.

Of the many historic places near Nashville none is more ancient than Belle Meade. This is the oldest thoroughbred breeding establishment in the United States, having been begun a century ago by General Harding, now the property of Gen. W. H. Jackson, a son-in-law, the "Red Fox" of Forrest's cavalry in the civil war. Here such noted stallions as Iroquois, Luke Blackburn, Tremont, Inspector B, imp. Loyalist, Great Tom, preside over a harem which represents the best American and Englis strains. It was at this homestead, situated on the summit of a gentle eminence in the centre of a dominion of 5 000 acres of "blue grass" land, that President Cleveland was entertained ten years ago when he visited Tennessee. The progeny of Belle Meade have won over $2,000,000 on the turf, and about $60,000 worth of yearlings are annually sold.

Nashville was a great strategic point during the war. Near it were fought two of the most desperate contests of that period—Murfreesboro (or Stone's river) and Franklin. But "grim visaged war has smoothed his wrinkled front" and "smiling plenty again crowns a happy land." The fields which were once bathed in blood are now yielding abundant harvests to feed the busy population of the teeming metropolis which they border. Nashville is historic, but it is dealing with an active present and steadily, surely forming close commercial reations with all parts of a common country.

FACTS AND FIGURES FROM DULUTH.

THE JOURRNAL'S SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT GIVES A GENERAL SUMMARY OF THE SITUATION AND PROPHESIES BRIGHT PROSPECTS FOR THE COMING YEAR.

The bank clearings of Duluth are claiming an enormous increase over a year ago. Last week the percentage of incsease was 6), while all the banking houses of the city report money plenty for a long time; and deposits increasing rapidly. The increase in clearings of 60 per cent is just about the increased ratio of confidence over year ago. Of course, this prosperity is due in part to the late iron ore discoveries in this vicinity, and the certainty that as a result Duluth will become a very great shipping and manufacturing center for iron and steel. The development and growth of all other lines of manufacturing, this impetus given lake traffic and the local grain trade by the great crops of last year, and the fact that there is a very large quantity of money in the country adjacent to Duluth, all tend to give confidence and create business.

The Duluth real estate men have lately organized a Real Estate Exchange for the transaction of all business in their line and for the purpose of legitimately advancing all interest of the city. This organization has already done much good. Among other things it has sent out a large amount of statistical matter, a part of which the following is a sample:

In the year just passed, some $6,000,000 have been spent in building and other permanent improvements about the city, a goodly share of which has gone into manufacturing plants. The record of 1892 blds fair to be even larger. Especially interesting has been the growth of the manufacture of lumber and flour. In 1891 Duluth had a daily capacity of 3000 bbls., of flour. Now it grinds 7,500, and a couple of mills that will increase this to 9,500, are going up. Then the pioneer big mill company, the Imperial, which has a larger capacity than any mill in the world, will soon begin work on a new 7,000 bbl., mill that will give it a capicity of over 13,000 bbls., daily. In lumber the year has seen the erection of mills numbering five, that have a total yearly sawing capacity of 140,000,000 feet; and one the five mills, this year, cut 60,000,000 feet. The Duluth district is now the fourth lumber manufacturing center of the United States, and employs nearly 4,000 men in the trade all the year round. At least two more large mills will be built this year.

Real estate has been quiet for a year and more, but there is more inquiring and more sales, and a better situation is reported. Prices have been well held, and foreclosures of anything but wild lands, have been very infrequent.

REMEDY FOR OVERCROWDED STREET CARS

A PRACTICAL SOLUTION OF THE DIFFICULTY BY A CLEVER EXPEDIENT.

The practical solution of the intermural transportation problem does not depend so much on the multiplication of street railroad facilities as on some rational method of avoiding the rush of the crowds to the cars during the morning and evening hours. Since the days when the first street car line was found to be a necessity down to the present time there always have been crowded cars during the morning and evening hours; and unless some plan other then the increase of cars and railroads is adopted there always will be crowded cars.

Capitalists do not build and operate street railways for the benefit of the dear public. It is perhaps possible, though by no means certain, that under the plan of municipal ownership the street railway system might become strictly subservient to the needs of the people. But under present conditions the owners of such railways make no secret of the fact that they are not in the business for their health; and in fact, they can hardly be expected to do otherwise. Capital will not volunteer to build new roads unless the demand for them is strong enough to guarantee a paying investment. Street railway companies will not put on extra cars unless it is clearly to their advantage financially. So long as the present facilities can in any way be made adequate to the existing needs of transportation no improvement may be expected. It is only when the needs of the public actually demand it that better facilities will be provided. So that we find in actual experience that the demand for transportation in a city like Chicago is always in advance of the measures to meet that demand. Unless some radical change of methods is adopted there never will be a time when the street railway accommodations will be equal to the task of properly cariug for the crowds of waiting passengers. In short there will always be need for more roads and more cars. Just as soon as the supply or cars becomes equal to, or in excess of the needs of the public, the street railway business will cease to be a dividend paying investment.

But there is a way out of the difficulty which as yet has not been proposed. What is most needed is room for the crowds during the morning and evening hours. A careful observer cannot fail to have noticed that there are plenty of seats at any hour except between 6 and 8 a. m , and 5 and 7 p. m. The practical solution of the problem lies in extending the bulk of travel of those two morning and evening hours over three or four hours morning and evening. This can be done by slight changes in the hours of business.

Wholesale houses would not find it easy to change from their present hours The time from 8 o'clock to 6 is best suited to the requirements of their business. Retail stores on their other hand, would be directly benefited by a change in hours from their present schedule of 8 o'clock to 6 to 9 to 7. The advantage would be derived from increased trade between the hours of 6 and 7 p. m. It is well known that the early morning trade is practically nothing. But thousands of employees in wholesale and manufacturing establishments, who are unable to visit the retail stores because the latter now close at 6 o'clock, would find it convenient to make purchases between the hours of 6 and 7 p. m. Manufacturing establishments, by arranging for a half-hour nooning, could close at 5:30 and still maintain a ten hours day. The remedy for over-crowding would then be complete, and the programme would be as follows:

From 6 to 7 a. m. the cars would be occupied by employees of the down-town manufacturing establishments almost exclusively: from 7 to 8 a. m the transportation would be chiefly of employes of wholesale establishments and from 8 to 9 a. m. the retail clerks and the salesmen would follow. In the evening the manufacturing population would be first to board the cars at 5:30; then would come the wholesale employees at 6 o'clock; and at 7 o'clock the clerks in retail stores. With such an arrangement the street railway companies would not have the shadow of an excuse for compelling any passenger to go without a seat.

We recommend the adoption of this or some similar plan by the business men of the city, as the only rational solution of the present very dangerous overcrowding of the street cars.

CURRENT COMMENT.

It remains for some brilliant financier of the Alexander Hamilton order to devise some method of avoiding the necessity of large shipments of gold to and from our own and foreign countries. Drafts and bills of exchange are good so far as they go, but the recent shipments of gold from this country to Europe, together with the well remembered experience of last year, when $78,000,000 worth of the precious metal was exported from this country, have recently called the attention of financial men to the advisability of some arrangement whereby this drain and its consequent disastrous effect on prices can be provided against.

The causes of gold exports are various and complex. With the balance of trade in our favor the tendency of gold is in our direction. But a large amount of our securities owned abroad may call for such interest payments as will overcome our most favorable balance of trade. Again, when as of late, money has become so plentiful in this country that it can not be loaned and as a further consequence prices of international commodities have risen to a point much above those of the same commodities in foreign countries, the tendency is toward an export movement in gold. As a matter of fact there is now a very large sum to the credit of the United States in the banks of Europe. But inasmuch as the money is not needed here it is allowed to remain there subject to call whenever wanted.

The transportation of gold is an exceedingly cumbersome and expensive process. Its loss from a country entails depression of prices and general financial uncertainty. What is needed is some practical scheme of credits between nations which will obviate the necessity of shipments of gold in such quantities as to cause financial disturbances.

The action of the City Council in forfeiting the franchise of the Economic Gas company and taking possession of its pipes and mains was regarded with mingled surprise and satisfaction by the press and public of this city. So far not a dissenting voice has been heard outside of the stockholders themselves, and the general verdict seems to be that it was a well merited rebuke to a faithless corporation. Whether the confiscation of the company's property is a measure that will bear judicial investigation is a matter for future inquiry. What the public is most interested in is the immediate infliction of a well deserved penalty. It is a sort of a municipal-lynch law—hung first and tried afterward. In this case the public conscience seems to approve of the hanging as likely to afford a very wholesome warning to corporations of the bandit order who may come later.

Probably no section of the city is so poorly supplied with street car facilities in proportion to its needs as that part of the North side north of Wrightwood avenue. When the cable is in good humor passengers are carried to the end of the cable line without delay. Beyond that point, however, the weary traveler who is in haste to get home might as well walk. The cars on North Clark street and Lincoln avenue north of Wrightwood avenue, and on Evanston avenue are entirely inadequate to the needs of the residents in those localities. Especially in the vicinity of North Clark street and Evanston avenue the very best of facilities are needed. This is one of the choicest residence localities in the city. Substantial brick and stone houses have been built there within the past few years and a classs of home owners of the highest intelligence and respectability reside there. And yet the best that the North Chicago Street Railway company has ever offered to those people is shamefully inadequate transportation by horse cars.

It is reported that an ordinanco for an elevated electric road on Clark street will be introduced in the council at its next meeting. So many of these schemes have been set on foot that but little credence is put in anything new, But the citizens of the extreme North side have arrived at such a point of desperation that they are determined to have additional transportation facilities if they have to build them themselves.

AGENTS' BUDGET.

Recent sales, however small, not yet recorded, will be reported in this column. All matter must apply to the real estate business and real estate men.

Tinley Park property adjoining the large purchase by an Eastern syndicate, just south of Blue Island, is beginning to show signs of increased activity. Six lots were sold there Thursday by Charles L. Moak. Tinley Park is 4½ miles southwest of Harvey. It has abont 600 inhabitants; with schools, churches, stores, elevators and wagon factory.

Another World's Fair project has been set on foot by a stock company at the head of which is John Robertson, 1524 Manhattan building. This company proposes to spend $2(0,00 in the erection of a hotel in the World's Fair district to be nsed in connection with excursions run by them. The project is said to be backed by responsible parties and it is reported that building operations will be commenced at once.

Norman T. Gassette & Co. report that offices in the new Masonic Building are renting very rapidly. They predict that there will be no cessation of the demand for offices until all the large office structures now in process of erection will be filled.

August Tidholm, 189 La Salle street, has sold for E. M. Tillotson, of Englewood, to Geo. R. Thorne, 125x113 feet to 12 foot private alley, at the northwest corner of Garfield boulevard and Wentworth avenue. The consideration was $36,0(0. This is the most interesting sale made in that locality for some time. The purchaser of the property is having plans made for a fine store and flat block to be erected upon it. Mr. Tidholm has also sold 40x133 feet and an 8-room house at 7009 Yale street for $6,200.

Eggleston, Mallette & Brownell have sold through their manager, M. H. Williamson, 100x148 feet on 77th street and Goldsmith avenue in Auburn Park, to B. P. Randel at $85 per foot. Mr. Randel is now erecting on this property two detached residences of pressed brick with stone trimmings to cost $20,000 each. The buildings will contain all the latest improvements and are being erected by Mr. Randel as an investment.

The premises No. 4400 Berkley avenne have been sold by W. H. Cairnduff for L. H. McCormick to Mrs. Nassaner for $12,000. The property is improved with twelve-room stone and brick residence of modern designs. The improvements are considered very valuable, which largely accounts for the price paid.

E. T. Paul & Co. have six fine residences under way to cost from $2,000 to $4,000 each, in their Park addition to Evanston. These houses are all sold, having been built to order for their customers. The property has all modern improvements, water, sewer, etc., and free mail delivery has been established. This firm reports a big demand for Evanston proyerty during the past week. Their subdivision was put on the market only late last fall and is now more than half sold.

SKIN GAMES VS. MEDIUMS OF MERIT.

It has come to pass at this late day that a long suffering public is compelled to grant recognition to well established newspapers at the expense of humbugs and shallow schemes. "A thing of merit which we must have," some say, "must stand alone, because we have been skined so often by pretenders and humbugs." A medium of merit must therefore, to some extent, atone for the sins of others. This at least has been the cry by those advertisers who always patronize a "newthing" simply because it is new. All the sins of dishonest advertising solicitors are charged up to the publishers good, bad and indifferent alike. If well established real estate agents are sometimes compelled to divide commissions with so-called curbstone brokers, the publishers of legitimate newspapers are often compelled to pay commissions on bad orders or get the business themselves and then pay commissions to lazy solicitors who "hang on" for the purpose of beating both the publisher and the customer. A short time ago it was said that an impudent advertising solicitor who had some months previously taken a small order for a short length of time for one of the Chicago Dailies put in a claim for business taken by some one else of the same advertiser who had paid his first order and discontinued for a long time. As soon as the manager heard of the attempt of the cheeky pirate to get a living without work at the expense of some one else, he sent for and paid him his just dues, not including, of course, the commissions last claimed, and kicked him out of the office and into the street. To boil it down, the curbstone broker is an angel compared to an advertising solicitor who gets money in advance of his employer on various pretexts, and then, like any other thief, trumps up commissions that do not belong to him as an offset.

Publishers have come to the conclusion that the commission business is a snare by which advertisers, as well as themselves, are fleeced out of large amounts of money; and are now generally paying a stated salary as in other departments of their business. Simultaneously with this late discovery on the part of newspaper publishers the legitimate advertisers among business men have discovered that it is just and proper to discriminate in favor of well known established Journals and to steer clear of all fakes and fakirs. At the Publishers banquet announced to take place at the Leland hotel this month, this very subject will probably be discussed.

LOUISVILLE REAL ESTATE EXCHANGE.

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 27, 1892.

Editor REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING JOURNAL:

At a meeting called by a Committee who recommended the formation of an exchange for this city at 3 p. m., Friday, Feb. 26th., in the Commercial Club room, there were fifty-four firms and companies represented out of a total of sixty in this city, in fact, all but one respectable firm being present. So our exchange is assured. We appointed committees on permanent organization, on constitution and by laws; one on the extention of the city limits; one to confer with the State Board of Equalization for reduction in state assessments in this city on the same basis as the balance of the state. All committees to report at 3 p. m. Friday, March 4th. S. S. Meddis was chosen president and W. L. Haworth secretary.

I thank you for the copies of the constitutions and by laws of the Chicago Real Estate Exchange and Board received yesterday.

Yours truly, W. L. HAWORTH.

OUR REAL ESTATE BOARD.

The regular monthiy meeting of the Chicago Real Estate Board was held at three o'clock last Wednesday. President Dreyer was absent on other duties of a public nature. The question advertised for discussion was not taken up, but a paper from Mr. B. A. Ulrich on "Reform in City Government." was read and referred to the assistant secretary to be filed. After the reading of the minutes by the secretary and their approval a couple of resolutions were offered; one to reduce the membership of associate members and the other restricting the rights of members to belong to any other real estate organization in the city, neither of which were acted upon. They will come up for consideration at the next monthly meeting, when it is hoped that a larger number of members will be present.

DEVELOPERS AND BUILDERS.

Real estate agents and dealers are the developers of a country and builders of cities It is through their agency that the advantages of a country or a city are brought to the attention of the world It is the gathering of people together that gives value to a particular part of the earth's surface. It is the people who convert wealth into riches; and it is the real estate agent who brings people to a city or country.

By the manner in which the arrangements for the meeting of the National Real Estate Association were managed we have the proof that we have an unusnally live, progressive and intelligent class of real estate agents in Nashville. Our agents were complimented by our visitors as intelligent and progressive. Nashville owes them thanks for the manner in which they handled and managed this meeting. The benefits to Nashville are incalculable and continuing. By this meeting Nashville has gotten an advertisement that she could not have gotten by the expenditure of thousands of dollars —Nashville American.

Edgemoor is one half mile square and includes 160 acres of the beautiful ridge property in the southwest part of the city, with an east frontage on Western ave., and a north frontage on 79th st. The Chicago Central, the Northern Pacific's new suburban road, runs directly through the center of the property with a depot at 81st st.

On this road will be inaugurated, within 90 days, the most complete train service as to elaborateness of equipment and quick running time, given on any suburban road in the city. The scheduled time from Edgemoor to the Grand Central depot will be 22 minutes, The south 80 acres of Edgemoor will be improved in a high class manner the coming season, the improvements to include water and sewer, macadam streets, ranite cement walks six feet wide, combination curb and gutter also of granite cement and a double row of trees. A special form of warranty deed has been prepared which establishes a 20 foot building line, a $3,000 building restriction, and also prohibits factories of all kinds and the use of buildings for saloon purposes. Contracts for the grading and sidewalk and curb and gutter work have already been let. The work will be begun soon as the ground is in condition in the spring and all of the improvements will be pushed to completion as rapidly as possible. The contract for the side-walk and curb and gutter work on the 80 acres has been let to The Northwestern Asphalt Co. the cost being $50,000. Several houses will be built and occupied by June 15th. We are prepared to offer special inducements to individual investors and syndicates who will take a five acre block interest in the property. LIBERAL COMMISSIONS PAID TO BROKERS AND AGENTS.

In the Sheridan Drive Subdivision it is expected that the sewers will be clean at all times. This result will be due partly to the land being high so that the sewers have a good fall; partly to many of the sewers being designed to carry house drainage only, and partly to flushing tanks to be placed at the upper ends of all sewers by which they will be flushed automatically every day. It is the aim in this Subdivision to have everything sweet, clean and healthful as well as artistic.

INDUSTRIAL DEPARTMENT.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Company's 6,150 miles of road traverses a vast territory, rich in all the resources that insure industrial success.

The Industrial Department is conversant with the Iron, Coal, Lumber and Tanbark, the Water-Power (both river and artesian) for factory and electric power purposes, the markets, the transportation and financial facilities, and other interests on the line pertaining to industrial development, and disseminates information concerning same.

A number of new factories has been induced to locate—largely through the instrumentality of this Company—at enterprising towns on its lines.

As the interest of the Company is to secure the location of industries at places where the surroundings will insure their permanent success, the information furnished a particular industry is pertinent and reliable.

In the Eastern States and in other parts of the world factories are so congested and distant from the actual markets as to result in fierce and destructive competition. That the West is taking a place as one of the great manufacturing territories of the world is forcibly impressing itself upon discerning and enterprising manufacturers. Steps should be taken by such while the field is as yet not fully covered, and while inducements are still being offered, to locate in the West.

Individuals or companies wishing to embark capital in Western industry can find a profitable field.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

Sterling exchange remains close to the exporting point; gold is going out and more is engaged to follow. The purchase of American securities by European holders has fallen off temporarily, and the balance of trade remains in favor of this country.

The investment of part of their surplus funds by wealthy Americans in foreign stocks, must necessarily tend to the further internationalizing of capital. Great Britain owes a great share of her wealth and financial influence to the fact that her merchants are closely connected with great enterprises all over the world. Germany has of late years followed the same course, and with highly satisfactory results. And it now looks as if the United States was about to similarly branch out. This will doubtlessly result, at least for a time, in the diversion of much money from this country, while the situation still admits of its profitable employment. Yet there are, as we have indicated, some compensating considerations. That the United States should become a receiver of taxes from, instead of a payer of taxes to other nations, must in time add to her position as one of the great financial arbiters of the world's industrial movements.

The situation created by the agitation in this country over silver is being closely followed abroad. Some rapid developments may be soon expected. That the Bland measure should be ordered up for consideration by Congress, by a majority of 190 to 84, is a grave fact however we construe it. Mr. Foster is on his way back to this country. His stay in England was brief, but he succeeded in crowding into it two interviews with the British Chancellor of the Exchequer. It is no secret that the main subject of conversation between the two men was silver. The fact is, silver is affecting the finances of the United States materially, and something like a definite decision must be arrived at.

Money continues easy, but is clearly in greater request at the leading eastern centers. According to the last statement of the New York Banks, the total of deposits was $533,578,000, an increase of nearly $1,640,000. Per contra, the loans increased by no less than $7,795,000. The meaning of these figures was clearly shown in last week's issue. The increase in loans was all the more satisfactory as the week covered was not one of special activity on Wall street. An increase in the reserves enables speculators to carry their purchases at small charge, but all excess of idle money beyond the requirements of safety, is so much loss to the country, and indicates slow and unprofitable trading.

Wall street continues to be neglected, and prices have in most instances receded. This is specially the case with the "coalers" and combination lines. Prices were rapidly advanced, but when insiders sought to secure profits, the props were taken away and concessions of several points had to be made. Delaware and Lackawana has acted similarly. The sensation of the week was New England, but the boom was short lived. There is some talk of a suit to dissolve the National Cordage trust. The property sold down sharply on the rumor. The bond market is firm, and the volume of trading good.

Despite the fact of overproduction of cotton during the past two years, there is some fear that it is to be once more over done. New land is constantly being cleared along the lower Mississippi and in Texas, and much of this is being planted in cotton. It has long been agreed by the planters, that if the price of cotton is to be maintained, there must be less of it. But such is the perverse reasoning and action of man, that not a few planters have positively increased their acreage, on the ground that as cotton is now on a non-paying basis, the majority will reduce their dependency upon it, and so furnish a special opportunity for those who act in a directly opposite manner. If any large number of planters reason and act in this fashion, it is safe to say that the coming crop will, providing a favorable season, be greater than ever. The only sound policy for the individual planter to pursue, is not to place his whole trust in a single crop, but to diversify his enterprise as much as possible. By this means, a fair average return is assured, so far as human intelligence can provide. To diversify its crops is also, emphatically, the right policy for the south to pursue.

Despite the general unsatisfactory condition of all allied cotton industries, there is just now great activity in adding to the number of spindles in the leading spinning districts of Lancanshire, England. So much so, that one prominent expert comes out with the assurance that Lancanshire spinners will soon be needing all the cotton they can get. The impetus is credited to the existing cheapness of cotton, which has enabled manufacturers and merchants to open out new markets. This is in line with a well known economic law, yet the fact of over production of cotton appears to be too serious for the southern planter to ignore.

From recent cables, it would appear that there are some prospects of arranging preliminaries for a reciprocity treaty between the United States and France. The word "reciprocity" has many meanings, and further details are necessary before anyone can form an opinion as to the extent of the proposed treaty.

Bullion at the Bank of England has increased £313,000, and the proportion of reserves to liabilities, which was last week 42.69 per cent, is now 44.50 per cent. The Bank of France shows the following decreases: in gold, 350,000 francs; in silver, 1,400,000 francs. The weekly statement of the Imperial Bank of Germany exhibits a decrease of 4,580,000 marks.

The following are the bank clearings at Chicago for the week.

†Not included in totals.

The increase of 17.4 per cent in New York clearings, as compared with the gain of 44 8 per cent reported last week, and the very handsome gains previously reported, is remarkable, and indicates a sharp decline for the week in the volume of New York clearings. Chicago, on the other hand, holds her own with an increase of 20.3 per cent, and still claims second place over Boston, whose gain of only 6 per cent would indicate that the strife between Boston and Chicago is practically settled in favor of the latter city. Philadelphia shows the creditable gain of 20.1 per cent, but her total of clearings falls over fifteen millions below that of Chicago and twelve millions below Boston, so that she can no longer be regarded as a competitor of either of those cities.

The largest percentage of increase attributed to any one city is that of Los Angeles, 80.8; then follows Memphis with 58.4 per cent; Duluth, 55.6; Minneapolis, 43.5; Lincoln, 35.8; Cincinnati, 33; Omaha, 32.2.

Nineteen cities return figures which indicate decreasing percentages. Of these Ft. Worth heads the list, with a decrease of 34.4, followed by Birmingham with 24.2, Seattle with 22.6, Norfolk with 14, and Portland, Me., and Worcester, each with 10 per cent decrease. The other instances of decreased returns are trifling, and bear no comparison to the increase. The total increase for the United States is 14.5 per cent, and for all the cities, except New York, is 10.2 per cent. This in comparison with previous weeks is not a large increase.

The week ending March 3, shows totals very much larger than those of the previous week, but this is to be accounted for from the fact that the previous week contained a holiday. While the volume of business transacted in the long run may not be seriously affected by an occasional holiday, yet we notice that in the case of New York City the returns for the week of February 22, fell nearly eighty millions of dollars short of those for the week following and were 247 millions less than those for the preceeding week.

The knowledge of this fact may prove valuable as affording a side light on the influence of holidays on financial and industrial matters generally. In Illinois, two days during the short month of February were observed as holidays—Lincoln's birthday and Washington's birthday. It would be interesting to learn the opinion of prominent financiers on the policy of thus blocking the wheels of business with holidays.

An analysis of the situation by groups of States (comprising 52 cities) gives the following:

	WEEK ENDING MAR. 4, 1892.	WEEK ENDING MAR. 5, 1891.	PERCENTAGE.
New Engl'd States.	$104,796,721	$104,456,489	Inc N'm
Middle "	826,227,125	711,363,444	" 16.
Western "	41,054,090	35,268,176	Inc 16.
Northwestern "	125,557,847	102,950,603	" 21.5
Southwestern "	39,183,921	36,705,809	" 6.6
Far Western "	23,598,923	27,576,556	Dec 17.
Totals,	$ 1,194,600,110	$1,057,478,112

The decline in the Far Western group of 17 per cent is the most noticeable feature of the above summary. This group includes San Francisco, Denver and Los Angeles and Tacoma. The percentage of increase at Los Angeles is remarkable, but the decline at San Francisco and Tacoma is enough to account for the loss in the entire group.

The Southern group also shows a decrease. This group includes Baltimore and New Orleans. Both of these centers hold their own. The decrease is in the minor cities. The notable increase of 21.5 per cent is in the Northwestern group, which includes Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth and Omaha. All the other groups show fair increases, though that of the New England group is merely nominal.

LOCAL STOCK EXCHANGE.

There is a marked tendency toward increased trading in the industrials. This may be a mere transitory feature, but still there are not lacking indications that these securities are coming into increased favor, by reason of the handsome dividends that some of them distribute. As capital increases, this tendency may be expected to increase. Meanwhile, the cables are being taken largely out of the list of speculative properties, holders being evidently disposed to stand by them as they would by bonds, or other high-class securities.

North Side cable has, during the week, ranged from 182 to 183, for regular. The highest price was paid at the close on Thursday. The daily trade has been limited to a few hundred shares, and sometimes even less. The range in West Side cable has been even more restricted, being from 134⅜ to 135, regular. The movement has been steadily upward, but at the same time of an extremely conservative character, as the gain of ⅜, spread over a week, sufficiently shows. On the whole, this property has attracted more trading than the sister line. But the trading has been mainly for the account and has, probably with reason, been referred to short sellers.

A few shares of City Railway were disposed of last Saturday at 323½. Since then nothing has transpired, but on Thursday 323 was bid, and 323¾ asked.

Street's Stable Car line after selling at 36¾, on Saturday last, went up to 38¼ on Tuesday, and hung steadily around that figure during the day, as also the day succeeding. On Thursday it headed downward, going as low as 36½, closing at 37, regular. Over 2,000 shares changing hands. Trading was largely in lots of one hundred, and was mostly regular. It is said that insiders were unloading, but the appearances rather favor the idea that short lines were being put out.

Arc Light and Power has taken on a firmer aspect, going as it does at 90. The number of shares exchanged has not been large, but the property is growing in favor.

Diamond Match selling at 140, ex dividend.

American Strawboard weak, the close being at 86, regular.

Calumet and Chicago Canal and Dock has advanced 2 points on the week. The highest point was made Wednesday, when 81 was touched. But the close, Thursday, was 80½, regular. Trading in this property has been well sustained. The liveliest day was Wednesday, when upward of 2,100 shares changed hands, including one lot of 300, regular. It is said that a sale of nearly $100,000 has been recently effected and that more of the preferred stock is to be shortly retired.

Brewing and Malting is rather off, the close, Thursday, being at 32¼, for common stock. The last sale of preferred stock was at 41¾.

Packing and Provision remains steady, with the common stock at about 53; and prefered stock at 49.

The Bond market exhibits no special features. Gas Light and Coke 5s., ranged from 88½ to 89, with 88¾ closing. Average daily sales only a few thousands. Consumers gas 5s., entirely neglected. $10,000 of West Chicago 1st mortgage 5s. sold, Wednesday, at 101¼, being the price paid earlier in the week for $19,000.

Among the deals of the week the following is referred to: Atlas National Bank, at 116, and selling subsequently (50 shares), at 115½. Chicago Telephone at 226. Central Union Telephone, at 56. Linseed oil, down from 32 to 30. New York Biscuit, 65⅜ to 66. National Panorama, at 20. Western Stone 5s., at 94. Central Safe Deposit 5s., at 101. And Chicago Auditorium Assn., at 45.

THE REAL ESTATE MARKET.

SIGNS OF IMPROVEMENT IN THE GENERAL SITUATION—SOME DEMAND FOR ACRES PURCHASE AND IMPROVEMENT OF A WEST SIDE CORNER. SALE OF 313 ACRES AT $1,200 PER ACRE.

The real estate situation becomes more interesting as the season advances. In fact, it seems that the only element necessary to at least a fairly active market is favorable conditions of the weather. Some of the many important transactions which have been in negotiation for months have materialized and the rank and file of local real estate agents are inclined to take a somewhat more cheerful view of affairs. The business of the week has extended over a much wider range than has been covered recently by the market. Sales of business property for immediate improvement which have of late monopolized the attention of dealers, share honors with large acre deals.

An acre deal amounting to $100,000 has just been closed by E. S. Dreyer & Co. It is of interest, not so much on account of its size, as of the fact that acre deals have been the exception rather than the rule for some months. The land consists of a quarter section in the town of Lyons, two miles southeast of La Grange and the same distance west of the Stickney tract. The purchaser is Robert Seyd of New York. Possibly the most notable transaction of the week in city property was the sale of the triangular lot at the southwest corner of Blue Island avenue and Harrison street. This corner, with a Blue Island frontage of 125 feet and a Harrison street frontage of 144 feet. was sold for the estate of Thomas Murphy to L C. Huck and A. N. Yonng for $117,600. The lot is irregular in shape, being 144x125x120x43 feet. It has an area of 10,080 square feet. The square foot price is consequently about $11.75. This is the highest price paid for similarly situated property on the West side. The corner is brought into prominence by promised street railway developments. Three streets intersecting at the point of the triangle now have street car lines. Two of these streets are to be cabled. The purchasers will erect a six or seven story store and office building on the corner just purchased at a cost of $200,000. The sale of the land was made through the agency of T. G. Dickinson & Company.

A series of negotiations which were included in the decision made by the Lincoln Park Commissioners and the North side property owners for the extension southward of the Lake Shore Drive, were incorporated in the records in the form of a transfer made last week. The Pine Street Land Association has been formed with a capital stock of $550,000 to secure control of the property lying between Pearson street and Bellevue place, east of Pine street. This company will fill in the submerged land between the present shore line and the line of the projected Lake Shore Drive, 800 feet from the shore. This land is to be made into a choice residence subdivision and will be improved as such. The Association is headed by H. M. Cooper.

The Rock Island R. R. has just purchased a thirty acre tract at Blue Island lying between 123rd and 125th streets and between the main and dummy lines of the railroad. The land was sold for the Krueger Estate at the rate of $1150 per acre. This purchase is supplementary to a purchase made last summer of the land directly adjoining it on the south. The company now owns the wedge-shaped eighty acre tract lying between the railroad "Y" and 131st street.

From all appearances it seems that the business of selling real estate at auction is to be given a fair trial in the city of Chicago. All the preliminary arrangements for an auction room devoted exclusively to the sale of realty have been made by the Chicago Real Estate Exchange. The auctioneer's privilege was sold, after some lively bidding, for $2220. This privilege was secured by Roy & Nourse and W. G. Garvey & Co. Although the sale of property at auction has never been favorably received in Chicago, the present attempt to establish an auction exchange is made under favorable auspices. All the parties interested predict success for the new venture, and the Exchange has already listed a great deal of property to be offered for sale. The first auction is to be held about the fifteenth of the month. Whether the young real estate organization will prove more successful in this line than older kindred associations, is a question that will only be decided by the outcome of the present venture. Just why the sale of real estate at auction has never been popularized in this city is a question to which no satisfactory answer has been given. The majority of sales in New York are reported from the auction rooms and in almost all Eastern cities the practice prevails. There is certainly as much demand here for some method of developing real estate into what might be termed a quick asset.

The matters in dispute between the Chicago City Railway company and the West Division company were settled satisfactorily to both parties this week, and the question of rapid transit and improved street railway service is simplified by just so much. The South side company by the terms of the agreement secures necessary facilities and opportunity to construct a Michigan avenue loop, while the West Division company secures the right to extend its present loop east to State street and to construct an exclusive loop line on Dearborn street for the Van Buren cable line. The short track between the Western Indiana and the Northwestern depots, owned by the North Chicago Street Railway company is to be used in a test of the Judson compressed Air Motor.

IMPORTANT "L" RAILWAY PROJECT FOR WEST SIDE.

An event of the week which may or may not prove to be of importance was the organization of the Metropolitan Elevated Railway company. This company has been incorporated with a capital stock of $15,000,000, for the purpose of building a West side elevated line. The incorporators are not interested in the building of the Alley "L" road. This fact and the policy in regard to securing right of way which has been announced, suggests the idea that there is an intimate relation between the two companies, if, in fact, they are not identical. The company will acquire its own right of way, and not build over the streets of the city. The proposed line will be from some point on 5th avenue west over a double decked bridge at Van Buren street, or just south of that street and west alongside of the alley between Congress and Van Buren street to the city limits. A spur to the south will leave the main track at Ogden avenue and run parallel with this thoroughfare to 20th street and thence west to the city limits. A corresponding northern spur will leave the main track west of Paulina street and run north to Milwaukee avenue and parallel with that street northwest to the Jefferson town line. The promoters of the line claim that it will be cheaper in the end to purchase the necessary property along this route, and within a short time an ordinance will be presented the council in the interest of the new company for a franchise.

The lease of the northwest corner of Wabash avenue and Twelfth street which has just been made, will involve the erection of a high class seven-story building, at an expense of over $100,000. The corner has been leased from Walter L. Peck to Frank M. Stringfield for a term of ninety-nine years. The lot has a frontage of about fifty feet on Wabash avenue and 100 feet on Twelfth street. The annual rental is $6000 or 6 per cent on a land valuation of $100.000. This is equivalent to $2000 a front foot for the Wabash avenue frontage or $20 a square foot. The north half of this lot was purchased a year ago by Mr. Peck from Mrs. Fannie Rosenfels for $36,000. This price of $1500 a front foot was then considered exceptional.

OLD AND NEW REAL ESTATE METHODS.

In the organization of the National Real Estate Congress, the fact was recognized that real estate business as a science dates back but a short time. Up to within a very few years ago, the opportunities presented for investments in real estate within the reach of men of moderate means were exceptional. There were increases in values as towns grew in population and importance, and the accident of possession was responsible for more fortunes than could be attributed to the actual design or judgment of investors. Real estate business is no longer a haphazard science. It now requires excellent judgment in selection, energy in overcoming obstacles, unity of purpose in securing improvements and liberal ideas as to outlay for transportation facilities and improvements of all kinds. There are two styles of real estate operations. One followed by the Astors in New York, is in building near the center of a city and buying property on the outer edges and holding it indefinitely. The other includes the actual development of suburban towns and outlying districts by locating industries, making improvements, securing railway and street car facilities, and so attracting a population. The old style was satisfactory for men of immense fortunes, who could afford to wait for the advance that was certain to follow in time. The modern idea of buying cheap lands with possibilities of development, brings the possession of homes and small investments to the reach of the great masses who would not be able to make purchases under the old system. In the old system, too, the owner did nothing but wait. He would spend nothing on non-income paying property. He wanted improvements to be pushed upon him, rather than to encourage such improvements. The very success of the more modern system, makes it absolutely necessary that the property owner shall have advanced ideas in regard to making liberal outlays for improvement. The development of Chicago is one of the best specimens of the modern system of real estate operations that can be cited. Suburban towns have sprung up on all sides of the city by the efforts of real estate men, and a belt of semi-dependent industrial towns is being extended in a circle with a somewhat wider radius. Whether this system of development is being overdone is a question on which there are a great many opinions expressed. The county records certainly show that too many sub-divisions have been opened within the last three years. The future of some of the mushroom manufacturing towns, so called, may prove that even this line of real estate development is being overstimulated. One thing is certain, the special assessments which are made by development of outlying property are becoming oppressive. In many cases assessments have been made for sewers and water pipes in sections where there is not a single house at the present time. These assessments are of such a size that they become burdensome to property owners who are called upon to meet the expense. It may be good business policy for the owner of a subdivision to advance the necessary funds to transform a section of bare prairie into a subdivision "with macadamized streets, water pipes and sewers," but the owners of property adjoining, who are not in the market, and who are possibly straining every effort to meet their payments of purchase money, do not view it in the same light.

313 ACRES SOLD FOR $376,500.

THE OLD RUMSEY TRACT BOUGHT BY NON RESIDENTS.

A tract of land in the town of Worth just south of the Lake township line in the east half of section three, consisting of 313.75 acres, has been sold at $1200 per acre to non-residents. This land is crossed by the Wabash Railroad and the deal is in line with other transactions that will soon be made known. At the request of a gentleman in E. S. Dreyer & Co.'s bank, the JOURNAL discloses no further particulars other than the fact that the financial arrangements in the transaction are known and understood by the officials in the above bank.

The tract sold includes all of the east half of section 3 in the town of Worth except 6¼ acres belonging to the right of way of the Wabash Railroad. The property was bought by a Chicago Syndicate about a year ago and the title was placed in the Title Guarantee & Trust company. Negotiations for the sale have been in progress for some time but members of the syndicate could not agree on the price. At length $1200 an acre was offered and accepted and the deal was closed at that figure.

The price named is regarded as very low. It is understood that the purchase was made for investment, and, viewed in this light, it is likely to be very profitable. Conservative brokers predict that within a year the property will be worth $2,000 an acre. A rapid advance in prices is indicated by recent purchases along the Wabash and the Calumet Terminal. Only a few months ago, the Chicago Ridge property at the junction of these two roads was subdivided and placed on the market. Just north of the present purchase is the Stickney tract. Less than half a mile east is the Grand Trunk Railroad. The entire territory is rapidly filling up with manufacturing and railroad interests.

THE CHICAGO REAL ESTATE BOARD.

REAL ESTATE BOARD BUILDING.

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE CHICAGO REAL ESTATE BOARD:

Your attention is respectfully called to the fact that a resolution was passed at the late meeting of the National Real Estate Association, held at Nashville, to the effect that any member of a regularly organized body for the purpose of dealing in real estate, is eligible to membership in the National Association upon the payment of annual dues, three dollars, to M. M. Kline, Secretary, Nashville, Tenn., the application and first payment of dues to be made before March 19th, 1892.

A number of our members have already done this, but it seems to me desirable that every member of our board should join the National Association, and to this end I would earnestly request that all read the report of the first meeting, as contained in the REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING JOURNAL of the issue of February 27th last, which will assist you in forming an idea of the objects and aims of the Association.

To facilitate matters, and if desired, I will take pleasure in receiving the fees and in forwarding them to the Secretary and obtaining proper receipts.

Respectfully,
E. S. DREYER, President.

ANOTHER "L" ROAD ON PAPER.

CAPITALIZED FOR THE MODEST SUM OF $15,000,000.

Why would it not be a good scheme to build at least one elevated road on the West side before projecting any more on paper, said a prominent West sider. Perhaps the Metropolitan Elevated just incorporated for $15,000,000 is going to do this very thing. West siders are sorely in need of something of the kind but they are losing faith in that class of promoters who organize such projects for the purpose of having them adopted by the common-council, who seem to favor impracticable schemes more than they do the genuine article.

One would naturally think that our board of aldermen could find some more reputable thing to do than forming special corporations with promoters and schemers.

Mr. Gurley, the general counsel for the alley "L" road, said recently that the road would be built entirely on property purchased by the company. His experience with the alley "L" road, he added, had convinced him that the vexatious delay of procuring a right of way over streets was ruinous to any undertaking of this magnitude. "The new company," said he, "will buy its right of way except where it is necessary to cross the streets. We will have sufficient capital behind us to build the road. Another thing is that the work will not be begun until all the necessary arrangements are made to meet the cost of construction and equipment. This we are assured of, and if the city council grants a franichise not weighted down with requirements that frighten prospective purchasers of bonds, I believe I can safely say that the West side will have within a reasonable time fifteen miles of elevated road."

When asked if the new line would connect with the alley "L" or co-operate in any way with the road Mr. Gurley said that it would not. Those interested in the new company were convinced that the field was a good one for an elevated road and proposed to enter it.

ALLEY "L" ENGINES ARE COMING.

It is expected that some of the locomotives and passenger coaches of the alley "L" road will soon be shipped to this city. The order for the passenger cars was divided between the Gilbert Car company of Jackson, Mich, and the Jackson & Sharp company of Wimington, Del. The locomotives are being made by the Baldwin Locomotive company, Philadelphia. At least half of the rolling stock will be delivered by April 1, and President Goddard said yesterday that the road would be in operation by May 1.

A GROWING EVIL.

A comparison of various real estate catalogues shows that many pieces of property are placed for sale in the hands of two or more agents, and often at varying prices. This often leads to complications and misunderstandings which are unpleasant to all concerned. With the present facilities for placing property before the people, the services of one agent can really accomplish as much in the direction of securing a transfer as a half-a-dozen. The law dockets of the courts of the State bear evidence that an agent is entitled to full commissions on the sale of property when he accepts the agency with the understanding, either expressed or implied, that he is given sole charge whether the sale be made through his instrumentality or not. The case of Brennan vs Roach, recently decided by the Court of Appeals in favor of the agent who claimed commissions on a sale made by another agent, is a case directly in point. Such cases will continue to increase until agents demand contracts from owners providing for all emergencies. The old Real Estate Exchange endeavored to enforce a rule that no member should accept agency for property while it was on the books of another member. The rule at that time was found to be impracticable, for the reason that there was much less co-operation among agents in making sales than now and, therefore, owners often became dissatisfied with the delay caused by the then existing methods of bringing owner and purchaser into close relation. While there is no exchange now in existence, there is manifest a spirit of active co-operation among all the agents, and a purchaser need not seek many offices before being offered something to suit, however critical he may be.—St. Louis Real Estate Bulletin.

In a suit brought to recover the damages to property, by reason of the construction and operation of an elevated railroad the New York Court of Appeals held:

That the question is what, in fact, has been the actual result upon the land remaining? Has its actual market valus been decreased? The difference between its actual market value and what it would have been worth, but for the railroad, is the amount of damage which the defendants should pay.

That the fact that other property in the vincinity and in the side streets has been increased in value by reasons of the defendants' road is not of the slightest importance in determining whether the plaintiff has been damaged. The plaintiffs are not damaged because their neighbors are benefited. The distinction between special and general benefits is immaterial, and it is not a question of benefits at all, except that proofs of benefits may be one way of showing there has been no injury. This is not offsetting injury against benefits; it is discovering whether in reality there has been any injury to the remaining land.

That property which is worth more than it would have been if the road had not been built is not damaged. The damages, which a plaintiff can recover, must be an actual loss or decrease in value, and not a loss which it is guessed or surmised he would have sustained if it had not been for the benefits to his property from the defendants' road, even although such benefits are enjoyed in common with other property along the line of the road.

TREATIES WITH FOREIGN NATIONS, GOVERNING LAND OWNERSHIP OF ALIENS.

In considering treaty relations on the subject of alien land ownership between the United States and Great Britain it must be borne in mind that the common law usages in both countries are the same. Unless special treaties or statutes governing alien land ownership can be found, the usage must be governed by common law. At common law an alien could purchase property and take possession thereof, but his title was a defeasible one, the king could, by an inquest of escheat, take it from him. Moreover, though he could purchase he could not take by descent. These rules and the discrimination made have been attributed to various causes, but their origin is no doubt traceable to the system of feudal tenures in England. The basis of the feudal tie was allegiance—but the foreigner owed allegiance to another. Therefore, there could be no tenure between him and an Englishman. Why, then, was he allowed to purchase? Legal logic demanded that this conveyance be void. But in that view the title would remain in the grantor, who would also have the purchase price, which could not be recovered back. The title was held to have passed out of the grantor to the alien, in order that the king might afterwards be able to forfeit it. Clearly, then, the common law gave no real property rights to aliens. In the absence of special treaties they could not hold real estate.

The 9th Article of the treaty of 1794 with Great Britain provides that British subjects then holding lands in the territories of the United States may continue to hold them according to the nature and tenure of their respective estates and titles therein; and may grant, sell and devise the same as if they were natives; and that neither they nor their heirs or assigns, shall, so far as may respect the said lands and the legal remedies incident thereto, be regarded as aliens. The Supreme Court of the United States held that this stipulation was within the constitutional powers of the Union. It has, however, been questioned in later times by a Justice of the Supreme Court, whether the General Government, can by treaty control the succession of real estate in a State.

The provisions of the treaties with Great Britain of 1783 and 1794, protected the property of British corporations in this country in the same manner as that of natural persons, but secured only titles then existing.

On a conquest of territory by one nation from another, those of the inhabitants who do not remain and become citizens of the victorious sovereign, but adhere to their old allegiance and continue in the service of their vanquished sovereign, deprive themseves of protection or security to their property, except so far as it may be secured by treaty.

This was said in reference to the treaties of 1762 and 1763 between France and Great Britain ceding Canada to the latter. These treaties provided that the inhabitants who wished to adhere to the vanquished sovereign might sell their property, provided they sold it to certain persons and within a certain time. It was held that the property if not so sold became abandoned to the conqueror.

The Committee on Foreign Relations of the Senate was called upon in 1870 to advise the Department of State as to the propriety of opening negotiations with a foreign power with a view of conferring upon citizens of each the power of holding, disposing of and succeeding to real estate in the territories of the other. After full consideration they advised the negotiation of a treaty for that purpose if possible

We cannot learn, however, that any treaty of this kind has ever been entered into with Great Britain. The situation remains as it was at common law except as it has been modified by statutes of the several States or by Federal statutes. These statutes as we have already seen, have been almost invariably in restriction of alien land ownership rather than in furtherance of it. So that the present status of alien land owners as between the United States and Great Britain, including Canada and the other numerous English dependencies can not be said to have been improved except in the case of special legislation by individual States.

SWEDEN AND DENMARK.

Article VI, of the treaty of 1783 with Sweden provided that the subjects of the contracting parties in the respective States may freely dispose of their goods and effects, either by testament, donation or otherwise, in favor of such persons as they think proper; and their heirs, in whatever place they shall reside, shall receive the succession even without a will, either in person or by their attorney, without having occasion to take out letters of naturalization. These inheritances, as well as the capitals and effects which the subjects of the two parties, in changing their domicile, shall be desirous of removing from the place of their abode, shall be exempted, from all duty called "droit de detraction" on the part of the Government of the two States respectively. But it is at the same time agreed that nothing contained in this article shall in any manner derogate from the ordinances published in Sweden against emigrations, or which may hereafter be published, which shall remain in full force and vigor. The United States, on their part, or any of them, shall be at liberty to make, respecting this matter, such laws as they think proper.

The treaty of 1783 expired by its own limitation fifteen years after the day of its ratification, but the foregoing article governing estates, together with others, was revived by the treaty of 1816, with Sweden and Norway, and was again revived by the treaty of 1827. This article, then, may be regarded as the present stipulation on the subject of alien land ownership between the United States and Sweden and Norway. It will be noticed that the last sentence of the article is a distinct exception in favor of special laws by the United States or any of the States on the subject of inheritances,

We have been unable to find any treaty stipulation on the subject of land ownership between the United States and Denmark or Holland.

The treaty of 1850 with the Swiss Confederation provides that property of any kind may be disposed of by aliens by will or otherwise. In reference to real property Article II of this treaty says:

If by the death of a person owning real property in the territory of one of the high contracting parties such property should descend, either by the laws of the country or by testamentary disposition, to a citizen of the other party, who, on account of his being an alien, could not be permitted to retain the actual possession of such property, a term of not less than three years shall be allowed to him to dispose of such property, and to collect and withdraw the proceeds thereof, without paying to the Government any other charges than those which in a similar case would be paid by an inhabitant of the country in which such real property may be situated. This stipulation is still further ratified by the fifth article of the treaty with Switzerland of 1850, and it has been held that so far as this treaty relates to titles to real estate it is within the treaty making power conferred by the Constitution.

The following provision was inserted in the treaty with Wurttemberg in 1844. That the citizens or subjects of each of the contracting parties shall have power to dispose of their personal property within the States of the other by testament, donation, or otherwise; and their heirs, legatees and donees, being citizens or subjects of the other contracting party, shall succeed to their said personal property, and may take possession thereof either by themselves or by others acting for them, and dispose of the same at their pleasure, paying such duties only as the inhabiants of the country where said property lies shall be liable to pay in like cases.

It was held that this article does not apply to the case of a citizen of the United States dying at home and disposing of property there in favor of subjects of the King of Wurttemberg; and consequently that a tax of ten per cent on the legacies, which tax was claimed by Louisiana, was not in conflict with the treaty. The Court in rendering the decision intimated that the Government of the United States is incompetent to regulate testamentary disposition or laws of inheritance of foreigners, in reference to property within the States.

The occasion of the controversy was the fact that the laws of Louisiana impose a tax of ten per cent on the value of all property inherited in that State by any person not domiciled there, and not being a citizen of any State or Territory of the United States. But the treaty of 1853 with France provides that in all the States of the Union whose existing laws permit it, so long and to the same extent as the said laws shall remain in force, Frenchmen shall enjoy the right of possessing personal and real property by the same title and in the same manner as the citizens of the United States; that they shall be free to dispose of it as they wish, either gratuitously or for value received, by donation, testament or otherwise, just as those citizens themselves; and in no case shall they be subjected to taxes on transfer, inheritance, or any others, different from those paid by citizens, or to any taxes which shall not be equally imposed.

The law of Louisiana, then, imposing a tax of ten per cent on the inheritances of aliens, was clearly in conflict with the treaty. But the court held that the tax accrued on the estate of a person who died in 1548 was not effected by the treaty, it having vested in the State. A treaty, subsequently made, could not divest rights of property already vested in the State, even if the words of the treaty had imparted such an intention; furthermore, the obligation of the treaty and its operation in the State depend upon the laws of that State. The treaty does not claim for the United States the right of controlling the succession of real and personal property in a State.

This decision appears to be in line with the last sentence of the treaty with Sweden and Norway heretofore referred to, which says that the United States, or any of them, shall be at liberty to make respecting this matter such laws as they think proper. Both these cases clearly indicate that the treaty power with respect to lands is to be strictly subdorinate to the State laws.

The treaty of 1871 with the German Empire, by implication, allows consuls of either country to own property in the other, subject to the same taxes only as are levied on the property of citizens.

The states of Bremen, Hamburg and Lubeck are the leading Hanseatic republics, having been free and independent states since the middle ages. These three states have a distinct and separate treaty with the United States, known as the treaty of 1827. Article VII of this treaty provides that, if, in the case of real estate, the said heirs would be prevented from entering into the possession of the inheritance on account of their character of aliens, there shall be granted to them the term of three years to dispose of the same, as they may think proper, and to withdraw the proceeds without molestation, and exempt from all duties of detraction on the part of the Government of the respective States.

Article VIII further specifies that both of the contracting parties promise, and engage formally, to give their special protection to the persons and property of each other, of all occupations, who may be in the territories subject to the jurisdiction of the one or the other, transient or dwelling therein, leaving open and free to them the tribunals of justice for their judicial recourse, on the same terms which are usual and customary with the natives or citizens of the country in which they may be; for which they may employ, in defense of their rights, such advocates, solicitors, notaries, agents and factors as they may judge proper, in all their trials at law; and such citizens or agents shall have as free opportunity as native citizens to be present at the decisions and sentences of the tribunals, in all cases which may concern them, and likewise at the taking of all examinations and evidences which may be exhibited in the said trial.

The treaty of 1844 with the Grand Duchy of Hesse contains a similar stipulation.

"Where on the death of any person holding real property within the territories of one party, such real property would by the laws of the land, descend on a subject or citizen of the other, were he not disqualified by alienage, such citizen or subject shall be allowed a term of two years to sell the same, which term may be reasonably prolonged, according to circumstances, and to withdraw the proceeds thereof, without molestation, and exempt from all duties of detraction on the part of the Government of the respective States."

In 1846 a treaty was concluded with Hanover. In 1866 Hanover was conquered and incorpated into the Kingdom of Prussia. This event terminated the treaty. But in 1845 the Grand Duke of Mecklenburg-Schwerin signified his desire to accede to the provisions of the Hanover treaty, and, accordingly, the treaty was extended to include Meckleburg-Schwerin.

The tenth article of this treaty contains the following:

"Where on the decease of any person holding real estate within the territories of one party, such real estate would by the laws of the land, descend on a citizen or subject of the other, were he not disqualified by alienage, such citizen or subject shall be allowed a reasonable time to sell the same, and to withdraw the proceeds without molestation, and exempt from all duties of detraction on the part of the Government of the respective states. The Duchy of Oldenburg also acceded to the provision of this treaty in the same year.

The treaty of 1828 with Prussia provides that where, on the death of any person holding real estate within the territorries of the one party, such real estate would, by the laws of the land, descend on a citizen or subject of the other, were he not disqualified by alienage, such citizen or subject shall be allowed a reasonable time to sell the same and to withdraw the proceeds without molestation and without duties of detraction.

In this connection the recent decision of the Supreme Court of South Dakota, rendered March 2, will be of interest.

One of the locators of an unpatented mining claim, legally located by citizens of the United States in 1877, conveyed his interest in said claim in 1883 to an alien, who, in 1887, prior to the relocation of such claim by the defendant, conveyed the same to the plaintiff, a corporation qualified to locate, hold and purchase mineral lands of the United States.

It was held that such alien under the laws of the Dakota Territory then in force, which provided that any person, whether a citizen or an alien may take hold and dispose of property, real or personal, within said Territory, could and did as against everybody but the holder of the paramount title by such conveyance acquire and hold the title of such locator acquired by him by such location under the laws of the United States, and had the right to convey the same as against all persons except the holder of the paramount title. It was held further that a conclusion of law by the trial court, that such a conveyance from said locator to such an alien was in effect abandonment of the claim, and that such claim, therefore became part of the public domain of the United States and was subject to relocation by any qualified person, was eroneous.

REAL ESTATE ASSOCIATIONS.

HOW TO MAKE THEM PROFITABLE.

One of the most valuable features of real estate boards and real estate exchanges has scarcely yet been discussed. As uniformity is the life of discipline, and co-operation the mainstay of any body of men engaged in a common cause or a great enterprise, so a common purpose and the common good of all its members are indispensible in all real estate associations. How to secure these requisites is the purpose of this article to show.

The real estate business is becoming more and more complicated, not only on account of confused titles, but largely on account of the new features introduced. Ninety-nine year leases present many questions of interest for investors to study. The laws governing land ownership of aliens, and the treaties between the United States and foreign countries bearing on the subject, command careful attention. The long list of dower claims in almost every estate, further complicate titles. A real estate association, or a real estate board, with the assistance of a good lawyer, could easily keep a dower book, and besides preserve all newspaper articles, court decisions, and other data bearing on these important subjects. All real estate exchanges and boards, so far as heard from, are now filing the REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING JOURNAL, which contains about all there is worth knowing on these and kindred subjects. Other subjects of importance to every real estate man can be found in back numbers. Usury legislation, policy of different States, laws bearing on landlord and tenant, drainage commissioners, highway commissioners, etc.,can all be found in the back numbers of this Journal. Articles by experts on financial subjects have been presented from time to time; (e. g.), Periodicity of Crises, Recurrence of Crises, and the history of the Barings. The very fact that many of the ablest lawyers in the United States are now subscribers, is sufficient guaranty of its usefulness to real estate boards and exchanges.

RESOURCES OF TENNESSEE.

NASHVILLE, TENN., March 9, '92.

To the REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING JOURNAL:

Until the last decade, the industrial conditions in the south were not promising. The southern people had no easy task in adjusting themselves to the new conditions produced by the results of the civil war. The reconstruction methods retarded their adaptation of themselves to the changed conditions. As shown by the war, the southern people had an abundance of energy and courage. No country was ever more blessed with natural resources. But the south had no capital. Our population was so sparse, and the physical conditions so favorable, that we soon got to making abundant crops, the surplus of which bought what we needed that we did not produce. The tendency was to lapse into the traditional southern indolent life. But in the course of time, the politicians of both sections were no longer able for selfish purposes to keep alive the sectional hate, which had been engendered more by reconstruction than by the war, and with the death of sectional strife, northern men began to visit the south. On these visits they discovered our great natural resources and vast area of fertile lands, our unlimited coal fields close beside vast deposits of high grade ores; our extensive forests of pine, cypress, walnut, poplar and oak, with water power ample to turn all the machinery necessary to working up the raw material. This mass of resource was untouched. It slept, awaiting the coming of capital. About fifteen years ago northern capital began to flow south, induced by the prospects of great profit in its use, in utilizing and developing these resources.

This coming of capital aroused southern energy and enterprise from the sleep into which it was falling. The result is, that in the decade between 1880 and 1890, the south has exceeded in material progress any other section of the country. The statistics will verify this assertion.

There is a section of Tennessee known as the "Middle Tennessee Iron Belt" that is practically unknown to northern capital. To-day in this belt lie asleep resources of iron and timber now unequaled in any new field of the United States. It is somewhat off the line of travel and has been passed unnoticed. The iron ores are being moved to some extent and shipped to Birmingham and Bessemer. A few small charcoal furnaces are scattered over this belt, but its resources are practically untouched.

The poplar and oak timber of this belt to be worked up by machinery run by its great water power is worth millions. Out door work can be done 300 days in the year. The water power is never interfered with by freezing. This belt lies across the state of Tennessee west of Nashville—its eastern boundary coming within twenty miles of Nashville and its western boundary being the Tennessee river On the south it is boundedby the Alabama coal fields, and on the north by the Kentucky coal fields. Thus the coal for coke is convenient; and this belt is almost entirely virgin forests—affording wood or coal sufficient to operate the furnaces for years to come. This belt is crossed by numerous beautiful clear streams, tributary to the Tennessee. The wood, the limestone and the iron ore lie side by side. I expect there is no part of the United States that to-day has such vast untouched mineral and timber resources so advantageously located, as the iron belt of middle Tennessee.

NATIONAL REAL ESTATE ASSOCIATION.

Nashville, Tenn., March 1, 1892.

In view of the fact that a great number of real estate men throughout the country were unable to attend the meeting in Nashville, but are interested and who desire to become identified with the movement, the Board of Control has consented to admit such as charter members, provided the names are received, accompanied by the membership fee of $5, prior to the time the proceedings of the meeting are published. These persons will be given all the rights of charter members and their names will be printed in the proceedings as members of the Association. As the proceedings are now ready for the press, it is necessary that those wishing to take advantage of this should do so at once.

M. M. Kline, Secretary,
National Real Estate Association.

Assistant Secretary Barthelf on his return from Nashville stopped over at Louisville, Ky., and rendered valuable assistance in organizing a Louisville Real Estate Exchange. The Exchange started with 50 members, and proposes to have a fine representation at Buffalo.

Mr. Josiah L. Lombard, chairman of the Board of Control, will be absent from Chicago for several months. He has appointed in his stead during his absence the Hon. Geo. M. Bogne of Chicago. All communications intended for the Board of Control should be addressed to Mr. Bogue until further notice.

Mr. H. H. Cushing of Toledo, Ohio, member of the Board of Control has suggested the name of Mr. A. C. Horton of Cincinnati, as vice-President for the State of Ohio. Mr. Horton has accepted and will be formally elected as such at the next meeting of the Board. Mr. Cushing is actively pushing the interests of the Association in his state and is determined that at the Buffalo meeting Ohio will be "in it."

President Weil is hard at work in the interests of the Association. He is rapidly completing the organization, and is determined that his administration shall be one of progress. He will probably go to Buffalo in a few days to consult with the local Committee regarding arrangements for the October meeting.

Secretary Kline is receiving encouraging letters from all parts of the United States, also Canada and Mexico. He believes that the Buffalo meeting will be the largest assembly of strictly business men ever convened in this country. A great number of demands are being made for the services of Mr. Armistead, who is to deliver a series of lectures in the various cities in the interests of the Association. St. Louis, DesMoines, Chattanooga, Tampa and other cities are awaiting his arrival to complete the organization of their Exchanges.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The Bureau of Statistics of the Treasury Department, has recently received from Mr. C. A. Keep, of the Lake Carriers' Association, complete statistics of lake commerce for the season 1890. Mr. Keep's report shows, that during the season of navigation of 1890, there were carried on the great lakes, 30,299,006 tons of freight. To understand this total, one must measure figures by some familiar standard of comparison. If the freight carried on the lakes during the year 1890 was loaded into railroad cars of fifteen tons capacity, this freight would cover four tracks stretching from San Francisco to New York with continuous lines of fully loaded cars, and there would be enough left over to cover in the same way, two additional tracks from New York to Chicago.

The total mileage of the lake traffic during the year 1890 was seventeen billion ton miles. The total freight service rendered to the public by all the railroads of the United States for the year ending June 30, 1889, was sixty-eight billion ton miles. The lake freight traffic for 1890 was, therefore, almost exactly one-quarter of the total freight service rendered by all the railroads of the United States.

The saving to the public from lake transportation is best shown by comparing it with the cheapest known rail transportation. According to the report of the St. Mary's canal, nine million tons of freight passed through the canal in the year 1890, and was carried at an average cost to the shipper of 1,3 mills per ton per mile. The average cost to the shipper of rail transportation in the United States, is stated by the statistican of the Inter-state Commerce Commission, in his second annual report, at 9.22 mills per ton per mile. The Michigan Central railroad, according to its last annual report, collects from its shippers on its through traffic, 5.02 mills per ton per mile. These figures represent the lowest cost of rail transportation in the United States. It is the charge exacted by one of the best equipped lines in the country on its through freight, on which it has a long carriage, and which consists in great part of exactly the same class of freight that is carried on the great lakes. The saving to the public in a single year by water transportation on Lake Superior was $26,710,213. Applying the same comparison to the entire lake traffic of 1890, and we find that water transportation during that year saved the public $63,794,163, an amount equal to nearly double the entire river and harbor expenditures on the great lakes, from the year 1789 to the present time. In making this comparison, every advantage has been given to the rail route.

The suggestions made in the last issue of the Journal, that the hours of labor in wholesale, retail, and manufacturing establishments be changed, so as to obviate the present overcrowded condition of the street cars during the morning and evening hours, may well be supplemented with a further suggestion that manufacturing interests, so far as possible, should be removed from the centre of the city. It may be said that this has been and is being done very extensively; and, in fact, manufacturers will no doubt, eventually be driven entirely from the business district on account of the high rents and the increased insurance. But there are numerous manufacturing establishments of large proportions which are still located in the heart of the business district. These should be encouraged to emigrate to the outlying districts as fast as possible. There is no advantage to them to be gained by remaining where they are, and the disadvantage to wholesale and retail establishments and office business of all kinds is so manifest as to make it imperative to banish all such establishments to remote points. The experience of down-town property-owners is, that a building is practically doomed so far as its use for any other purpose is concerned, by allowing it to be tenanted by manufacturing concerns. This has been forcibly illustrated in the banishment of printing establishments to the district south of Van Buren street. The Journal predicts that large manufacturing enterprises will be eventually forced entirely out of the down town business district.

That a movement of this kind would be of material assistance in solving the crowded car problem cannot be doubted. As the thousands of manufacturing employes become scattered over a larger area of the city, the task of carrying them to and from their work will become comparatively much easier than it is at present. The attainment of this much desired end is largely in the power of real estate agents, acting as advisers of owners on the one hand and manufacturers on the other.

The project of securing elevated tracks for railway terminals in Chicago, has received a strong impetus from several quarters of late, and now begins to look practicable. The most noticeable movement is on the part of the mayor and the city council. The efforts of Mayor Washburne in this direction were at first belittled; but his appointment of a committee of practical men from various departments, has a business-like appearance that is truly refreshing. This committee is understood to be working in unison with the World's Fair directors in their effort to secure the elevation of the Illinois Central railroad tracks at the World's Fair grounds. To be sure, that railroad has never been noted for anything more remarkable than its policy of obstruction in all such matters, but the batteries of the municipal and World's Fair forces may succeed in having some effect on this cast-iron policy of the railroad, as was the case in the recent Baltimore and Ohio track-laying affair at South Chicago. Be that as it may, the fact is, there is a strong movement in favor of elevated terminals.

The probable completion of the South Side Alley road and the Lake street "L" road in the near future, will render an elevated union terminal a necessity. That such a terminal will be secured can not be doubted. The fact that the South and West Side street railway companies have recently effected a truce, indicates that there will be concerted action in the future. The movement all along the line seems to be in favor of co-operation for better facilities, and better facilities imply elevated terminals.

The promoters of the Bacon compressed air scheme are evidently men of vivid imagination. They propose to revolutionize the present system of power and heat in this city by the substitution of compressed air for steam and electricity. In support of their theory, they give facts and figures deduced from experiments with compressed air in other cities, notably Paris. The fact that the compressed air system in Paris has not been a success, does not deter the Chicago promoters. Within a year, says one of these gentlemen, Chicago will see compressed air substituted for steam, for power and heating purposes, and at vastly reduced cost. How far these anticipations will be realized, remains to be seen.

The first step in the promotion of the scheme has been eminently successful. An ordinance, the liberal provisions of which are so generous as to cause even a north side street railroad magnate to gasp with envy, has passed the city council, and bids fair to become a law. The company has been given all and more than it asked for or even dreamed of securing. It is now at liberty to tear up every street in the city. It possesses a power surpassed only by that of the department of public works itself; may lay pipes as big as a hogshead and as many of them as it wishes without let or hindrance. In a city as large as Chicago, this thing is all wrong. If the compressed air people have any experiments to make, they should begin on a smaller scale, and in a locality where incalculable damage will not result if their operations should prove a failure. This thing of allowing an adventurous company of schemers to introduce an untried experiment on a large scale in the very heart of a city of a million and a half of inhabitants, is the sheerest madness or worse, on the part of the mayor and common council.

AGENTS' BUDGET.

Recent sales, however small, not yet recorded, will be reported in this column. All matter must apply to the real estate business and real estate men.

E. S. Dreyer & Co., have sold to Robert Seyd of New York a 160 acre tract in the town of Lyons for $100,000. The property lies two miles southeast of LaGrange and two miles west of the Stickney tract. The purchase was made by Mr. Seyd for an investment. E. S. Dreyer & Co., have on haad another large acre deal, involving several thousand acres which will be one of the largest trades of its kind ever closed in this city. The present condition of the money market is very favorable to deals in large parcels of acre property. Heavy capitalists find it difficult to make loans on good security at fair rates of interest, and accordingly, they are looking to the real estate field for safe and profitable investments, especially in acres, on which taxes are not heavy, but where in a rapidly growing vicinity like Chicago values are sure to rise.

A seven story store and flat building will be erected at the northwest corner of Wabash avenue and Twelfth street, by F. M. Stringfield. Mr. Stringfield has just secured from W. L. Peck, through Bogue & Co., a lease of 50x100 feet on this corner for a term of 99 years, at an annual rental of $6,000. This, on a 6 per cent basis, fixes the valuation of the property at $100,000, or $2,000 a front foot.

The announcement in last week's Journal, that the Rock Island Railroad Company would move its machine shops to Blue Island has been verified this week by the purchase by that Company of 30 acres at that place, lying between 123d and 125th streets. The price paid was about $1,150 an acre, or a total of $34,000. This last purchase, together with previous purchases, makes the total of the company's holdings at Blue Island 80 acres.

Turner & Bond will build fifteen small cottages at 3448 to 3450 and 3308 to 3332 Oakley avenue.

The basement of the Ashland block, 60x90 feet, has been leased to D. P. and W. F. Campbell for restaurant purposes, at an annual rental of $10,000.

The recent sale of 57⅓ feet, east frontage on Michigan avenue, between Twelfth and Thirteenth streets for $70,000, indicates a valuation of nearly $1,000 a front foot for the property. A two story stone front house valued at about $10,000 covers the lots. This gives $60,000, as the approximate value of the land. The purchaser was F. A. Sadler, who buys of J. Leonard for cash.

Work will soon be begun on a seven story apartment building, to be called the Gladstone, on the corner of Madison avenue and 62d street. Architects Stiles & Stone prepared the plans. The building will be of buff Bedford stone with terra cotta trimmings, and the cost is estimated at $110,000.

W. A. Merigold & Co., report that their subdivision sales for the present month have so far exceeded the sales of the entire month of March last year, and that the activity appears to be in the direction of investment almost wholly. They say that the market is not influenced by the World's Fair, but that the present active inquiry is due to the rapid growth of the city. Further, they predict that prices will be higher after the Fair than they are at present.

A seventy-five foot lot, vacant, west front, on Stony Island avenue near 69th street was sold the other day for $300 a front foot. The seller was Archibald R. Wilson and the purchaser M. J. Ronghan. Two years ago this property was unsubdivided and brought less than $4000 an acre or about $25 a foot.

A complete system of sewers for Andrews & Piper's Berwyn has been mapped out, and work will be begun on them as soon as the plan can be approved by the Cicero town board. The sewers will be run in the alleys exclusively except on 35th street. They will all drain into the main sewer on Oak Park avenue. The system of alley sewerage renders it unnecessary to tear up streets to make sewer connections.

W. D. Smith and E. H. Clopper will build two houses on lots 11, 12 and 13, block 1 in the second addition to Berwyn, on Irving avenue north of 32nd street, to cost $4,200. George H. Anderson will build on 34th street, Berwyn, and Mr. Evans on the same street, houses to cost $2 500 each.

Calvin F. Taylor has returned from a two-month's trip in the South.

A. S. Leib has recently closed the sale of 132 feet vacant frontage on Stanton avenue for $16,500; also a block of stores and flats at 465-467 47th street for $35,000; he has also put under contract this week several other large deals. Mr. Leib reports inquiry active and considerable demand for loans.

E. A. Marshall has purchased the northeast corner of Stevens and W. Van Buren street, and will erect a 4 story flat and store building, 41x125 feet at a cost of $36,000.

William W. Weare reports the sale at Morton Park this week of six lots at $500 each; a house with two lots to J. W. Bower $2,600; eight new houses will be built as soon as contracts can be let. Plans have been drawn for a three-story and basement flat building at Morton Park to cost $15,000 with all modern improvements. The Cicero town trustees have agreed to build two 200-barrel brick cisterns for fire protection for Morton Park. Houses and sidewalks costing $66,000 were built at Morton Park last year.

CHICAGO HEIGHTS.

The secretary of the Chicago Heights Land Association reports good progress in the sale of lots to home seekers, investors, manufacturers and one lumber dealer. During the week just closed forty-nine lots have been sold. The Rib River Lumber Co., have opened wholesale and retail yards at Chicago Heights. This corporation is one of the strongest lumber companies in the Northwest, having mills at Flanner, Warsaw and Mosenee, Wis., from where lumber will be shipped direct to Chicago Heights. This valuable addition to Chicago Heights business interests was gained largely by the facilities offered by the Elgin, Joliet and Eastern Railway.

Dolese & Shepard have been given the contract to macadamize the streets of the new city and now have one hundred and thirty-two car-loads of stone side-tracked at the Heights for this purpose. Besides the powerful backing of the wealthy syndicate owning and operating this important enterprise it has the natural advantages necessary to make it a successful flourishing suburb.

A FINE THEATRE.

Architects Faber & Pagels have prepared drawings for a block consisting of theatre, stores and flats to go up at the corner of Eighteenth and Allport avenue, for Mr. John Dusek. The block will be lighted on three sides and have a frontage on Eighteenth street of 125 feet and on Allport avenue of 100 feet. The auditorium will be furnished with opera seats. The theatre will be of fireproof construction throughout, with iron beams and doors and steel curtain, etc. The matter of exits has been specially attended to; thus there will be four approaches to the galleries, three to the main, and special approaches for the boxes. The body of the theatre will be fitted in red oak, most of the work being according to details specially provided by the architects. The ceiling will be of stucco fibre with ornamenations of same, and the walls will be decorated in the Morrish style. The boxes which will be artistically swelled, will be finished elaborately in fibre work and French upholstering, and will be finished with fancy wrought iron grilles in the piquant Moorish style. The building will be heated by steam throughout, and exhausts in the ceiling will maintain the most perfect system of ventilation. The main approach will be by a spacious hall, paved with mosaics and with red and white marble wainscoting. The stair cases will be iron and concrete, their construction being fire-proof. There will be arranged exteriorly facing upon the main streets, twenty-one flats, or suites of apartments, each provided with all modern conveniences in the shape of bath rooms, etc. There will be provided separate approaches to this part of the building, and quick service elevators will give access to all the floors. The whole will be supplied with steam heat. Best of sanitary plumbing, hardwood finish and all the latest conveniences. The stores will have modern fronts. Plate, ornamental, bevelled and art glass, etc. The elevation is in the modern style of architecture, and will consist of five stories with basement. EDGEMOOR.

We are now offering for sale blocks and lots in EDGEMOOR the new suburb on the Chicago Central road, at 79th street. Edgemoor is one half mile square and includes 160 acres of the beautiful ridge property in the southwest part of the city, with an east frontage on Western ave., and a north frontage on 79th st. The Chicago Central, the Northern Pacific's new suburban road, runs directly through the center of the property with a depot at 81st st.

On this road will be inaugurated, within 90 days, the most complete train service as to elaborateness of equipment and quick running time, given on any suburban road in the city. The scheduled time from Edgemoor to the Grand Central depot will be 22 minutes, The south 80 acres of Edgemoor will be improved in a high class manner the coming season, the improvements to include water and sewer, macadam streets, granite cement walks six feet wide, combination curb and gutter also of granite cement and a double row of trees. A special form of warranty deed has been prepared which establishes a 20 foot building line, a $3,000 building restriction, and also prohibits factories of all kinds and the use of buildings for saloon purposes. Contracts for the grading and sidewalk and curb and gutter work have already been let. The work will be begun soon as the ground is in condition in the spring and all of the improvements will be pushed to completion as rapidly as possible. The contract for the side-walk and curb and gutter work on the 80 acres has been let to The Northwestern Asphalt Co. the cost being $50,000. Several houses will be built and occupied by June 15th. We are prepared to offer special inducements to individual investors and syndicates who will take a five acre block interest in the property. LIBERAL COMMISSIONS PAID TO BROKERS AND AGENTS.

In the Sheridan Drive Subdivision it is expected that the sewers will be clean at all times. This result will be due partly to the land being high so that the sewers have a good fall; partly to many of the sewers being designed to carry house drainage only, and partly to flushing tanks to be placed at the upper ends of all sewers by which they will be flushed automatically every day. It is the aim in this Subdivision to have everything sweet, clean and healthful as well as artistic.

INDUSTRIAL DEPARTMENT.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Company's 6,150 miles of road traverses a vast territory, rich in all the resources that insure industrial success.

The Industrial Department is conversant with the Iron, Coal, Lumber and Tanbark, the Water-Power (both river and artesian) for factory and electric power purposes, the markets, the transportation and financial facilities, and other interests on the line pertaining to industrial development, and disseminates information concerning same.

A number of new factories has been induced to locate—largely through the instrumentality of this Company—at enterprising towns on its lines.

As the interest of the Company is to secure the location of industries at places where the surroundings will insure their permanent success, the information furnished a particular industry is pertinent and reliable.

In the Eastern States and in other parts of the world factories are so congested and distant from the actual markets as to result in fierce and destructive competition. That the West is taking a place as one of the great manufacturing territories of the world is forcibly impressing itself upon discerning and enterprising manufacturers. Steps should be taken by such while the field is as yet not fully covered, and while inducements are still being offered, to locate in the West.

Individuals or companies wishing to embark capital in Western industry can find a profitable field.

Finance and Trade.

INTERNATIONAL INVESTMENTS—FOREIGN CAPITALISTS TO GET THE PLUM.

The week has developed a better demand in the money market, and a marked improvement all along the line. Mercantile interests,especially, are seeking loans more freely, and it is thought that the movement of money has fairly begun. The tide which has been steadily carrying our gold to Europe, will soon set strongly in the opposite direction. Interest rates have ruled higher and a feeling of confidence has taken possession of the local bankers.

The silver agitation is still the uppermost topic of discussion in the financial world. The remarkable strength shown by the silver men in the house, however, has not as yet had any appreciable effect on American securities abroad, though some partisan newspapers have endeavored to make their readers believe that the recent return of our securities by European debtors in place of gold,was caused by free-silver agitation. It is unlikely that this agitation will,for a time at least, have any appreciable effect on the credits of this country.

An event which emphasizes the confidence felt abroad in American securities, is the recent formation of a company of English and American capitalists, for the purpose of operating heavily in stocks and mortgages in the United States. This company, which has been named the Transatlantic Mortgage and Securities Trust, Limited, is described as one of the strongest organizations ever formed. Its capital is $5,000,000, but its Board of Directors represent $200,000,000. The fear has been expressed by some western capitalists, that this company may become so powerful as to control the finances of the country. This fear does not seem to be well founded, but the new venture is evidently destined to have great influence in American finances. It is the first English syndicate ever formed with a purely American board which will pass judgment upon all American investments offered as security for loans. The office of the board will be in the Home Insuranee Building in Chicago, but the company will operate all over the country. The London office of the concern is at No. 31 Lombard street. A prominent New York broker recently said: "New York capitalists find that they need all their money for their New York business. It is the same in Chicago, so that is left for the Englismen to come in and carry off the ripe and luscious plum in the shape of high interests. It is quite possible for this trust to secure control of millions of dollars' worth of good paying property for the advance of a really small sum in proportion."

An event of the week which has attracted no small share of interest was the President's proclamation of reciprocity with Nicaragua. We give in another column a list of articles used in the building trades which are to be admitted into Nicaragua duty free under the new treaty. Imports of coffee, sugar, and other agricultural products from Nicaragua are to be admitted free into this country in exchange for the remission of duties on our exports. This practically gives to the manufacturers of the United States, the lion's share of the Nicaragua market, and is a measure of prime importanee from a commercial point of view.

The New York Stock market has been comparatively featureless, and speculators have shown a disposition to be slow and careful in their purchases. The coalers have scarcely moved. Sugar stock has attracted some attention but has not been in active demand, which is largely attributed to the fact that the sugar trust has succeeded in dumping on the exchange $25,000,000 of additional stock, of which $12,500,000 is common and $12,500,000 preferred. The stock is to be sold at par and was issued for the purpose of buying new property. It is generally understood that the negotiations of the sugar trust with Harrison & Frazier of Philadelphia, the owners of the Franklin refinery, are progressing satisfactorily. But until some definite information can be had, the price of sugar securities will remain somewhat unsettled.

The markets have been comparatively devoid of interest. Wheat for shipment has been practically unsalable in Chicago. Winter wheat is nearly all out of the elevators and loaded for transportation by lake at the earliest possible moment. Spring wheat is unsalable from the fact that Duluth offers to lay down in Buffalo a better quality of wheat at about one cent under Chicago prices. No matter how low prices may go in Chicago, Duluth declines as steadily and keeps offering a superior article one cent below us, thus practically taking away our market and forestalling possible sales. Elevator men say that for some time there has been no demand for Lake shipment, and there is not likely to be as long as these conditions prevail.

The failure of the Chicago banking firm of M. Schweisthal & Co., and the air of mystery which surrounds the financial affairs of that firm have not tended to increase confidenee in the business situation among Chicago real estate men. The failure of the bank was followed by that of Nagle & Brecher, commission merchants. Other complications are looked for. It is reported that Schweisthal & Co, were largely interested in backing certain real estate ventures, and that dullness in the real estate market was chiefly responsible for their inability to pull through.

The continued inactivity in the real estate market has resulted in driving out of the field many of the irresponsible dealers who rushed into the business last year without capital or experience. Several schemers, who in default of legitimate business have resorted to dishonest practices, have fallen into the clutches of the law, and one case was reported in which matters became so desperate that suicide was resorted to. Established firms, however, report that there is a remarkable inquiry for good investment property, and they predict brisk sales in the near future. The transfer lists show a very healthy activity in acre property, for which there seems to be a strong and steady demand by investors.

The tendeney toward centralization of trade is strikingly illustrated by the wonderful increase in New York's clearings as shown by the above table. While smaller cities sometimes show a percentage of decrease as compared with last year New York steadily exhibits an increased percentage of increase. This week that percentage reaches 38.9 and is the largest percentage of increase shown in the table. Note also that the net increase of all the cities including New York is 25.4 per cent; while, excluding that city, it is only 7.5 per cent.

The influence of location also is illustrated in the case of New York but more strikingly in the ease of Boston. Doubtless the fact that both these cities have the advantage of large maritime interests is chiefly accountable for the magnitude of their bank clearings. Boston especially owes much to this source, as will be seen from the fact that while Boston has less than half the population of Chicago or Philadelphia, yet her bank clearings are nearly as great as those of Chicago and are more than eighteen millions greater than those of Philadelphia.

At first glance the table would indicate a large number of decreasing percentages, but a more careful examination will show that the cities of the first and second class all show increases, and that the decreases are almost entirely confined to the smaller cities. This fact still further illustrates the tendency of banking business to seek the larger centres.

The Canadian returns indicate decreasing percentages. For several weeks the increases at Montreal and Halifax have been falling off, until at the latter city they have disappeared altogether.

In considering the returns by groups of states the following system is observed. The New England group comprises Boston, Lowell, Springfield, Worcester, Portland, Providence, Hartford, New Haven and New Bedford. The Middle group comprises New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Syracuse. The Southern, Baltimore, Norfolk, Richmond, New Orleans, Ft. Worth, Wilmington, Washington, and Dallas. The Western, Cincinnati, Columbus, Cleveland, Detroit, Indianapolis, Louisville, Grand Rapids and Lexington. The Northwestern, Chicago, Peoria, Omaha, Milwaukee, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Duluth, Des Moines, Lincoln and Sioux City. The Southwestern, Memphis, St. Louis, St. Joseph, Kansas City, Wichita and Topeka. The Farwestern, San Francisco, Denver, Los Angeles and Tacoma.

An analysis of the situation according to the foregoing groups gives the following:

	WEEK ENDING MAR. 11, 1892.	WEEK ENDING MAR. 12, 1891.	PERCENTAGE.
New Engl'd States.	$101,591,980	$100,262,265	Inc N'm

Western	"	38,516,117	37,345,211 Inc 2.7
Northwestern	"	117,892,055	103,190,507 " 13.5

It will be seen that only two of the above groups show any considerable increase over last year, the Middle and Northwestern groups. The former of these groups includes New York city and the latter Chicago. The increase of 35.5 in the former and of 13.5 in the latter group is largely accounted for by the increase in New York and Chicago clearings respectively. The increase of 19.5 in the Southern group is not large enough to be formidable, but it indicates a considerable falling off during the month.

LOCAL STOCK MARKET.

This week presents a marked contrast with those immediately preceding, local trading having been directed largely to the Industrials. City Railways have long been held for investment, enlisting but little speculative attention. All this was changed during the past week. Industrials attracted but little attention, and were almost featureless. In North and West side cables, something very much like a sellers' panic developed. During the past month, some heavy purchases were effected by two or three parties, in expectation of a rise. This, failing to materialize, the purchasers last week commenced to dump their holdings with results very unsatisfactory to themselves. The feeling of heaviness made itself felt early in the week, but did not culminate until Wednesday, when North side was sold down to 178¼, and West side to 128¾. Since then there has been some recovery. The decline ruling throughout the Industrials has been no doubt largely in sympathy.

Purchasers for North side cable failed to bid save upon substantial concessions which holders were indisposed to make. On Wednesday, the opening was made in deals for the account, the first parcel going at 179, and two 500 lots were disposed of at 179¾. The offerings were free and somewhat urgent, and carried the price to 178¼. 2,500 shares were sold. This was followed by a slight rally, on Thursday, which brought the price up to 179, regular, with upward of 1,200 shares passing. This was a drop for the week of over 4 points. The movement in the sister system was somewhat upon the same lines. The first two days of the week witnessed but comparatively light trading, but on Wednesday the selling became fast and furious, and 128¾ was soon reached for regular. At that point, the market turned, and the close was at 130¼, 6400 shares being sold. A further improvement was made on Thursday, which carried West side to 131¾, regular, at the close. Upwards of 1,500 changed hands.

Only a few shares of City Railway changed owners. Regular ruled from 325 to 324.

Among Industrials most attention has been given to Street's Stable Car line and to Calumet and Chicago Canal and Dock, both of which properties have yielded about 2 points.

Street's Stable Car line opened this week fairly steady at 37, but the property sold off rather rapidly to 35¾, subsequently declining to 35¼. On Thursday there was a moderate rally to 36, but the trading was light. Average daily sales upward of 700 shares.

There was little doing in Western Stone, business being limited to one small lot, which went at 97.

Calumet and Chicago Canal and Dock has sold down from 81 to 79, recovering, however, and standing at the close, Thursday, at 79¾.

American Strawboard received only a moderate amount of attention during the early part of the week, and sold off from 82—with 82½ for high—to 78¼.

Brewing and Malting, Common stock at 33¾. Preferred stock, 200 shares at 42¼.

Packing and Provision has not maintained late prices. Common stock has further sold off, from 52 to 51 regular. Preferred stock at 48 to 48¼, for the account.

The Bond market was extremely light, bulk of business being over the counter. Gas Light and Coke 5s., at 88¼, a drop of a half point from preceeding week's ruling price. Consumer's Gas 5s., at 84.

The following prices were established during the week: Globe National Bank at 107. American Trust & Savings Bank at 137. Central Union Telephone, at 56. Chicago Telephone, at 220, and New York Biscuit at 60 to 59.

The general feeling on the floor is that the break we have just experienced will induce the public once more to come in as purchasers, the condition of the banks establishing beyond dispute the fact that there is much idle money seeking investment. Should the public act as suggested, the market would no doubt be materially assisted in getting out of the rut into which it has fallen. It is one of the curious anomolies of the time, that there is scarcely any property on the official list that is not threatened in some shape or another—by legislation, by action against trusts, or by open competition of a somewhat pronounced character.

FREE COINAGE AND BI-METALLISM.

FREE COINAGE DEFINED AND ILLUSTRATED—FACTS AND FIGURES FROM A PRACTICAL MIDDLE STANDPOINT.

We have as yet failed to find any strictly unprejudiced statement of the silver question. Writers on the subject apply themselves to partisan or extreme arguments rather than to unbiased consideration of the real merits of the case. In this discussion there can be no unanimity of opinion as to details, but it is a remarkable fact that there is a practical agreement as to the main subject at issue, viz. the desirability of silver coinage with a view to the adoption of a bi-metallic standard, The best financial thinkers of both England and America are now agreed that the money problem of the future can be solved only by the adoption of a national bi-metallic standard, in which silver shall take its proper and relative place with gold. Practically, there is no contest on this point. That the demands of the financial world are rapidly outgrowing the increase in gold is evident to all.

No one thing is of more importance to a nation than its currency. We speak of our currency as being on a gold basis. We do not stop to think that back of a total of $976,019,784 of paper currency there is only $176,450,378 of gold coin. The fact is, the demand for a circulating medium is so great and so rapidly increasing that the gold standard is no longer adequate. Some rational adjustment between the two metals must be arrived at, so that the currency can be placed on a safe basis of both gold and silver reserve. But bimetallism does not by any means imply the free coinage of silver.

The advocates of free coinage ask that all silver bullion be at once converted into legal dollars by purchase by the government. They demand that owners of silver be allowed to deposit it at any mint of the United States and have every 371¼ grains of pure silver (now worth about 70 cents) stamped free of charge into a dollar, which shall be a full legal tender at its face value in the payment of debts and obligations of all kinds in the United States. This means that the United States shall pay about $1.30 an ounce for all the silver (now worth about 90 cents an ounce) which may be brought to our mints in legal tender money, interconvertible under existing law with gold at par.

Mr. Bland, who is the head and front of the free-coinage movement in this country, contends that the increased demand for silver thus created would bring the two metals to a parity of value; that gold being less sought after would depreciate, that silver would rise correspondingly, and that thus the two metals would gradually come together on a plane of equality. When we consider the enormously increased output of silver from the mines, and remember that not only in this country but in the old world there is a very large quantity of silver bullion and foreign coins, which would at once be thrown on our mints to be exchanged for silver certificates, which in turn, would be, by the very necessities of the free-coinage movement, exchangeable for gold, we can not accept the unsupported statement of Mr. Bland that free coinage would result in placing silver on an equality with gold. When we still further consider that under existing usages of trade all our foreign exchanges would have to be settled in gold, which, with the tendency of all the European nations to hoard gold, would have a direct tendency to drain this country of its gold reserves, we become still more skeptical as to the great benefits promised from absolute free-coinage. According to Mr. Bland, the 70 cents worth of silver stamped into a dollar is to be made equal in value to a dollar in gold. But European nations will not accept our silver dollar. They will demand gold. And it is highly probable that they will send over large quantities of their silver to be exchanged for gold at a profit to them of 30 per cent and a still further depletion of our meagre stock of gold coin. We fear that this policy of inviting the whole world to enrich itself by dumping its surplus of silver at our mints would soon put our currency on a silver basis. Some of the free-silver men have attempted to forestall this objection by proposing that the coin certificates issued be made payable either in silver or gold at the option of the government, so that if European nations demanded gold in exchange for these certificates they could be paid in silver instead. The reader does not need to be a financier to see that such a course would immediately put the currency of this country on a silver basis and that in place of paying our foreign balances in gold we would pay them in silver with a currency depreciated 30 per cent.

Nature herself can not make a silk purse out of a sow's ear, and the free-coinage men can not make a a gold dollar out of 70-cents-worth of silver bullion. What is needed is not fiat money but honest money. If an ounce of silver is worth 90 cents, let us have a little more than an onuce in each silver dollar. Let the mints be employed in turning out silver dollars which shall be of equal intrinsic value with gold dollars. Make these silver dollars and the silver certificates interchangeable with gold dollars and gold certificates; make them also legal tender for all debts. The price of silver will then fluctuate, and, in consequence, European nations will then see the necessity of an international bi-metallic conference. At such a conference the relative values of silver and gold can be agreed upon and thus a bi-metallic standard will be established. But no one nation on the globe is powerful enough to establish a fictitious coinage value for silver and to hold up such a value against the gold policy of the entire world.

The present silver agitation is certain to be of benefit in bringing the question of a bi-metallic standard to the front. It is now considered highly probable that an international monetary congress can be arranged with England in the near future if strong efforts are made in that direction. Congress has shown an attitude strongly in favor of silver legislation, and has by a large majority set the day of March 22 for the consideration of the free coinage measure. The free-silver men have shown a surprising strength in the House and it is reasonable to expect that the measure will go through with a large majority. It will also pass the Senate with a majority of a few votes. But it will be vetoed by the President. Whether it can be passed over the President's veto remains to be seen, but this is thought to be highly improbable.

ASSESSED VALUATION IN ILLINOIS.

It is well known that the revenue law of the State of Illinois requires that property shall be listed for taxation at its fair cash value. It is equally well known that instead of property being listed at its fair cash value real property is listed at from one fifth to one-tenth of its cash value, and personal property, what little of it that is listed at all, is given at a much lower valuation, even, then real property.

In 1873 the equalized assessed value of property in the state listed for taxation was $1,355,401,317. In 1878 it had fallen to $857,235,762, and in 1888 it had fallen still further to $784,911,874, being a falling off of nearly 50 per cent, as compared with 1873. In 1891 the valuation had increased to $822,109,429. Everyone with ordinary common sense knows that the real value has at least doubled over that of 1873. In fact $4,000,000,000 would be a moderate estimate of the cash value of all property in the State of Illinois. One mill on the dollar or one-tenth of one per cent on this valuation would produce a million more dollars revenue than the state requires, and this is the explanation of the reduced values of property for taxation. The state constitution limits the tax rate, which can not be avoided; but of course, it can not compel a fair cash value. So, in order to reduce the amount of money to be raised and squandered by corrupt officials, the cash value was reduced that the tax rate might be raised to the limit fixed by the constitution.

In answer to the assertion that taxes have not been reduced since the final payment on account of the state debt it is only necessary to say that in 1873, when the assessed value of property was nearly twice as much as it was in 1891, the tax rate was 36 cents on the $100, and in 1891 it was 33 cents on the $100. The amount of state taxes raised in 1873 was over $5,000,000. in 1891 the amount raised was a little over $3,000,000, as shown by the official records.

THE REAL ESTATE MARKET.

PROMISED DEVELOPMENTS IN ACRES—LONG TERM LEASES ABSORB THE ATTENTION OF INVESTORS—A SITE FOR A NEW HOTEL SECURED.

The weather conditions have continued unfavorable to the development of a generally active market. Prospective buyers of investment properties are inclined to procrastinate, while the spring demand for houses, and lots for improvement is perceptibly retarded. In no other line will the unsettled condition of the weather have so marked an effect as in the selling of houses. The sale of lots in subdivisions only receives a temporary set-back. The lots which, in a forward season, would have been sold in March and April, will be sold later in the year. The energy now being repressed by unfavorable conditions will be distributed over the remainder of the year. This is not true, however, in the market for houses. Prospective buyers of homes who are not able to make their selection soon, will be forced to rent quarters before May 1. The season for purchasing houses is defined by certain arbitrary limits. A cold and disagreeable early spring shortens this period and so reduces the opportunities for builders to dispose of their holdings. The construction work on houses has also been delayed and many structures which, under favorable conditions would have been ready to offer on the market, will not be completed for some time.

The location of the World's Fair in Chicago promises to have more of an unsettling effect on building for residence purposes, than on any other of the realty lines. This very tendency in a change of normal conditions may, however, correct the tendency towards an overproduction of houses. At present, the entire South side is being filled with new residences and flat buildings, in anticipation of the demand during the World's Fair year. Builders are especially active and it is predicted by many that a supply far in excess of the actual demand will be created. The very desire which prompts builders to extraordinary activity this year, in view of possibilities offered by the World's Fair, will absolutely stop all speculative work next year. It is probable that not one building will be erected next year for every five buildings constructed the present season. Builders will either insist on having their houses ready for the World's Fair trade, or else they will wait until the Fair is entirely over and the old elements of demand and supply adjust themselves. This being the case, the over-activity of one year will be neutralized by the light building operations of the next and the city will be given an opportunity to grow up to the supply.

The most interesting operations of the week have been in the line of ninety-nine-year leases. One of the most important of these negotiations which are now under way, will provide a site for another elegant Michigan avenue hotel. The various holdings at the south-west corner of Michigan avenue and Congress street are being combined and secured by William Fitzgerald, who proposes the erection of a $500,000 hotel building on the corner opposite the Auditorium. Mr. Fitzgerald now owns 51x100 feet on Congress street 120 feet west of Michigan avenue. This property has an alley on the west, and in the rear. Negotiations are practically completed which will secure the Michigan avenue frontage. The corner lot 62x120 feet is owned by Rice & Friedman of Milwaukee, who are represented here by W. D. Kerfoot & Co. This lot has been leased at an annual rental of $15,000. The next lot to the south is 26x120 feet and is owned by C. W. Fullerton. The lease of this property is made on the basis of an annual rental of $5,000. The next lot to the south is owned by Frank J. Helmer. It is to be leased on a rental of $4,500 per year. The terms of these three leases as reported, determine a land valuation of nearly $500,000: $300,000 for the Rice & Friedman property, $100,000 for the Fullerton lot, and $90,000 for the Helmer property. The capitalized value of the entire combined holding will be not far from three-fourths of a million dollars. The entire property will be 114x171 feet and is considered one of most eligible hotel sites in the city.

All the details of the purchase for the Chicago

Press Club have been arranged. The property on Michigan avenue, 48x171 feet, sixty eight feet north of Madison street, has been deeded by Mrs. A. N. Kellogg, to a representative of the firm of Joseph R. Putnam & Co. The deed from this party runs to the C. H. McCormick estate at a consideration of $25,000. This estate takes the property in the form of a fee, as a lease for ninety-nine years is taken by H. H. Kohlsaat as trustee for the Press Club. This lease is made at a 5 per cent rental on a valuation of $130,000. This valuation is considered quite low, as it places a front foot value on the land of a trifle over $2730. Two minor sales of down town property involve pieces of property in the south portion of the business centre.

A lot on State street just north of Twelfth street, 43x72 feet was sold by Dunlap Smith & Co. for Carrie Jackson to Adolph Uphof for $40,000 and the property known as No. 86 Sherman street adjoining the Appraisers' building was sold by W. T. Adams & Co. by Wallace Hume to R. J. Gunning for $30,000.

One of the possible complications arising from the negotiation of ninety-nine year leases at fictitious values, which has been pointed out at various times by the JOURNAL, has been illustrated in a striking manner by a series of transfers, the last of which was recorded this week. The northwest corner of Cottage Grove avenue and Fortieth street, 100x115 feet, was reported leased a year ago by H. T. Glover to Robert T. Parker at a rental of $6000 a year. This rental determined, or was supposed to determine, a valuation of $100,000 or $1000 a front foot. The lessee promised to erect a $200,000 apartment house and gave bond in the shape of a second mortgage on a miscellaneous lot of property in the West. Soon after the lease was made, and before any work was done on a building, the fee was sold to Thomas Whitfield at a consideration of $85,000 a considerable discount from the $100,000. The lessee made no effort to carry out his contract for the erection of a building, and his bond, it appears, like many building bonds, was hard to realize on. The last transfer of the property which appears on the records of this week, is from Mr. Whitfield to W. W. Augur for $40.000. Here are three valuations placed on the same piece of property. One for $1000 a foot for leasing purposes, another for $850 for the purchase of a supposed fee, and still another for $400 as a value of the property itself, not subject to any contract of lease. This corner has been held up by real estate men as an illustration of the ill effect caused real estate interests by the negotiation of leases on fictitious values. The negotiation of such a lease could not fail to give adjoining owners ideas of values which prove to be entirely unwarranted. They also have a tendency to shake the confidence of investors in fees, which should be the safest class of investment purchases. The history of the corner in question is simply a repetition of what has occurred on a dozen South side corners. Corners suitable for the erection of large flat buildings, are especially susceptible of manipulation in this manner, and the history of most of these leases made at values far above what the property is intrinsically worth has been far from satisfactory.

SOME RECENT ACRE SALES.

INVESTORS SEEKING ACRE PROPERTY IN THE VICINITY OF CHICAGO WITH THE EXPECTATION OF HANDSOME PROFITS.

The banner sale of the year in acres was made this week in Lake county, Indiana. It was the sale of 2,900 acres adjoining and east of Maynard, by Malcolm T. Hart and Milton R. Hart, of Crown Point, Indiana. and Mrs. Julia P. Follett, of Chicago, to a Minneapolis syndicate, at $200 per acre. This makes the largest sale of the year in Lake county property, aggregating $580,000.

Last week the JOURNAL was first in the field with the announcement of a large acre sale in the Town of Worth on the line of the Wabash railroad. This is followed this week with another sale of 160 acres in the Town of Worth; also 178 acres in Shaumberg, and 20 acres in Niles. One prominent firm in this city has now under contract 3,000 acres. They report that there is a very active inquiry for Chicago acres from all parts of the country. The fact that acre property has proved very profitable in the past, and that at the present time acres in Cook county are comparatively cheap, has led investors to consider this kind of real estate with great favor. Acres cost but little to hold. The taxes are light and can usually be provided for from agricultural products of the land. Cook county acres have shown a disposition to double or even quadruple in value in a very short time and the experience of real estate men is, that the largest fortunes have been made in acre transactions. These are some of the considerations that are leading outside investors to seek acres near Chicago with strong confidence in their future value.

The town or Worth seems to be at present a favorite field for acre operations. The sale reported last week in section 3 of 313 acres for $376,500 or an average of $1,200 an acre, is a sample transaction. It is believed that other similar sales will follow shortly.

A transaction which was closed some time ago but recorded only this week, is the sale of 160 acres in Worth, at the southwest corner of Western avenue and 103d street. This property is known as the northeast quarter of section 13, and lies just north of the Village of Morgan Park. It was sold by Edwin B. Sage to Henry A. Rust, for $329,106, or a little over $2056 an acre, and was bought by Mr. Rust as an investment. Mr. Rust is a capitalist of large means and is quite satisfied with his purchase even at the price named.

Twenty acres in Sec 20, town of Niles have been sold by C. Teufert to M. Nellessen at $350 an acre. The property lies within easy reach of the Chicago Milwaukee and St. Paul railway, and is considered cheap at the purchase price.

The recent large acre purchase by R W. Hyman in Lake county, Indiana, was reported as having been made at an average price of $233 per acre. Rumor has it that the Cline tract adjoining is now under contract of sale at $1,500 an acre for 1600 acres. If these figures are correct, the price named is very much in excess of that paid for acre propery in the same locality by Mr. Hyman a few weeks ago. The Cline tract is directly north of the Hyman purchase of 1200 acres and is about two miles east of Hammond. It adjoins the land of the East Chicago Land and Improvement Company, and includes all of sections 26 and 35, extending from the lake to the Calumet river. The purchaser of the tract, is a large Cleveland iron and mill firm, that is said to give employment to about four thousand hands. The high price offered may be in part explained by the terms of the sale, which are said to be $1,000,000 cash and the balance in improved real estate in Cleveland. Mr. Cline's representative has been in Cleveland appraising the property offered, and it is thought that the sale depends entirely upon the result of this appraisement.

PROPOSED NEW PLAN IN THE CONSTRUCTION OF BUILDINGS.

Chicago may soon number among its high buildings some that will differ radically in method of construction from any now built. Gen. William Sooy Smith, the well-known engineer, has long believed that the steel construction was faulty and he has been conducting a series of experiments that bid fair to revolutionize high buildings. His experiments so far have met with success, but some of the minor details are yet to be tested, and until they are made the particulars of the new departure will not be given out. Gen. Smith will soon deliver a lecture before the students of the state university at Champaign, where he will give for the first time the result of his labors. It is likely that the construction of the great Episcopal cathedral in New York will be according to the new plans of Gen. Smith, who has been selected as the engineer.

In Gen. Smith's method steel is entirely abandoned and the results of his experiments so far indicate that the material used to replace it is fully capable of doing all that iron or steel can do, with the advantage that it is not affected by fire.

Another change in Chicago construction that Gen. Smith will employ soon, is in the building of the foundation. Instead of making use of the concrete and steel rail arrangement the foundation will rest directly upon the rock. "The trouble with the foundation," said Gen. Smith, "is that the pressure of the building is uneven, or the resistance of the soil is not equal. Now I propose to go to the rock by first sinking a well on solid masonry on which the upper foundation may rest. Where it is impossible to get to the rock, dig the well and drive piles down to the bottom. The damp soil would render them imperishable. Then lay the foundation on these and you would have a foundation that would last."

CHICAGO REAL ESTATE BOARD.

A special meeting of the Chicago Real Estate Board is called for to-day (Saturday), at 12:30 o'clock, to hear and to act upon a report from the Executive Committee, on securing additional room for the purpose of holding auction sales. A large attendance is requested.

C. L. HAMMOND, Secretary.

In 1849 the United States concluded a treaty with the Hawaiian Islands which contained the usual stipulation as to alien ownership of real property, providing for a reasonable time to sell such property when inherited and exempting such holdings by aliens from all duties of detraction, etc.

The treaty of 1864 with Hayti provides for the protection and succession of personal property, but is silent as to real estate.

Article II of the treaty of 1880 with Morocco contains this unique agreement as to alien land ownership.

"The right to hold property is recognized in Morocco as belonging to all foreigners. The purchase of property must take place with the previous consent of the Government, and the title of such property shall be subject to the forms prescribed by the laws of the country. Any question that may arise concerning this right shall be decided according to the same laws, with the privilege of appeal to the Minister of Foreign Affairs stipulated in the treaties."

The treaty of 1871 with the Orange Free State contains the usual clause providing for the sale of property of alien heirs without invidious taxation.

The various treaties with the Turkish Empire are silent as regards the right of foreigners to hold real estate. But in 1867 the Sublime Porte passed a law conceding to foreigners the right to hold real estate in the Ottoman Empire. This law was passed with the avowed object of developing the prosperity of the country, to put an end to the difficulties, the abuses and the uncertainties which have arisen on the subject of the right of foreigners to hold property in the Ottoman empire, and to complete, in accordance with a precise regulation, the safe-guards which are due to financial interests and to administrative action.

Under the provisions of this law, foreigners are admitted the same privilege as Ottoman subjects, and without any other restriction, to enjoy the right of holding real estate whether in the city or in the country, throughout the Empire with the exception of the province of Hedjaz, by submitting themselves to the laws and the regulations which govern Ottoman subjects. This arrangement does not concern subjects of Ottoman birth who have changed their nationality, who shall be governed in this matter by a special law.

Foreigners, proprietors of real estate in town or in country, are in consequence placed, upon terms of equality with Ottoman subjects in all things that concern their landed property. The legal effect of this equality is, to oblige them to conform to all the laws and regulations of the police of the municipality which govern at present or may govern hereafter, the enjoyment, the transmission, the alienation and the hypothecation of landed property; to pay all charges and taxes under whatever form or denomination they may be, that are levied, hereafter, upon city or country property; to render them directly amenable to the Ottoman civil tribunals in all questions relating to landed property, and in all real actions, whether as plaintiffs or defendants, even when either party is a foreigner. In short they are in all things to hold real estate by the same title on the same condition and under the same form as Ottoman owners, and without being able to avail themselves of their personal nationality, except under the reserve of the immunities attached to their persons and their movable goods, according to the treaties.

In case of bankruptcy of a foreigner possessing real estate, the assignees of the bankrupt may apply to the authorities and to the Ottoman civil tribunals requiring the sale of real estate possessed by the bankrupt, and which by nature and according to law is responsible for the debts of the owner. The same course shall be followed when a foreigner shall have obtained against another foreigner owning real estate a judgment before a foreign tribunal. For the execution of this judgment against the real estate of his debtor, he shall apply to the competent Ottoman authorities in order to obtain the sale of that real estate which is responsible for the debts of the owner; and the Ottoman authorities and tribunals shall decide whether the real estate of which the sale is required really belongs to the category of that property which may be sold for the payment of debts.

Foreigners have the privilege to dispose, by donation or by testament, of that real estate of which such disposition is permitted by law. As to that real estate of which the law does not permit them to dispose by gift or testament, its succession shall be governed by Ottoman law.

The treaty of 1832 with Russia provides, that where on the death of any person holding real estate, within the territories of the high contracting parties, such real estate would by the laws of the land descend on a citizen or a subject of the other party, who by reason of alienage may be incapable of holding it, he shall be allowed the time fixed by the laws of the country; and in case the laws of the country actually in force may not have fixed any such time, he shall then be allowed a reasonable time to sell such real estate, and to withdraw and export the proceeds without molestation, and without paying to the profit of the respective Governments any other dues than those to which the inhabitants of the country wherein said real estate is situated shall be subject to pay in like cases.

TORRENS LAND SYSTEM COMMISSION.

The commission appointed under the act of the last general assembly to report upon the Torrens system of registering land titles held a preliminary meeting at 99 Randolph street Thursday. The commission consists of Gen J. K. Edsall, Theodore Sheldon and Willis G. Jackson, of Chicago; George W. Prince of Galesburg, and Frank Jones of Springfield. They are expected to prepare a bill to be presented to the next legislature to simplify land titles and the mode of transferring lands.

Under the Torrens or Australian plan the records are written up, and transfers may be made from the final entry, certificate of title being obtained from the record r. No action was taken at the first meeting, the committee confining itself to discussing the points to be incorporated in the bill.

OF INTEREST TO BUILDERS.

A treaty of reciprocity has been entered into with Nicaragua, whereby that republic agrees to admit free of duty among other things, the following:

Wood and lumber in the rough, or prepared for building purposes; houses of wood or iron; tools and implements for agricultural and horticultural purposes; wagons, carts and hand-carts, iron and steel in rails for railroads and other similar uses, and structural iron and steel for bridges and building purposes; wire for fences, with or without barbs, clamps, posts, clips and other accessories; machinery of all kinds for agricultural purposes and parts of such machinery; motors of steam or animal power: forges; water pumps of metal; pump hose; sledge-hammers; drills for mining purposes; iron piping, with its keys and faucets; crucibles for melting metals; iron water-tanks and lightning rods; roofs of galvanized iron; gutters, ridging, clamps and screws for the same.

A CHANGE IN THE PROGRAM.

BRAINS, NOT BOODLE, SHALL MAKE THE LAWS.

The people who have heretofore been the servants of the Common Council will now proceed to investigate the conduct of their masters. * * * * * The cry of Wolf! Wolf! so often heard before will now be heeded. The "lambs" whose cries were unheard in years past will now be defended, and a vigorous wolf hunt will be organized to beat the bushes. The people who pay taxes; the toilers who labor six days and rest one, each week, that they may be able to renew their tasks; the editor whose warnings were never heeded will now have the satisfaction of looking on a struggle that promises to result in one of the most disgraceful disclosures ever made in the history of any city. Boodleism is challenged by the people and it will be war to the knife. Innocent men will no doubt be smirched because of the company they were compelled to keep, but the investigation must proceed, though it drag down "influoential men." This thing of spending a thousand dollars a year for the privilege of making less than $200 is too thin. The office will hereafter seek the man and not the man the office.

The newspapers have fought nobly and without pay, but they will yet receive their reward. Business will be better, money more plentiful among honest people, ministers will feel encouraged, justice will be meted out to wrong doers, dead beats and bribe takers will take up their beds and walk, and judges and juries will be fearless when backed by the powerful reserve force of the people.

No wonder honest men have been held back to make room for boodlers; no wonder intelligence has stood abashed while ignorant blatherskites sounded their trumpets; no wonder young men ceased to declaim the speeches of Webster, of Clay, of Henry and other patriotic orators, when our law-makers could defy decency, shake their fists at old Lindley Murray and slaughter the kings English. We can now indulge a faint hope that a young man can aspire to be something and somebody if he has but intelligence and honesty. The powers that be to-wit: The Stock Yards, the Yerkes syndicate, the Gas Octopus and the Gamblers must change their henchmen for men of education and ability at least if they want recognition in our Councils.

There are still other steals which have never been exposed, viz: vacant school sites, school furniture, school text books within the jurisdiction of the Board of Education and a score of contractors under the jurisdiction of the Board of Public Works. We have been making the diagnosis all along, now we will give some medicine.

SALE OF DAKOTA SCHOOL LANDS.

The annual sale of Dakota school lands took place at Grand Forks, N. D., March 15. In three Red River Valley counties 10,000 acres were sold; in Walsh County 15,000; Richland 16,000. In Trail, Grand Forks and Cass counties the sales were deferred until April 6, on account of an attempt at illegal advertising by the state board in order, it is said, to favor partisan newspapers in exchange for political support. The county boards refused to recognize the illegal advertising. In Pembina County the board revoked the notice of sale and a new date has not been fixed. The Walsh county sales aggregate $191.-000; average $20 per acre. One quarter, with a railroad station six miles away, sold for $38 per acre.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The industrial progress of the South has been often commented upon, but we venture the assertion that the average reader is but inadequately informed as to the real condition of the South of to-day, as compared with that of thirty years ago. When the war closed, the South was almost absolutely destitute of any of the facilities of commerce which are so highly prized to-day. Even the ordinary method of transportation by stage-coach was in many localities a luxury, or actually unknown. Travel and communication was restricted to the use of mule teams on poor roads, or more frequently to pedestrian journeys by the great mass of the people whose property had been swallowed up in the rebellion. In a few favored localities there were narrow-guage railways, using rails and cars of such light weight as to be useless for heavy loads. These railways were so few and so poorly equipped as to be almost useless, even as revenue producers to their own stockholders. In short, the South at the close of the war had little else left but its soil, its climate and its natural resources of mineral and timber lands

How great a change has taken place may be illustrated by a few figures from the recent bulletin of the Census Bureau. In place of a few miles of straggling and broken down railroad, the six states of Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee and Kentucky had in 1889, 16,532 miles of well-equipped broad guage track, which earned a total for the year of $71,846,115. The cotton product has grown so large that the farmers are beginning to cry out against over-production. The cotton seed which was formerly a waste product, is now a valuable article of commerce. In 1890, immense phosphate fields were discovered in Florida. In 1891, 200,000 tons of the rock were sent to market. Ten years ago the states of Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee and Alabama, were almost non-producers of coal and pig iron. The annual output of these states has now reached 2,000,000 tons of pig iron, and 20,000,000 tons of coal, so that the south is even now laying claim to the future centre of the steel and iron industries of the continent. The first great step in the industrial progress of the South has been taken, and the future will be more wonderful than the past.

The National Real Estate Convention at Nashville, recognized the importance of good roads, by extending a resolution of co-operation with the League of American Wheelmen, in their effort to secure road legislation in the various states. Road making is fast coming to be regarded as one of the most useful branches of civil engineering, and the construction of good roads is rightly considered one of the greatest advantages a section of country can obtain. So much so that the legislatures of several states have made road making the subject of special legislation. Within the past few years books have been written on the science of road making, and instructorships in road engineering have been established in some of our leading technical schools.

The advantages of good roads to individuals and towns are so apparent as hardly to need mention here. The farmer is directly benefited by the improved facility afforded by a good road in bringing his produce to market. But the town or village which fosters good roads is very greatly benefited, by thus attracting to itself traffic which would otherwise go elsewhere. Examples of this kind could be given where towns have doubled their population by road improvement. But perhaps as good an example as any is that of Chicago, which has profited most of all from the fact that it is the greatest railroad centre on the continent, for, after all, railroads are merely improved roads on a larger scale.

Much has been said, sometimes justly but often unjustly, in detraction of the Chicago city council and individual aldermen. It is not to be expected that all aldermen will be honest men, much less that they will be angels. There is, no doubt, good cause for criticism. Abuses exist which need remedying. Men unworthy of a seat in the municipal board manage to secure election to that body. They even court the support of the lowest element of the community. They have been known to give bribes to secure their election and to take bribes after their election. Readers of the JOURNAL are familiar with very many shortcomings on the part of Chicago aldermen. But in this connection we would like to present by way of contrast, the statement of a resident of another city with reference to the politicians of his own state. Charles J. Bonaparte, in the Forum, says of the office-holders of Maryland:

"Many of these men have criminal records; those who have not are indebted for immunity, not to any public belief in their innocence, not even in most cases, to the want of tangible evidence against them, but simply to their "pull" Whether technically criminals or not, they are the allies and patrons of habitual law breakers. Try to prosecute a gambler or brothel keeper, or offender against the liquor laws, and you are morally certain to find him shielded by the influence of some politician. Indeed, the wishes of professional offenders of the classes indicated have great weight in the choice of public officers, at least in Baltimore; while it was doubtful whom the bosses would select as State's attorney last autumn, one of the candidates openly congratulated himself on being promised the support of 'all the policy-dealers except two.'"

The duty of the United States Government toward the Nicaragua canal is well set forth by a contemporary, who quotes an ex-senator as having said: "The canal must go as our canal. It would be stark madness to have it otherwise." The time has come when the government should step forward and at once and forever settle the long delayed question of interoceanic communication, by ensuring the completion of the Nicaragua canal.

The recent action of the State Department, alluded to in another portion of this journal, in securing reciprocity relations with Nicaragua, as well as the fact that the attitude of foreign nations demands of this country the application of the Monroe doctrine to its relations with Central and South American countries as far as possible—these considerations make it highly important that the United States Government should assist the Nicaragua canal project by every legitimate means within its power.

The bill now before Congress was drawn up by the Foreign Relations Committee of the Senate, and that committee is unanimous in its support of the measure. The bill provides that the government, in consideration of guaranteeing the expense of the undertaking, shall have entire control of the directory from the beginning; that five years after the completion of the canal, the government may demand every share of stock in the company at par value; and that after less than twenty years, the government would secure entire ownership and possession of the canal, and that too, without having expended one dollar. The United States, in defense of its own commercial interests, can not afford to let such a generous offer pass unaccepted.

The demolition of the old Storey mansion at Grand Boulevard and Forty-third street, is a matter of almost historic interest. The building is of fine Vermont marble, and is located on a five-acre tract which has now become very valuable. The ground will be cut up into forty-eight lots and sold for the benefit of the heirs, and the building will be torn down and the marble used in its construction will be put into other structures.

It is said that after his tour in Europe, Mr. Storey decided to erect a residence in imitation of the old baronial castles he had seen on the Rhine. Mr. Storey was a firm believer in spiritualism, and he changed his plans from time to time as directed by a familiar spirit known as "Little Squaw." This dusky spirit knew but little of the necessities of earthly architecture, for when work on the structure ceased, $150,000 had been spent, and $75,000 more was needed, and when completed, the place would have been worthless for a residence. The porter's lodge at the main gate cost $7,500, and was the only completed structure—a lovely cottage of Vermont marble. The heirs at first designed to complete the building for a hotel, and next for a sanitarium, but both schemes were pronounced impracticable, and so Storey's marble folly returns to its original blocks, which can be turned to humbler uses.

EFFECTS OF SILVER AGITATION.

The "free-coinage-of-silver" question like every other financial problem has many sides to it. The position taken by the JOURNAL has been against free coinage of silver and its probable effects have been pointed out from time to time in these columns.

The policy of European holders of American securities has always been to send over their bonds and stocks whenever they needed money and whenever there was a likelihood of legislation by the American Congress antagonistic to their interests. Both of these conditions, to some extent, exist now and have existed for some time.

A contemporary has the following on the subject: The silver coinage agitation in the United States says Henry Clews, is causing the return of American securities and that their sale in our markets is the secret of the outflow of gold. He claims that the silver agitation and fear of free coinage has thrown upon the American markets $100,000,000 of American securities in the past fourteen months. These securities are in the shape of bonds of corporations. They are not due and presented for redemption. If they are purchased in our market it shows that they are considered good by American capitalists, silver or no silver. In the future no gold will go to Europe in payment of interest on these bonds.

It is not the fear of free silver coinage that is sending American railway securities back on the American market; it is the will of the Rothschild's, an imperialism that rules the nations of the earth, and compels the kings and potentates to dance at its command. It is the power felt, yet unseen, that stands behind the tottering thrones dictating to them its policy of plunder, rapine, bloodshed and crime, involving in its serpent coils all nations, people and tongues. It is the "great red dragon" spoken of in holy writ. It will practice and prosper for a season, but the time of its end draweth nigh.

As these bonds were not due their shipment here for sale could not force gold out of the country unless they could find voluntary purchasers. If purchased under these circumstances they must have been obtained at a bargain and to the advantage of the American purchaser. If the free silver coinage agitation has caused this effect it is well for the nation to have more of it. Mr. Clews, however, knows better than all this; his talk is bosh. Gold is wanted in Europe by Austria and other countries to keep up a gold basis and the prices offered for gold by the governments collecting gold reserves justifies the sacrifice now being made by holders of American securities to get American gold.

CENTRAL AND SPECULATIVE VALUES.

There are two classes of values which induce investment and speculation in all cities; the one is central and intrinsic, the other is suburban and comparative. Central values regulate all others as naturally as does the great drive-wheel preside over the movements of extensive systems of machinery. We do not mean by this to say that there may not come periods when the values of suburban property may be estimated in proportion far above the central or intrinsic values by which they are regulated. The buying and selling price of such properties generally increase in inverse proportion to their distance from central values. The shrewd speculator, although he may seem to pay little attention to the value of any but suburban property, always fixed in his mind a price regulated by central values, beyond which his judgement tells him it is unsafe to venture and dangerous to remain any length of time.

It has been urged in favor of real estate activity here that the area embraced by central values, so-called, is so extensive as to form a legitimate basis of speculation for the entire unimproved property within the city limits. Admitting that the central district lies east of Twelfth street, and extends for four miles north and south, the field for great investments in either improved or unimproved central property, becomes at once apparent, There are possibilities for great enterprise here, whose increasing usefulness and prosperity perhaps can find no parallel in any Western city. The many schemes which are continually brought to light in the way of elevated and electric railroad companies, switching facilities, warehouses and freight depots, go to show that the eye of the capitalist recognizes that for large investments, east of Twelfth street is the best place.

To the speculator nothing could be more encouraging than just this very thing, for he understands that when business begins in the central districts, it is bound to bring about conditions which encourage extensive speculation in the suburban property, and so he forms his companies, secures his options, and quietly waits for some man who will pay him several thousand dollars for his pains.

It is seldom a city finds itself in a position to offer the greatest inducements to both; speculative and investment capital rarely remains in that position long; for the very knowledge of such facts on the part of capitalists, will change the whole picture. We believe, however, that the position of this city, the circumstances of its past and present development, place it very nearly in this inviting attitude.

There are opportunities here that will pay big returns on the millions, and at the same time there are thousands of chances for the mechanic to buy a home site at from $10 to $15 a foot, and get a house built on the installment plan. Our city is cosmopolitan in the true sense of the word and invites all alike to come and be made happy.—Real Estate Bulletin.

CAPITALIZED FOR $30,000,000.

AIR SHIP SURE THIS TIME. CHICAGO IN IT.

"We shall begin to manufacture airships at our Mount Carmel works next Monday said Mr. E. J. Pennington at a recent interview with a JOURNAL reporter recently. The Pennington Aerial Mail, Express and Construction Company, of Chicago was incorporated at Springfield recently with a capital of $30,000,000, the object being the building and operating of air. hips. In several points the machine we shall now build will differ from the model shown at the Exposition Building in 1891. Let me give you a brief description of the airship as we shall now build it. The gas holder or buoyancy chamber will be in shape something like a cigar and will be divided into a number of gas-light compartments, arranged around a central pipe, into which each compartment will open. The whole chamber will be braced both longitudinally and vertically by hollow shafts, which will also be filled with gas. The buoyancy chamber will be of aluminum of this thickness." and Mr. Penniugton showed a sheet of aluminum the thickness of good note paper.

"The whole of our airship will be of aluminum which we hold to be the lightest and toughest metal known. At present aluminum costs $1 a pound—it has been sold as low as 50 cents. It is claimed that the lowest price for which aluminum can be produced is 11 cents per pound. I know that it can be produced for 3 cents a pound, and at that price we can obtain and use it. Right here in Chicago aluminum can be and is produced at this price." The "air ship" as described above is about as practical as three-fourths of the projects incorporated in this State. But a miracle would indeed be refreshing in these degenerate days.

LATE LEGAL DECISIONS.

The Supreme Court of Illinois recent'y filed an interesting opinion in reference to the statutes of limitations as regards mortgages.

Mortgages were executed in 1848 when the limitation law of 1845 was in force. There was default in payment of interest August 1876. A bill to foreclose was filed February 11, 1889. The defense set up the bar of the statute, act of April 4, 1882, as the suit was not commenced for nealy thirteen years after the cause of action had accrued.

Held, that if these mortgages had been given to secure pomissory notes dated in 1848, and if such notes had not matured, or right to sue on them had not been accrued until 1876, they would be governed by the limitation law of 1845, not by that of 1872.

In this case the mortgages do not describe any notes or bonds, or recite that they are given to secure any notes or bonds or that the indebtedness named in them is evidenced by notes or bonds. The covenants do not impose any personal obligations on the maker, and none of the limitation acts wich precede the act of 1872 apply to such mortgages. The act of 1845 is not applicable.

Held, that as no limitation act existed before the act of 1872 which included these mortgages the saving clause of section 24 does not apply, and the mortgages must be held as barred by the act of 1872.

The Supreme Court of Massachusetts has held where a note is not presented for payment at matnrity to an endorser in order to charge him with liability thereafter it must be shown that with full knowledge that he was discharged of all liability he promised to pay the debt, or made a partial payment; reviving the lapsed liability. The fact that the maker of the note has it in his possession is only prima facie evidence of payment, which may be rebutted by proof that it had not in fact been paid.

The Supreme Court of Illinois, in the case of Stockton vs. the City of Chicago, has decided that a proceeding to condemn a strip of land over lots for an alley, the measure of damages to the lots and buildings thereon is the difference in value before and after the alley is opened, and in determining that question it is proper to take into consideration any special benefits the property not taken will receive by the contemplated improvement.

On a condemnation proceeding, the burden of proof is on the land owner to show the dama ges to the parts of the property not taken.

In determining whether or not the verdict of a j ury in a condemnation proceeding should be sustained, great weight will be given to the fact that the jury have examined the premises before making their verdict.

AGENTS' BUDGET.

Recent sales, however small, not yet recorded, will be reported in this column. All matter must apply to the real estate business and real estate men.

Malcolm T. Hart and Milton R. Hart, of Crown Point, Ind., and Mrs. Julia B. Follett of Chicago have sold to a Minneapolis syndicate, about 2900 acres adjoining and southeast of Maynard, Indiana, at $200 per acre. This makes the largest sale of the year in Lake County property, aggregating $580,000.

E. P. Hotchkiss & Co. have sold this week for Wm. E. Murphy to Arthur Kraber, 25 feet south front on 63rd street 130 feet east of Cottage Grove avenue for $5,000. This is the highest price yet paid for inside property on 63rd street between State street and Sheridan avenue. The property was bought for immediate improvement.

F. W. Balsmyder & Co. have sold for Frank D. Turner. the four-story store and flat building Nos. 170 and 172 Lincoln avenue, with two brick houses Nos. 513 and 515 Cleveland avenue for $40,000; fifty feet on St. Lawrence avenue near 48th street, for Frank K. Jones for $5,200; and 200 feet on the northeast corner of Vincennes avenue and 49th street for Maurice Fleming for $30,000.

Sam Brown Jr. reports an excellent demand for lots in the Sheridan Drive subdivision and has now about fifteen houses in process of construction in that neighborhood. He is confident that it will not be long before lots in this subdivision will be sold at $100 a foot.

The Committee of Nine to revise the building laws of the city, so far as formed, now consists of Ald. Kent, chairman, Alds. Madden, Sexton, L. B. Dixon and O'Neill from the Council, Willis G. Jackson, representing the Real Estate Board, Dankmar Adler, the Society of Architects and James Monahan, the Building Trades Council. The Beard of Underwriters have yet to name their representative. The committee will then organize and proceed to business,

Wm. A. Merigold & Co. sold yesterday: The premises 482 S. Halsted street, for $15,500; the premises 151 Sangamon street, for $8,500; the premises 3664 Indiana avenue for $6,000. The same firm also report the following sales made during the week: 275 feet on W. 41st street near 30th for $3,625; residence on W. 41st street near 30th for $2,500; seventy-five feet on Crawford avenue south of 29th, $1,800; 125 feet on W. 42d street near 30th for $2,550; seventy-five feet on W. 40th place near 13th for $1,800; twenty five feet on Forquer street west of Desplaines street, north front, $280; southeast corner Seymour avenue and Augusta street for $1,450.

Dunlap Smith & Co. have sold 43·3x72.5 feet at Nos. 569 and 571 State street for Carrie Jackson to Adolph Uphof for $40,000. This property is opposite the site of the proposed Elevated Terminal depot and just north of Twelfth street. Dunlap Smith & Co. have also sold the building and leasehold Nos. 3005 to 3009 Cottage Grove avenue for a syndicate to Z. S. Holbrook for $25,000. The property is known as the Warwick Flats. The building contains fifteen flats and three stores, and occupies a street frontage of seventy feet. Less than a year ago the fee of this property was sold to E. E. Spence for $36,000. The same firm also reports the sale of the northwest corner of Wabash avenue and 36th street, 24x169 feet, improved with a three-story stone front building, for $17,000, and seventy feet at the northwest corner of Oxford court and Stanton avenue for $10,175 cash. The first piece of property is opposite the Ozark Flats and was sold for Christine Uphof to Oliver Jackson. The Stanton avenue corner was purchased by Isaac D. Rothchild from Messrs. Probasco and Chase and is to be improved with a four-story apartment house covering the entire lot.

B. S. Holbrook has leased the property Nos. 207 and 209 Wabash avenue from Mrs. Edward Ely for a term of 99 years at an annual rental of $13,000. The property has a frontage of 46 feet and is 171 feet deep. It has an east frontage. This deal will be recognized as supplementary to a lease made by Mr. Holbrock last year. He then leased Nos. 211 and 213 Wabash avenue from Cyrus M. Hawley for a term of ninety-nine years at an annual rental of $9,500 for five years and $10,000 for the remainder of the term. The lease of the Hawley property established a capitalized value on the land at Nos. 211 and 213 Wabash avenue at $200,000, while the recent lease places a land valuation on Nos. 207 and 209 of $260,000. The combined property, 80x171 feet, will be left as it is for five years. When the term leases expire a first-class building will be erected covering the entire lot.

At a meeting of the Board of Managers of the Inverness Land Association hold Wednesday afternoon, it was decided to at once improve its property at Wilmette with stone curbs, sidewalks and macadamized pavements, graded parkways, sewer and water service.

The instruments have all been executed which provide the Chicago Press club with a site for a permanent home. The deed for 48x171 feet on Michigan avenue, sixty-eight feet north of Madison street, runs from Mrs. A. N. Kellogg to a representative of the firm of Joseph R. Putnam & Co. In turn the deed of the property runs to a representative of the C. H McCormick estate for $125,000. H. H. Kohlsaat, acting as trustee for the Press club, has taken a lease of the lot from the McCormick estate for a term of ninety-nine years at 5 per cent on $130,000—an annual rental of

George C. Watts has sold to Wm. W. Stewart the residence No. 4611 Ellis avenue for $14,500; fifty feet on Drexel avenue, near 53rd street, to J. Sager for $6,250; and fifty feet adjoining to Wm. Hagenbuck for $6,250.

J. W. Dooley & Co. report the sale of the premises No. 6320 Cottage Grove avenue for $8,500 for Annie E. Tate. This is about $250 a foot for the ground and is said to be the highest price ever paid for inside frontage on Cottage Grove avenue south of 47th street.

The Clifton House property at the northwest corner of Wabash avenue and Monroe street, was leased in 1872 by the Joel C. Walter estate for a term of forty years on a 6 per cent rental, based on a valuation made every five years. The last revalnation was made in 1887, and determined a rental of $12,000 a year. This, on a 6 per cent basis, represented a land valuation of $200.000. Since that time, the lessees, Woodstock & Loring, have complained of the rentals. They have just made an arrangement whereby the sliding scale lease is changed into a straight lease, and the annual rental for twenty years will be $22,000. On a 6 per cent capitalization basis, this places a valne of $366,666 on the land. The lot has a frontage of 76½ feet by a depth of 170 feet. The front foot valnation would be about $4,800, or something over $27 a square foot. This compromise which has been secured by Messrs. Woodcock & Loring is considered especially favorable. A number of experts chosen by one of the interested parties over a month ago, placed a valuation of $37.50 a square foet upon the property. Under the terms of the original lease the rental for the next five years would be over $29,000.

The apartment building now being erected by A. J. Toolen and Frank H. Clark, on the corner of Greenwood avenue and 44th street, will be called "The Lakewood." Work is being advanced rapidly and the building will be ready for occupancy by May 1st. Leases have already been signed for a number of apartments in the building.

A unique plan for paying for a new church is that adopted by the Baptists of Woodlawn Park, who propose to erect a two story mansard roof building, 50x75 feet. The second story of the edifice will be divided into thirty-five rooms, which will be rented out singly during the World's Fair. It is expected by this means to very nearly pay for the church.

Plans have been completed for the brick store and flat building that Wm. Fruin, 518 Chamber of Commerce, is going to erect on Ogden avenue boulevard, just east of Tolman avenue. The building will be 24½ feet wide, 58 feet deep and three stories high, It will have a stone front and the interior will be equipped with modern conveniences. The cost will be about $6,000. The owner will receive bids for the work.

TOPEKA TO THE FRONT.

The first ninety-nine year lease ever made in Topeka and, from all available information, the first ever made in the State of Kansas, has just been closed. Theodore Terry, of Zanesville, Ohio, has leased to Frank Zieger, of Youngstown, Ohio, for ninety-nine years, his valuable hotel property at the capital city of Kansas. The deal was negotiated by Walter B. McBride, the well-known Chicago broker, and is, for two reasons, a peculiarly interesting transaction, viz.: it is, as above stated, the first long term lease ever made in that city, and, according to the terms of the lease, the property is to be transferred by warranty deed and free of all incumbrances to the lessee, or his heirs, at the end of the term, without consideration. The property consists of 150x150 feet of ground at the southwest corner of Fifth avenue and Quincy street, and a four-story brick and stone hotel and six stores. The rental is to be $2,400 per annum, which is practically giving $237,600 for the property and having ninety-nine years to pay it in, without interest. The hotel was built about twenty years ago and is a very substantial building. It contains fifty-five sleeping rooms, well finished office, dining room and bar room. It was formerly run by the Hankla brothers, who now conduct the National hotel, in the L. Z. Leiter building, at the corner of Kansas avenue and Seventh street. The fine post office building is right across the street from this property and the costly new county building is to be erected only a block away. The lessee intends to at once to handsomely refit the hotel and will personally manage it. Mr. Terry, who is a retired capitalist and who resided in Topeka for a number of years, was represented in this deal by Ex-Governor John Martin, attorney.

BIG INDUSTRY FOR GRIFFITH.

Within thirty feet of the new depot of the Chicago and Erie railroad and one hundred feet north of Main street, in the town of Griffith, excavations are being made for the large building to be erected for the Rau Manufacturing Company, now located on Monroe street on the West Side. It will be L shaped, with a total frontage of over four hundred feet. The exterior will be of Joliet stone and Indiana red brick with red mortar. A portion of the material is now on the ground and by the first of May the building will be completed, the machinery will all be in place and everything will be ready for the factory to start work. The company, of which Chas. E. Rand is president, manufactures railroad and machinist's brass and tin oilers and benzine cans; also a full line of the Elgin lanterns, besides a number of other specialties. Mr. F. E. Blakeslee, manager of the Rau Manufacturing Company, with Jay Dwiggings and a party of surveyors, visited Griffith last week and selected the above described ground as being one of the most advantageously located factory sites in that manufacturing district. The decision of this well-known company to move their plant to Griffith, has already increased the inquiries from manufacturers regarding that locality, as a consequence of which the group of industries there will doubtless be given a number of new additions very soon.

RULES FOR THE INSPECTION AND GRADING OF LUMBER.

Inspectors of lumber are not manufacturers and must measure and inspect lumber as they find it, of full length and width (except as to wane, which must be measured out and inspected in a lower grade), making no allowance for the purpose of raising grade.

Inspectors must use their best judgment, based upon these rules for their guidance.

The standard knot shall not exceed 1¼ inches in diameter, and must be of a sound character.

Splits are always more or less damage to a piece of lumber. An allowance must be made, either in determining the quality or quantity, according to the nature of the split. A split extending to exceed one foot will reduce it to one grade lower.

Reaches must be 2x4, or 2½x4½ inches, and the lengths 8, 10, 12 and 16 feet.

Harrow timber must be 2½x2½ inches, and the lengths 5, 10 and 14 feet.

Hickory axles must be clear, and in lengths of 6 or 12 feet, for sizes 3½x4½, 4x5, 4x6, 4½x6 and 7 or 14 feet, for 5x6 and 5x7 on special order, cut from sound, tough, butt logs.

Wagon tongues must be clear and straight, 3x4 at small end and 4x4 at the butt end, or 2½x4½ at small end and 4½x4½ at butt end, 12 feet long, from tough, straight-grained timber.

Bolsters, reaches, harrow timber, hickory axles and wagon tongues not up to grade of clear, will be classed as cull.

Standard thickness shall be 1, 1¼, 1½, 2, 2½, 3 and 4 inches, except poplar, which will allow 5-8 inch.

When lumber is sold on this market to be measured merchantable, the inspector must measure full, except in culls, which are to be measured at one half.

It is important that all lumber should be parallel in width, square edged, and with square ends. Tapering lumber is measured at the small end. Ordinary season checks are not defects,

Squares must be clear, 4x4, 6x6, 7x7 and 8x8 inches.

Stains, specks, hearts, shakes, rot, worm-holes, holes, etc., are considered serious defects, reducing lumber to grades lower than firsts and seconds.

Log-run is the entire cut of the log, mill culls out.

Lumber should be sawed plump thickness, otherwise it is not considered marketable, and must be reduced to the next standard thickness or at least one grade lower, on account of thinness.

A cull below the standard thickness is a mill cull.

A cull which will not work one half of its size free from all defects, is a mill cull and no recognized value and no account is necessary to be made of it.

When lumber or timber does not come up to the grade or contract, it must be placed in the next lower grade named.

Lumber sawed for specific purposes, such as axles, bolsters, tongues, reaches, newels, balusters, squares, etc., must be inspected with a view to the adaptability of the piece for the intended use, as in many cases, it cannot be used for other purposes.

Wagon stock must be clear, cut from good, live, sound, tough, straight-grained timber.

Timbers must be free from unsound knots. Sound hearts not showing on the outside will be allowed.

In the grade of firsts and seconds, the purchaser is entitled to the full average of firsts, which must not be less than 33⅓ per cent.

Standard lengths are always recognized as being 12, 14, and 16 feet. Shorter than 12 and longer than 16 feet does not come within the range of standard. In black walnut and cherry an exception is made, and ten feet is a standard length. Shorter or longer than standard lengths, in all varieties of hardwood lumber, except in counter tops, are reduced one grade lower.

Common and cull lumber must be 8 feet and over long, except cherry and walnut, which must be 6 feet and over long.

Mixed lots, containing boards, planks, flooring, bolsters, reaches, etc., shall be measured and inspected according to the rules governing the measurement and inspection of boards and planks.

EDGEMOOR.

We are now offering for sale blocks and lots in EDGEMOOR the new suburb on the Chicago Central road, at 79th street. Edgemoor is one half mile square and includes 160 acres of the beautiful ridge property in the southwest part of the city, with an east frontage on Western ave., and a north frontage on 79th st. The Chicago Central, the Northern Pacific's new suburban road, runs directly through the center of the property with a depot at 81st st.

On this road will be inaugurated, within 90 days, the most complete train service as to elaborateness of equipment and quick running time, given on any suburban road in the city. The scheduled time from Edgemoor to the Grand Central depot will be 22 minutes, The south 80 acres of Edgemoor will be improved in a high class manner the coming season, the improvements to include water and sewer, macadam streets, granite cement walks six feet wide, combination curb and gutter also of granite cement and a double row of trees. A special form of warranty deed has been prepared which establishes a 20 foot building line, a $3,000 building restriction, and also prohibits factories of all kinds and the use of buildings for saloon purposes. Contracts for the grading and sidewalk and curb and gutter work have already been let. The work will be begun soon as the ground is in condition in the spring and all of the improvements will be pushed to completion as rapidly as possible. The contract for the side-walk and curb and gutter work on the 80 acres has been let to The Northwestern Asphalt Co. the cost being $50,000. Several houses will be built and occupied by June 15th. We are prepared to offer special inducements to individual investors and syndicates who will take a five acre block interest in the property. LIBERAL COMMISSIONS PAID TO BROKERS AND AGENTS.

CASINO.

Haverly's Mastodon Minstrels are, without question, the most complete organization that has ever appeared in Chicago, and their performances at the Casino (Eden Musee) have been endorsed in most thorough manner by all classes of amusement seekers. Particularly attractive are the entertainments to out-town visitors, who after an inspection of the various objects of interest in the Musee department, attend the minstrel concerts. The program of the past week has been very pleasing, but the coming week will be a gala week, commemorative of Ireland's patron saint, St. Patrick, the great and good, whose birthday is celebrated throughout the entire civilized world. The program will include all the members of the company, and Irish ballads will predominate. The theater will be decorated and draped with the national colors and flags, and our beautiful wax figure of Robert Emmett will be exhibited free. A new singer will be heard in the person of Mr. Albert Yale, well known to all Canadians as a vocalist of much merit. Banks Winter the celebrated tenor, will have a new song. The comedians Rice, Hall, Denton, Rudworth, Bogert, and O'Brien will have new specialties. Ellwood, the wonderful male soprano, will display new feminine toilets. Constantine, the dancer, will execute new solos, and Harry Budworth will repeat his new repertoire. The latter's song, "Come to Baltimore," has "caught the town" and is encored three and four times every performance. Altogether, the week will be one long to be remembered, and all desirous of hearty, wholesome pleasure should not fail to attend. "Excelsior" is Mr. Haverly's motto. Much has been done by this gentleman "but more remains behind."

INDUSTRIAL DEPARTMENT.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Company's 6,150 miles of road traverses a vast territory, rich in all the resources that insure industrial success.

The Industrial Department is conversant with the Iron, Coal, Lumber and Tanbark, the Water-Power (both river and artesian) for factory and electric power purposes, the markets, the transportation and financial facilities, and other interests on the line pertaining to industrial development, and disseminates information concerning same.

A number of new factories has been induced to locate—largely through the instrumentality of this Company—at enterprising towns on its lines.

As the interest of the Company is to secure the location of industries at places where the surroundings will insure their permanent success, the information furnished a particular industry is pertinent and reliable.

In the Eastern States and in other parts of the world factories are so congested and distant from the actual markets as to result in fierce and destructive competition. That the West is taking a place as one of the great manufacturing territories of the world is forcibly impressing itself upon discerning and enterprising manufacturers. Steps should be taken by such while the field is as yet not fully covered, and while inducements are still being offered, to locate in the West.

Individuals or companies wishing to embark capital in Western industry can find a profitable field.

Finance and Trade.

The general business situation shows signs of improvement. This in turn affects the real estate business. The money market continues easy, and large capitalists are looking to investments in acres and improved property, with a view to realizing more than they are getting in the way of interest. Smaller buyers are gradually coming to the front. Altogether the situation is one of increased activity and stronger confidence.

Though money continues easy, the demand is steadily improving and the tendency is to keep the rate very stiff. The fact is that though money is secured as low as 4 per cent, it is on the sharpest call. Brokers are afraid of a sudden change in the relative conditions of supply and demand for money, which will sweep away the margin of profit that might be secured. This doubtless accounts for the fact that brokers are not generally availing themselves of the opportunity to make a profit of from ½ to 2 per cent interest by using money to carry stocks. The silver agitation has been largely responsible for this state of affairs, but the recent victory of the anti-silver men in the House has had the effect greatly to strengthen the stock market and will be directly beneficial to the entire investment field. Though the measure is by no means dead, it is so far out of the way as to be no longer a menace to the business interests of the country, at least for the present.

The talk of war between England and the United States has already had its effect in depressing the stock market. Of course the bears will let no opportunity slip to weight down the market with rumors, true or false. But there can be no doubt that the relations between England and the United States are at present somewhat strained, and any serious intimation of war would be received with great alarm in the financial centers of both nations. It seems hardly probable that there can be any immediate danger of war between two nations so intimately connected commercially as England and the United States. If such a misfortune should befall, it would be attended with the most direful results financially.

The attention of the public has recently been turned to the investigation of option trading as practiced on the board of trade. A strong pressure has been brought to bear against this form of trading, and much evidence has been submitted to show that it is not beneficial to commercial interests generally. The recent experience of Mr. Ed Pardridge on the Chicago board of trade is the most remarkable example of the kind Chicago has ever seen. It illustrates also the prevailing tendency of the wheat market to drop after a speculative and artificial boom in prices. In August last, May wheat sold at $1.18¼, Thursday of this week it sold at 80¼ and Mr. Pardridge practically closed out his deals with a total profit of about $1,500,000, A little over a year ago Mr. Pardridge began his operations on the board and in a short time succeeded in losing $600,000. In order to recover this loss he is said to have put a $350,000 mortgage on his State street store building, worth $1,000,000, and with this addition to his capital he again faced the market and succeeded after nearly a year of hard and continuous fighting in winning the enormous fortune with which he now retires. This result affords an excellent illustration of the viscissitudes of option trading. Incidentally also it affects the local real estate situation, inasmuch as Mr. Pardridge announces his intention of investing the bulk of his winnings in real property.

The foregoing is a good illustration of the way in which the general financial situation affects the real estate market. When business is good investments are active and the transfer list becomes interesting; but when general trade is at a standstill the real estate market is first to suffer. An authority on the financial outlook maintains that until the silver ghost is killed, or laid by for the time being, no marked change can be expected. A big change and an active market are looked for within the next ten days and an upward movement that will last well into the month of June. By that time the wheat crop will be a known factor and from present indications it will equal last year's crop if it does not surpass it. If it is good, July and August will be the big months of the year. With the silver-uncertainity out of the way, the wheat crop assured and the iron business looking up, the World's Fair is bound to keep the investment spirit active for two years to come.

The bank clearings for the week show considerable improvement over those of the week preceding, but not such an advance as would naturally be expected at this time of the year. The total percentage of increase over the corresponding week of last year, for all cities outside of New York is the same as that reported last week, viz,, 7.6 per cent. New York city shows a considerable falling off, both in volume of clearings and in percent of increase, which is accounted for by the fact that, while imports of merchandise have shown an increase of 10.4 per cent for the week, domestic exports have increased only 6 per cent.

Boston, Chicago, Philadelphia, St. Louis, San Francisco, Baltimore, Pittsburg, Cincinnati and New Orleans all show increased returns over last week. At Boston there has been a noticeable improvement in the dry goods trade and shipments of boots and shoes have been heavier than usual. At Chicago the same strong demand for dry goods and shoes has been noticed. There has been a falling off in the clothing trade, due to the bad weather. Receipts of wheat are three times those of last year, of barly and dressed beef twice, and an increase of two-thirds is seen in flour and one-third in rye and cattle. The principal decreases are observed in the dressed meat industry. On the whole, the improvement in trade has been sufficient to raise the total of Chicago's clearings for the week by over $3,000,000. The improvement at Philadelphia is in dry goods. At St. Louis wholesale business in all lines is greatly in excess of last year's, and collections are easy. Country merchants are buying more and better goods. San Francisco's clearings show a gain of nearly a million dollars over last week. Baltimore gains more than a million. Pittsburg gains in the face of a poor demand for iron products. The shoe industry at Cincinnati is busy and swells the clearings of that city in spite of the strike in the harness and saddlery business. At New Orleans the situation is improved, notwithstanding a tendency to depression caused by heavy receipts of cotton and a corresponding decline in the price of that staple.

Many of the minor cities show decreased returns as compared with last week. The general situation shows trade much retarded by storms, bad weather, and bad roads, especially in the smaller cities. There has been an active demand for money in the West and a fairly good demand at the South, with an ample supply everywhere. The increases shown by the table are due almost wholly to an improved demand for manufactured products.

It is noticeable that the returns from Canada show a marked falling off from last week.

Totals,	$ 1,180,051,628	$1,031,709,318

As will be seen by the above table the Southern and Farwestern are the only groups that show decreasing percentages. That of the Farwestern assumes the remarkable proportion of 21.5 per cent. No explanation of this large falling off is offered by a study of the table, but it has been noticed that for some time past there have been constant losses in the Farwestern group. The New England group includes Boston and the Middle includes New York, and these groups always show increasing returns. The same may be said of the Northwestern group, which includes Chicago. The Southern group has been showing large percentages of decrease of late, but this week there appears to be a material improvement.

LOCAL STOCK MARKET.

NOTABLE MOVEMENTS OF STOCKS.

During the week just closed, American Strawboard ranged over ten points and Diamond Match advanced between six and seven from the lowest quotation for the week. Substantial recoveries are noted in North Side and West Side cables, to the extent of three three-quarter points in the former and of five full points in the latter. The market has been mainly in the possession of the room traders, only a few of the more timid of the investors being induced to dispose of their property on the decline. The market opened on Monday quite panicky, owing to the sensational reports published by a morning paper in connection with the Yerkes system, apart from the heavy trading in West Side cable on Monday and Wednesday—on which days over 6,300 shares changed hands.

West Side cable sold last Saturday at 130, regular, and varied but fractionally throughout the day. But when the same stock was called on Monday, a score of excited brokers jumped to their feet with offers. The speculators behind the rail shared in the excitement, and crowded to the front. The opening was made at 130, at which a brace of fifties went over. The next thing was a sudden dip to 128½. Henrotin did some vigorous buying around this point, but the pressure continued until 127 was reached, the close for the day was 127½, with 2,450 shares disposed of. Tuesday allowed time for reflection. The general feeling was one of disinclination to believe that Mr. Yerkes had mixed himself up in any such shady real estate transactions as charged against the management. Mr. Yerkes, on his part, treated the matter contemptuously, and referred to the charges as being somewhat in the blackmailing line. Thereupon, parties who had sold short, hastened to buy back what they had but the previous day so confidently disposed of. From that point the recovery has been continuous. On Wednesday, under vigorous buying, West Side cable lifted to 132¾, but subsequently declined to 131¾, at which it closed. The day's transactions amounted to 3,800 shares. On Thursday, the property looked as if pinned at 132 Meanwhile, a committee of investigation has been appointed at the suggestion of Mr. Yerkes, to examine the real estate transactions of the company and to report to the stockholders. The investigating committee is named as follows: Marshall Field, L. Z. Leiter. Nelson Thomason, John Buehler and Ebenezer Buckingham. The committee is a strong one and will secure universal confidence.

North Side cable moved mostly in sympathy with the sister property. On Monday, regular sold at 175, but there was no selling pressure, and business was limited to a few moderately sized lots. Since then, the movement has been steady toward higher prices, and the close Thursday, was 178¾, for cash. On no day did more than a few shares pass.

City Railway has improved during the week from 324½ to 326.

Street's Stable Car Line has recorded a moderate advance. The low point for the week was made Monday when everything on the list was weak. A parcel of fifty shares went over at 35¾. The close on Thursday was 36¾ regular. The entire business for the week in this stock was but a few hundred shares.

Western Stone was entirely neglected, and no trade in Arc Light & Power, holders asking 90, but not obtaining over 87 bid.

A vicious dive was made at American Strawboard on last Saturday, and the property sold down from 78 to 75 for the account. Monday and Tuesday brought further selling orders, and 72½ was touched for the low point. On the following day the recovery was sharp. The opening was at 75, and at that figure one or two brokers were evidently prepared to take everything offered. This inspired confidence, and the close was at 80. On Thursday, the property further advanced to 81¾ regular and for the account.

Calumet and Chicago Canal and Dock registered a conservative advance upon but a moderate amount of business. Range for the week from 79½ to 80⅞. Thursday was the active day in this property, with 300 shares passing.

Diamond Match has gone over quite a wide range. The low on Monday was 133¾, but only a few odd parcels came out at this figure. The subsequent rise was steady, and finally landed the property at 140, which was Thursday's close. Brewing and Malting, which recently looked as if about to become a moderate claimant for attention, has been almost wholly neglected. Common stock was advanced fractionally to 33¼ Preferred stock attracted some trading on the closing day of the week, and upon sales of 300 shares, sold down from 42 to 41½.

Packing and Provision, common stock, sold last at 51. Preferred stock has advanced from 47¾ to 48¾.

Bonds continue to sell slowly on the floor, investors apparently being quite content to do what they require in this line across the counter. Gas Light & Coke 5s ranged from 88½ to 89. Consumer's Gas 5s, only a few thousands at 83¾ to 84. On the other hand, there has been quite a little demand for the various street railway bonds.

City Railway 4½s, $10,000 at 98¼. West Division coup. 5s, 1,000 shares at 101. West Side cable first mortgage 5s, $50,000 at 101½; ditto debenture 6s, $36,000 at 100 to 100¼.

The week has witnessed the following prices ruling. Chicago Telephone at 220. Central Union Telephone at 56. Auditorium Association at 40½. Board of Trade 5s, at 102, and American Trust and Savings Bank at 137½.

THE REAL ESTATE MARKET.

SIGNS OF GENERAL IMPROVEMENT—ACRES IN BETTER DEMAND—DOWN TOWN OPERATIONS OF NOTE.

It must be a pessimist indeed who can see nothing promising in the realty outlook as illustrated by the week's business. With Chicago brokers selling the best business property of St. Louis, Minneapolis capitalists buying acres, and Chicago representative business men acquiring down town holdings, the market must be considered strong. The general spring trade in houses and improved property, or property for improvement will naturally follow the improvement in weather conditions. The notable transactions—big acre sales and long term leases, attract attention, emphasize the fact that interest in realty is by no means lost and give tone to the general market. The small sales and minor transactions go to swell the transfer list but the announcement of a few sales of note goes to reassure the public that Chicago real estate is still a good thing to own and that it is so considered by capitalists. There is an abundance of investment capital on hand in the city. It is said by some that this surplus is not what might be considered "real estate money." From present appearances it seems to be money which is not being turned into any channel, but which may by circumstances be directed as easily to real estate lines as to any other form of investment. The general movement in acres, especially directed toward the purchase of large tracts of land, is a surprise to nearly every one who has watched the course of the market. During the week the sale of a one-half section in the town of Worth, recorded by the JOURNAL exclusively a week ago, has been made a matter of record. The east one-half of Sec. 3 has been purchased by Louis Menage of Minneapolis from a Chicago syndicate for $400,000. This tract is a mile and a half southeast of the Stickney tract and is crossed diagonally by the Wabash railroad. It contains about 314 acres, being the entire one-half section less the right of way. The north boundary is Eighty-seventh st, while the south line is Ninety-fifth street.

The land extends from Crawford avenue on the east to W. Forty-fourth street on the west. There is a station on the Wabash road at the intersection of W. Forty-fourth street and Ninety-first street known as Pleasant Hill. The syndicate making the present sale purchased the land which is known as the Rumsey tract two years ago at $650 an acre. Both the sale to the syndicate, as well as the sale to Mr. Menage, were conducted through the agency of W. A. Merigold.

Other negotiations for acre tracts are under way which promise to be closed in the near future. A syndicate represented by Adams & Hamilton is negotiating for a large tract of land near Desplaines. This tract is said by some to include the Columbia Steel company's holdings, while others claim that 1500 acres south of the village of Desplaines and north of the Steel company's tract are being placed under contract. Contracts in addition have been signed for a tract of land in Indiana which is to be purchased by an Eastern syndicate to be used for the location of an industrial town. The contract for the main portion of the holding amounting to $220,000 was signed early this week. A tract of thirty-two and one-half acres south of 106th street and west of the Indiana state line in South Chicago is being acquired in the interest of a manufacturing company which will locate its works at that point.

The announcement of the successful termination of negotiations for the purchase of the property on Washington street east of the Marshall Field retail block, is of course, one of the most interesting events of the week from a real estate standpoint, although these negotiations have been known to be under way for months. The property which has been acquired is in the form of a rectangle, bounded by Holden place, Washington street, Wabash avenue and an alley parallel with Washington street. It has a frontage of 150 feet and is 110 feet deep. It is divided into six holdings, one of which has been in the control of Marshall Field for some years. The other five have been secured, four by purchase and one by a ninety-nine year lease. The prices determined by the sale do not indicate so much actual value, as they indicate the tenacity with which owners held out against the offers made by Mr. Field. The lot on the corner of Wabash avenue, with a frontage of twenty-nine and seven one-hundredths feet improved with the Cobb Library building, was purchased from the Day estate and Cuthbert Laing for $200,000. Lot 2, with a frontage of twenty-five feet was purchased for $165,000. The next lot with a frontage of twenty-four feet was leased from J. F. Lord for a term of ninety-nine years at five per cent on $120,000. Lot 4 was bought from R. Campbell for $100,000, and is uniform in frontage with the Lord lot and lts 5 and 6. Lot 5 was purchased by Marshall Field a number of years ago and lot 6 on the corner of the alley has been sold by Juergens & Anderson for $162,500. On this combined holding, a new building is to be commenced as soon after May 1 as the present buildings can be removed. The purchases were practically completed about two months ago and the only thing which remained was to treat with lessees. They have now agreed to vacate by the first of May. Plans for the new building are being worked out by Architect D. H. Burnham. It will probably be a nine-story structure with the upper stories divided into offices. The new building will be connected with the present Field block by a sub-way under Holden place. A frontage of twenty-six feet on Wabash avenue, ninety-six feet north of this property was purchased from Mrs. S. A. Whittamore for $100,000. This is to be utilized for the site of a steam plant, for operating electric lights and elevators in the new building. This idea of having the heating and lighting in a building separate from the main store, was adopted by L. Z. Leiter in the erection of his State street store.

A transfer of unusual size which was made last week is of special importance as evidence that the project of the Elevated Terminal railway is to be carried out. For a consideration of $8,102,264, the Santa Fe Railway Company transfers all its property on the south side of the city to the Chicago Elevated Railway Company. In this transfer all property lying east of State, south of Twelfth street and bounded on the south and west by the city limits, is turned over to the railway company of which Joseph T. Torrence is President.

One of the most important West Side sales of the week was that in which the property at the northeast corner of West Twelfth street and Hull avenue is involved. A four-story store and flat building containing seven stores and twenty-one flats on 125x125 feet was transferred by J. J. Berry to O. W. Johnson for $110,000. The property is located opposite the entrance to Douglas Park.

The Lindell Hotel in St. Louis was sold this week by J. E. McElroy for $875,000. The property consists of a seven-story stone building at the northwest corner of Washington avenue and Sixth street. It covers 181x223 feet, and is considered one of the finest pieces of property in St. Louis. The sale was made for Col. Marmaduke to How & Chassaing. The purchasers represent a syndicate which will operate the Midland Hotel in Kansas City, the Lindell in St. Louis and the Great Northern in Chicago. Just after the sale to Howe & Chessaing was completed the land was sold to the Boston Ground Rent Trustees for $500,000.

A GREAT ENTERPRISE AT WAUKEGAN.

A syndicate represented by S. W. Allerton, J. B Hobbs, Dunlap Smith, Charles A. Kerfoot and others have purchased about 1,400 acres at Waukegan, including nearly three miles of lake frontage. The land in question includes parts of sections 10, 3 and 2 in Waukegan Township and a fractional part of section 34 in Benton Township. It extends from the northern limits of the city of Waukegan to Benton Station on the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad. It is understood that prominent officials of the Chicago & Northwestern and Joliet & Eastern railways are also heavily interested in the enterprise.

The price to be paid for the tract runs from $100 an acre up, averaging about $150 an acre. Most of the land is comparatively low and has been a drug on the market for years.

The most interesting part of the transaction is the developments that are contemplated for this tract. It is proposed to build a harbor near the northern end of this purchase and to connect this with the present Waukegan harbor by means of a ship canal. This canal will be equipped with docks and the Joliet & Eastern Railroad will extend its line on both sides of it. The project, in short, is nothing less than what was done by the Chicago & Calumet Canal and Dock Company at South Chicago some years ago. Sites will be provided for heavy manufacturing industries, warehouses will be built and a portion of the land will be subdivided. Several hundred thousand dollars will be spent in making improvements. The project of connecting the present harbor of Waukegan with a new one several miles north of it will be a comparatively easy matter, as most of the land is low and very little excavating will be required. The Joliet & Eastern Railway, which has a large interest in the deal, already owns several pieces in section 15, adjoining this tract on the south, and has been quietly buying more land in this section, so that it will have no difficulty in making the extension desired.

GREAT SALE OF ACRES IN LAKE COUNTY, IND.

The sale of Lake County, Indiana acres which was referred to in the JOURNAL of last week as being the banner sale of the year was negotiated by E. A. Linn representing the firm of E. S. Dreyer & Co., and Mr. Gillette of Gillette & Taylor. The land in question is legally known as parts of sections 6 and 7 and all of sections 29, 30, 31 and 32 in the west half of township 33 and the southwest quarter of townspip 28, Lake County, Indiana. The property is at Maynard station. It comprises about 2,900 acres and the price paid was $200 per acre, or a total of $580,000. The sellers were: Julia B. Follett of Chicago, 1200 acres; Milton R. Hart of Lake County, Ind., 1250 acres; Malcolm T. Hart, Crown Point, Ind., 449 acres. The purchaser was George Kerch, representing a Minneapolis syndicate, and they will at once subdivide and locate large manufacturing interests on the ground. One company now negotiating is said to be the largest of its kind in this country and employs 5,000 men.

IMPORTANT SALE OF ACRES IN NORWOOD PARK.

Andrew Dunning reports the sale of thirty acres in Section 8, 40, 13 for $24,000. The seller is Mrs Hayes, of New York City; the buyers, Messrs. Kober, Mapel and Breed. This property was bought for subdivision purposes and the surveyors are now on the ground. The tract is located in the southwest corner of section 8 in Norwood Park and fronts south on Lawrence avenue and west on Ridgeland avenue.

Mr. Dunning also reports the sale of two and one-half acres on Crawford avenue, near Diversey street at $3,000 per acre. Seller, John L. Baker. This tract also will be subdivided at once.

LARGE ACRE SALE NEAR STICKNEY.

One of the largest and most important sales of acre property that has been made for a long time, was closed late yesterday afternoon. The amount involved is over $300,000. The sixteen blocks of subdivided property extending from Fifty-ninth street south to Sixty-third street, and from West Forty-second street to West Forty-fourth street, and known as Jas. H. Campbell's Sixty-third street addition, have been sold for James H. Campbell, for $240,000. The property is legally described as the west half of the southeast quarter of section 15, town 38, range 13. There being eighty acres, the consideration paid is at the rate of $3,000 an acre. The property lies inside the city limits on the Western Indiana Belt Line railway, and one-quarter of a mile east of the Stickney tract. The purchaser, immediately the contracts were signed, re-sold the north 30 acres to Shield & Cook for $95,000, or at a profit of $5,000, retaining the south and more desirable fifty acre portion. This deal was negotiated by Geo. F. Montgomery, 85 Dearborn street. The same broker has sold an undivided half of fifty acres lying in the southwest quarter of section 4, and the northwest quarter of section 9, township of Lyons, for $62,500, or at the rate of $2,500 an acre. This piece of property has a northeast frontage on the Illinois and Michigan canal, and the right of way of the Chicago & Alton Railway, and extends west from Robinson avenue or West Fifty-second street. Together, the sale of these two pieces aggregate $302,500, and including the piece re-sold, the total amount involved is within a few dollars of $400,000. The market for acres is certainly improving, and this is especially true in the southwest district. Throughout the winter, the owners of property adjacent to the Stickney tract, have held their possessions at firm figures, and the number of new subdivisions that have been opened in that vicinity recently, and the sales that have occurred there, all go to prove that the confidence in that district was not misplaced.

THAT ACRE SALE AT WORTH,

CULMINATION OF THE BIG DEAL REPORTED IN THE JOURNAL TWO WEEKS AGO.

Readers of the JOURNAL will remember that we reported a large acre sale in Section 3 Town of Worth to a Minneapolis syndicate two weeks ago. The JOURNAL was first in the field with this information and its account of the transaction was taken by some other papers and the sale was wrongly credited to the firm of E. S. Dreyer & Co. The final transaction has at last been completed by W. A. Merigold & Co. The sale includes about 314 acres, or nearly all of the half section, and the price paid is said to have been $400,000. The title has been held in trust by the Title Guarantee & Trust Co., for a local syndicate. The property involved is the east half of section 3 in the town of Worth, immediately south of the city limits line at 87th street. The purchaser is Louis F. Menage, president of the Northwestern Guaranty Loan company of Minneapolis, who represents the Minneapolis syndicate that has been identified in several large Chicago real estate deals.

It is intimated that the property will be transformed into an industrial center, it being advantageously situated for that purpose. The Wabash railroad cuts the north half of the property diagonally and a station was recently built on the center line of the tract at the corner of West 44th and 91st streets. The north line of the property is exactly one and a half miles from the Belt road, and connections can be readily made. It lies southeast of the Stickney tract distant about one and one-half miles. The land has a mile frontage on the east side on Crawford avenue, and a half mile on the west side on 95th street. The tract was originally 320 acres, but the railroad right of way takes up six acres, so that the price paid per acre approximates $1,275.

DECRETAL SALES AT THE REAL ESTATE BOARD.

A portion of the ground floor of the Real Estate Board building has been leased by the board for the purpose of conducting real estate auction sales. The new quarters are known as No. 57 Dearborn street and consist of a spacious store, with a private room in the rear which can be used as an office for the closing of sales. The ground floor quarters are to be connected with the Board rooms on the floor above by a stairway and a number of booths and blackboards will be fitted up for auction purposes. It is expected that preparations will be completed in about ten days.

No arrangements have yet been made for holding general auction sales, but the judges of the Circuit Court have ordered that "all decrees and orders directing public sales of real estate shall be made in the rooms of the Real Estate Board unless otherwise ordered." E. S. Dreyer, president of the Board, will send a communication to all masters in chancery, calling their attention to this order and to the fact that the Board is ready to throw open its rooms for the purpose of making these sales. It is hoped that the Probate sales will be held at the Board rooms also, and several firms have signified their intention of conducting general auction sales, if they can be made successful.

Judicial sales made under decree of court in pursuance of a judgement or foreclosure are subject to redemption by the owner at any time within one year, on the payment of a penalty of 8 per cent. After that the judgement creditors come in, and may appear every sixty days during the second year after which the title of the purchaser may be perfected. Probate sales, on the other hand, may be perfected in a comparatively short time, depending on the time required to fully settle up the estate.

A list of the decretal sales will be found on another page of the JOURNAL. It will be noticed that they are numerous and occur almost every day. The interest which they will attract to the Real Estate Board rooms will be very considerable.

The valuation committee of the Board of which Willis G. Jackson is chairman, with E. H Fishburn, William A. Bond, George Birkhoff, Jr. and Joseph Donnersberger, members, have issued their 1892 rate card. The rates given are: On property valued at $5,000 or less, $15; $5,000 to $10,000, $20; $10,000 to $15,000, $25; $15,000 to $100,000, $25 on the first $10,000 and $1 per thousand on the excess up to $100,000, and 50 cents per thousand over $100,000.

A NEW BELT RAILROAD.

Articles of incorporation have been filed by the Calumet Belt railroad company, and the company is now in process of organization. Various accounts of this project have from time to time been published but it is now authoritatively stated that the proposed route is from a point on the South Chicago railroad, at the intersection of Erie and South Chicago avenues south to a point on the Illinois and Indiana State line in Thornton township, with a branch extending westerly to a point on the Illinois Central road between Kensington and Harvey. The capital stock is $25,000. The incorporators are: B. F. Ayer, Henry Dewolf, John Dunn, E. P. Skene and Wm. G. Buren.

SALE OF MINING PROPERTY.

A large mining deal was consummated at Duluth, Minn., recently. The Higgins Iron Company sold fifty 40-acre tracts of land in township 58, range 60, to the Richelieu Land Company for a bonus of $100,000 for thirty years and a royalty of thirty cents per ton for all iron ore taken out. The most prominent firms concerned in the Richelieu Iron Company are Stryker, Mann & Buck, Coffin & Warner, and W. C. Sherwood & Co. Development of the new properties will begin at once.

WHO IS THE LOWEST BIDDER?

A question of practical importance which often arises in the awarding of contracts is, who is actually the lowest bidder. That the bidder naming the lowest price is not always the lowest bidder, is well illustrated by a recent decision of the New York Supreme Court. The Buffalo Water Commissioners having advertised for bids on a new pumping engine, instead of accepting the lowest bid, awarded the contract to another concern, whose bid was considerably higher. The award was contested by the citizens. In rendering the decision of the court, Judge Childs said: "In considering this question, it must be conceded that the commissioners were to decide upon which was the lowest bid, and for that purpose were to consider all the facts legitimately before them; the decision being subject to review upon the same facts, and to be overthrown if so far unsupported as to indicate an arbitrary or improper act upon their part; otherwise to be sustained. The single fact that the contract was awarded to the party requiring the most money for the work is not at all decisive of this question. If the successful bidder offered a machine more valuable than its competitor, it may have been the lowest bidder although requiring more money."

The element of risk was considered of vital importance. The pump offered by the lowest bidder had no record and was to that extent experimental and problematical. The court held that the commissioners were justified in accepting as the most advantageous the bid which named the highest figure.

THE LELAND HOTEL COMPANY.

Articles of incorporation have been filed by the Leland Hotel Company of Chicago. The capital stock is fixed at $100,000,000. Attorneys John M. Gartside and F. P. Leffingwell are conducting the formation of the company on behalf of A. J. Cooper, the recent purchaser of the Leland Hotel property. Negotiations for a long lease are now pending and when the final arrangements are perfected, the lease and personal property contained in the hotel will be transferred to the company. The names of the stockholders have been temporarily withheld, as also the nature of intended improvements. It is expected that the necessary arrangements will be completed so that the new company can take possession the latter part of this month.

THE FREE-COINAGE MEASURE.

MR. BLAND'S BILL PROVOKES LIVELY OPPOSITION FROM THE ANTI-SILVER MEN IN THE HOUSE.

The Bland free-coinage bill was discussed at length by the JOURNAL last week, and the plan of issuing an honest dollar was pointed out as the only practical solution of the problem of bimetallism. That this is the only sound conclusion is evidenced by the fact that it is the policy advocated by the best newspapers and ablest financiers throughout the country. The opposition to the Bland measure in the House are bringing to bear on the subject a surprising array of strong arguments, and are prepared to make use of filibustering tactics as well, if necessary to defeat the bill. It is claimed, however, that the majority of the House is in favor of free silver and that nothing short of defeat in the Senate by a narrow majority, or the President's veto, can prevent the passage of the bill.

Mr. Bland, in opening the subject for the free-silver men, was at his best, and by his familiarity with the subject and his earnestness presented the points of the silver men with unusual force. Mr. Bland said:

"It was just 100 years ago that the founders of this government adopted what we call 'the double standard.' This provided for the coinage of gold and silver without limit at the mints of the United States; that silver should be coined the same as gold, should have the advantages and the same recognition. The silver dollars consist of 371 4-100 grains of silver—precisely the dollar of silver that is called for in this bill. This bill provides that gold and silver shall be coined at the ratio fixed by the act of 1837; that gold and silver shall be equal at the mints. In order that this equality shall be perserved it is necessary that silver should be put on the same plane in regard to the issue of certificates at the mint as the gold.

While this bill places gold and silver on an equality in the matter of the issue of coin notes in their deposits at the mints, it also maintains that equality by providing that when the coin notes shall be presented for redemption the government shall be free to redeem them either in gold or silver as it may prefer. Thus coin notes issued on deposit of gold bullion may be redeemed in silver, or coin notes issued on deposit of silver may be redeemed in gold, just as the Treasury may prefer."

In arguing for a greater volume of money Mr. Bland said that he would admit that the refined system of credits which has grown up in the country does, to a certain extent, economize the use of money, but in the end the day of payment of these obligations always came and then we must have the money. In 1881, when we had passed a bill for refunding the national debt the national banks of the United States, surrendered $18,000,000 into the National Treasury as a threat made for the purpose of inducing a veto from the President—a threat which effected its purpose—and the result of this withdrawal of $18,000,000 from circulation put interest up in New York at the rate of one cent a day. Notes and bonds are not money—they are conveniences. The whole fight over this issue is between the capitalists who demand interest and people who demand money instead of interest.

To this argument Mr. Williams, of Massachusetts, replied as follows:

"The monetary conditions of the world have entirely changed since 1873 and those conditions are now beyond our control. Gold is the standard of nearly all the nations of Europe, and when we declare for the free coinage of silver where will gold go? It will go to a premium, and a premium upon gold is a discount upon silver. The rest of the world will fix a depreciation upon silver according to the markets of the world and our standard then will be 70 cents to a dollar. That means repudiation; it means the throwing of this country into a dishonest settlement of every debt contracted on our present gold basis."

The fatal point of weakness in Mr. Bland's argument is that the ratio of value of silver and gold has completely changed since the silver legislation of 1792 to which he refers. The fact is that at that time the commercial ratio of silver to gold was about 16 to one, where now the ratio is about 23 to one. So that the silver dollar on the former ratio would then have been worth par or possibly a little more, but now would be worth less than 70 cents.

SOME LARGE CHATTEL MORTGAGES.

The list of chattel mortgages published in another column of the JOURNAL shows some surprisingly large transactions. W. H Kinsley mortgages to E. Holbrook for $100,000, the building, restaurant and lease on lot 7, block 120, School section addition. M. H. Newberry mortgages to W. Woodruff the furniture of the Grand Palace Hotel, 81-103 N. Clark street for two years for $9,600.

LEGISLATION AGAINST ALIENS.

A RELIC OF ANTIQUITY AND IGNORANCE WHICH THE WORLD HAS NOT FULLY OUTGROWN—THE RIGHTS D'AUBAINE AND D'ETRACTION.

The recent decision of the Supreme Court of South Dakota in favor of alien ownership of mineral lands, which was given in full in a recent issue of the JOURNAL, was merely another step forward in the progress of humanity and justice as regards aliens. The whole history of anti-alien legislation from the time of the Roman Empire to the present day, is the history of barbarism. A writer in Blackwood's magazine has very properly termed alien legislation a symptom of international vanity, and adds that for many thousand years this form of vanity assumed the additional character of murder and unrelenting cruelty.

The Romans expressed foreigner and foe by the same word, and they were so thoroughly imbued with the idea that every foreigner was a foe, that everybody throughout the world vigorously and patriotically slaughtered all his neighbors. People scarcely ever visited each other's soil except as conquerors or prisoners, and the latter situation had but two alternatives—death or slavery.

After the fall of the Roman Empire, the kings and chieftains of Europe became very anxious to maintain their power and their pride. For this purpose they found it necessary to raise large sums of money. Their own subjects they taxed to the utmost to raise these revenues. They were still harder on strangers. They no longer slaughtered them, because they had discovered that it was more profitable to rob them. They plundered them so outrageously, that it is a wonder there were any aliens left in the country at all.

At length all Europe tacitly agreed that, aliens being made on purpose to be robbed, it was best to rob them systematically and legally. So a sort of uniformity of laws was adopted, governing the plundering of aliens. According to these laws, foreigners were outlaws and had no right to any protection whatever. They could not inherit or bequeath property, because the king was the sole heir of everything that belonged to them. This power of despoiling aliens extended to the sea as well as to the land. By the privilege of wrecking, stranded vessels and cargoes were confiscated and their crews were killed or sold as captives. Europe took the curious view that a shipwrecked sailor was a foe to all humanity. Accordingly, notwithstanding prohibition by sovereigns, wrecking was carried on abundantly and robustly. The love of this sort of rapine was so intense, that even so recently as two centuries ago, it was usual in certain European villages to pray publicly in the churches that shipwrecks might occur liberally on the coast. In some localities ingenious minds invented land wrecks, which meant that if a wagon got upset by accident on the road, the wagon and contents were to be seized as coming within the wrecking law.

In France, aliens were at first all slaves. They had no friends, and so the first petty lord who could lay hands on them made them his slaves. After awhile the clergy took pity on them, and secured for them the right to work on their own account, like ticket-of leave-men in Australia. But this right to labor for themselves had to be purchased by the aliens by enormous annual fees. Still, with all this load to carry, the alien had made a first step upwards; he could work, acquire and possess.

Aliens were called "aubains," and the right exercised by the king in confiscating the property of deceased aliens was called the right d'aubaine. By degrees it came to be considered that this right of confiscation was too severe, so that there was substituted for the right d'aubaine, the right d'etraction, by which the king and his vassals contented themselves with a part only of the inheritances left by strangers, the heirs being magnanimously permitted to take what was left. This was a great step in favor of the rights of aliens, and was soon followed by other legislation, which finally did away entirely with the droit d'aubaine.

In this movement in favor of the rights of aliens, a prominent part was taken by the Hanseatic League, which was formed by a number of German states in the middle ages. The League began by objecting to the practice of wrecking, and substituting salvage fees wherever the people would accept them. In 1552 the members of the Hanseatic League secured from France a release from the right of aubaine and of wrecking, and later these privileges were extended to other nations. Here the signs of a coming change of system grew distinct; here we see the state acting on the impression that perhaps, after all, it might be wise and profitable to utilize aliens for the public good, instead of stamping on them with hatred and contempt, as a satisfaction to public pride. That impression had been slowly forcing itself into circulation throughout western Europe ever since the 13th century, concurrently with the development of trade and manufacture. But it did not become an adopted element of policy until about the 16th century, and even then was applied fitfully and capriciously, with intervals of reaction.

Finally, in 1787, Louis XVI specially exempted English subjects from the action of the droit d'aubaine. But it was reserved for the constituante to abolish it altogether. That assembly opened "free France to all the nations of the earth, and invited them to enjoy the sacred and inalienable rights of humanity," and admitted "foreigners, though resident outside the kingdom, to inherit, in France, the property of their parents, even if the latter be French subjects." These noble laws placed aliens on a footing of equality with citizens for the first time in history; and though, when the Code Napoleon was drawn up a backward step was taken, by restricting the abolition of the droit d'auhaine to nations which acted with reciprocity, this ungenerous limitation did not last, but a special law was passed in 1819, by which all reservations and inequalities were finally removed. Since then, the position of a foreigner in France has been identical with that of a French citizen. With two exceptions, he has the same rights as a native born. These two exceptions are, that he cannot vote at an election, and cannot serve in the army.

The conquerors of England were foreigners, and after they were fairly established in the country, they adopted the foreign custom of excluding other foreigners. About the same time the right of seizing for the King the property of deceased aliens came into general use. Under Henry II England enacted the strongest measure which had ever been adopted anywhere against aliens—expelled them from the country. But this decree proved to be unpopular, and a few years later Magna Charta quashed the expulsion law, reopened the gates of Britain, and authorized all sorts of strangers to buy and sell goods without molestation.

This gracious provision to enable aliens to return to England was not accompanied by any assurances of protection either to life or property. For many years aliens were treated to all the tyrranies and persecutions that the ingenious minds of their persecutors could invent. If war broke out between England and another country, all the subjects of that country residing in England were at once arrested and put in prison. It was even held that every alien should be made responsible for the acts and debts of every other alien. Thus a Dutch shoemaker at Southampton might suddenly discover that he had been hung, drawn and quartered because a Spanish bookbinder in Northumberland had robbed a church; a merchant who had just arrived from Denmark might be put in prison for the debts of an Italian sculptor of whose existence he was unaware. All this monstrous hardness began, however, to change in the fourteenth century. In 1325 it was prescribed that foreigners should be tried by juries composed half of Englishmen and half of aliens. In 1353 aliens were relieved of all obligations for each other's debts and acts; each of them became himself alone; and they were permitted to go away in the event of war.

This radical change in the governmental policy toward aliens was the beginning of the woolen industry in England. A number of woolen manufacturers came over from Flanders, and it is from their arrival that the English cloth and flannel trade takes its date. Of course the people got widely jealous of the new comers and murdered them, and if the King had not interfered they would have exterminated them. Edward III, however, did all he could to encourage the foreigners, but the people were so persistent in their demand that all foreigners should be expelled that the government finally gave a half satisfaction to their enemies by forbidding aliens to take their profits out of England without the King's permission.

Now while this struggle was going on and escheating of estates was in full vigor, and while every hand was against foreign residents, some of them continued to be allowed, by one of those contradictions which so frequently occur in half-civilized societies, to own lands and houses by feudal tenure. And this exception was permitted in the face of the ancient theory which was so jealously enforced in England, and which formed the essential basis of her alien land laws, that, as all lands were held directly or indirectly from the King, no foreigner could hold them without acknowledging allegiance to the King; but this was a process altogether inconceivable, because he was already the subject of another sovereign. In theory it was impossible; in practice it was an every day occurence. Such is the conflict of laws.

The next change took place under Richard III. Foreign workmen, especially Italians, had then become so numerous in England that it was again considered necessary to shield the natives from them. Accordingly, in 1483, an edict was put forth ordering that aliens should no longer work at any manual trade, that they should sell their goods in gross, and not by retail, that they should employ the product in purchasing English merchandise; that they should be allowed eight months for selling, from the date of their arrival, and that they might carry away what remained unsold at the expiration of that period; that they should not deal in wool or woolen cloth; and that they should take no servants but the King's subjects. Neither pride, cruelty nor prejudice are sufficient to explain such legislation. But necessity is greater than all these combined, and so in a few years this law was repealed.

In 1542 the state of opinion had become so changed that it was possible to pass the first law which allowed foreigners to become "denizens"—that is, to acquire a half naturalization, which permitted them to buy and hold property but not to succeed to it. The King held too fast to his privilege of escheat to permit that. But in 1558, when Elizabeth became queen, a foreigner was for the first time naturalized as completely as an Englishman, by Act of Parliament. This was a tremendous stride ahead, but it so roused the people to a fresh hatred of aliens that King James I was prevailed upon to impose grievous disabilities on strangers.

From this time on to the reign of Queen Victoria all the old disabilities were steadily maintained. Aliens were not allowed to possess real property nor to inherit or bequeath it. No alien could take a house on lease, or hold any office, however small. At last the disgrace of the situation became evident to all and a Committee of the House of Commons was appointed to examine into the state of the alien laws as a whole.

The report of the Committee admitted that the immigration of skilled foreigners into any country was advantageous and that thereby various trades had been introduced into England. They proposed to remove many of the alien disabilities and to render naturalization easy. These recommendations were adopted and in 1844 a bill was passed authorizing naturalization in a simple form and permitting resident aliens to lease lands and houses for twenty-one years and to hold every kind of property. But it was not until 1870 that all previous acts were repealed, the last disability removed, and that foreigners were authorized to inherit and bequeath like British subjects and to enjoy when naturalized all political and other privileges.

Alien laws by their very nature have always been purely local in their object and action, and have never expressed anything but the ideas proper to each race as to the quantity and shape of the enmity which it ought to show to foreigners. While nations did not agree on particulars, their object was always the same. All were of one mind in former days as to the necessity of ill-treating strangers somehow, and the only difference between them was the way of doing it. We have shown that in France and England each of the two countries had their special practices; and this was true of every other land. It was a policy of national individuality and national pride. But when the necessities of international commerce and trade manifested themselves, pride and prejudice gave way to knowledge and reason. The more thoroughly cosmopolitan a nation becomes the more liberal will be its treatment of foreigners.

The moral of the story is that life is much better worth the living now than it was under the old regime. A fair and liberal treatment of aliens is right, and it is just as true of governments as of individuals that it "pays" to do right.

PATENT DEFECTS IN MUNICIPAL GOVERNMENT.

When the law-making power in a state or city is lodged in a body of men whose highest aim is boodle, it stands to reason that laws and ordinances will be passed by them that are not only unconstitutional but detrimental to the public welfare. If ignorant men wholly unfit and unwilling to execute and obey the laws are allowed to make them, what hope is there of having good government. In order to properly administer the law, it would seem to be necessary to believe in good government. There ought to be a sound motive in the breast of every legislator, every judge, and every executor of the law. But how are men to be actuated by a love of patriotism or respect for the law when they openly violate or ignore all the principles of good government. The people are ever ready and prompt in responding to a cry of destress or to punish a man who has committed some heinous crime, but they look on complacently while their trusted public servants rob them. It is indeed strange that an alderman can spend from $1,000 to $10,000 to get elected when his salary cannot amount to more than $200 per year on an average. This is one of the patent frauds of the present day and is seen and understood by every intelligent voter. Then why vote for such men? Either the people are not capable of self government or else they wantonly and openly encourage fraud.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The po ition taken by the Journal in last week's issue on the Free Coinage question, in favor of an international bi-metallic conference, is the position taken by the soundest financial writers in the country. Ex-Secretary Bayard, in an open letter to the Democratic party, after condemning the project of free-coinage at length, says: "If the earnest desire continue—and I fervently trust it does—to achieve the fullest and safest use of both the precious metals in use as money, let the movement take shape in pressing upon other nations the wisdom and expediency of bimetallism. If bimetallism be possible and practicable, it must be admitted that it can only be brought about and maintained by international cooperation between the great commercial powers, and nothing should be left undone in pursuit of this end. But the United States, acting solitary and alone, cannot maintain any fixed ratio of equivalency between two units of value composed of different and distinct metals."

Two important measures in behalf of irrigation are now pending in the United States Senate and one of equal importance is before the House. The committee on irrigation recently brought in its report, showing that there are in the United States the enormous number of 1,340.000 square miles of desert or arid lands. Of these lands about one fourth lies in the great plains region east of the Rocky mountains; another fourth in the Rocky Mountain belt, not more than one-third of which is arable; three-eighths in the great basin and plains region between the Rocky mountains and Sierra Nevada, about one-half of which is arable; while the remaining one-eighth, lying in the ranges of the Sierras, is in the main rocky and incapable of cultivation. About a quarter of the whole arid region is supposed to be unarable. It will be seen that the arid region to which it is possible to apply methods of irrigation is very extensive, and that it opens up a large problem for our legislators.

A transaction ranking in magnitude and importance with that of the Reading combine, was the recent reorganization of the Richmond & West Point Terminal Railway Company. The new corporation styles itself the Southern Railway Company. It is practically a combination of the Richmond & Danville, the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia, and the Richmond Terminal systems under one management. The company will also control the Georgia Central, with its 2,500 miles of road. Altogether, the new management will control 8,816 miles of railroads in the South, which have heretofore represented securities of about $394,000,000. To accomplish this result the existing liabilities are to be retired by issue of new securities to the aggregate of $350,000,000. The net earnings of the entire property for the last fiscal year, ending June 30, 1891 were $8,744,000. It is expected that the concentration of the present multitude of corporations under one management, resulting in a reduction of expenses, will effect a noteworthy increase in the net earnings.

The arrival in Chicago this week of four Polish emigrants dressed in rags and without a cent of money is a good illustration of the loose methods in vogue in the so-called regulation of immigration. While the JOURNAL has steadfastly contended against anti-alien legislation of all kinds, especially as regards the ownership of real property, yet the immigration problem, as typified by these Polish paupers is not entitled to consideration as an alien question. These emigrants are not objected to because they are foreigners but because they represent a large class of people who are cast on our shores totally without resources either of money or of intellectual or mechanical ability. They come here not as representative citizens of European countries but as the very dregs and off-scouring of those countries. In the majority of cases their passage is paid here either by their government or by some relative, with the avowed purpose of getting rid of them. We submit that this is not the class of citizens the United States wants. For the sturdy, self-reliant men and women of European nations, with means enough to pay their own way hither and intelligence and skill enough to be of value after they arrive, we have nothing but words of welcome. But paupers and imbeciles, whose place is in the poor-house or the asylum, should be given free passage back to the land of their birth.

This subject of immigration and the measures proposed to regulate it are receiving their full share of attention and discussion of late. A kindred subject is that of naturalization, which has recently been brought to the attention of Congress by a report of the Judiciary Committee of the House of Representatives, accompanying a bill to change the naturalization laws in several particulars. This report, after premising that the requirements of the existing naturalization laws are entirely too liberal and inefficient, sets forth as general conclusions of fact that naturalization of aliens recently arrived from abroad, and knowing nothing of our institutions and government, just before elections is frequently resorted to, and that in states where only the declaration of intention to became a citizen is an essential qualification to make an alien a voter the greatest frauds have been perpetrated.

The committee concludes that the making of citizens, now left to petty officers of the courts, should be a grave judicial proceeding. That the states cannot protect themselves, and that Congress should make such laws as will amply protect them against the "citizenation" of criminals, paupers and other aliens who are unworthy of a residence here, much less of being made citizens.

The rights of the United States in Bering Sea will be maintained by arbitration, if possible, but by the vigorous action of revenue cutters, if necessary. For many years sealing poachers from Canada have been trespassing on the coast of Alaska within the three-mile limit, until the seal bids fair to be entirely extinguished in Alaskan waters. The policy of this government hitherto has been dilatory in the extreme. That of the British government has been mainfestly unfair from the beginning. Not only have their poachers been encouraged to violate the navigation laws by repeatedly taking seals in American waters, but they have shown little or no interest in the policy of the United States looking to the preservation of the seal family from the rapid extinction which threatens it. If England still persists in her sluggish and listless attitude of criminal delay in this matter it will become the duty of the United States to take such measures for protection to her interests in Bering Sea as will demonstrate to England and the world as well that we are able to protect our own coasts.

The Grand Jury has done quick work in its investigation of the boodle charges against Chicago aldermen, and it is evident that but for the absence of some important witnesses a large number of indictments would be returned. The public does not believe that the men already indicted are the only guilty ones in the council. That there are other aldermen who have escaped indictment who are as guilty or more so than those whose names have been returned by the grand jury, is evident to all. The keenest regret is that only a portion of the guilty ones can in any event be punished. It has been truly said that if there were no bribe givers there would be no bribe takers. And in this connection we believe that the city is as much interested in punishing those who gave the bribes as those who received them. It is customary to look with leniency on the managers of powerful and wealthy corporations who are ready to pay out thousands of dollars to aldermen in exchange for valuable franchises; but no sympathy is wasted over the alderman, who is usually a poor man and to whom the offer of a thousand dollars for a vote is a temptation hardly to be resisted. The men who ought to be indicted and sent to the penitentiary, and who are the most likely to escape without even an imputation of wrong-doing, are the officers of corporations who dealt out the money which was the root of all this evil.

Persons handling gold coins should scrutinize them carefuily to see that they have not been subjected to the operation called "sweating." This process, which is comparatively new, is by means of a bath of acid, in which is suspended the coin attached to one of the poles of an electric battery. From a twenty-dollar gold piece $1 worth of metal can be extracted so that no one but an expert can discover it. The process makes the coin very bright but destroys the sharp lines. It is thought that only a few of these coins are now in circulation, many of them having been detected and sent to the Sub-Treasury office.

Something must be done at once to provide suitable quarters for the army of criminals who infest Cook county. Chief McClaughry has well said that if Chicago does not take care of the criminals, the criminals will soon take Chicago. The present jail and Bridewell accommodations are inadequate to the demands made upon them. The County Board is at last aroused to the necessity of either rebuilding the present jail or erecting a new one. The sanitary condition of the jail has long been known to be shocking, and it is now crowded with prisoners of all ages and both sexes who must soon have more room or other quarters.

People of all shades of belief unite in demanding separate quarters for youthful offenders. This is too enlightened an age to approve the shutting up of boys who are yet young in crime with men who have become hardened and desperate. Something in the line of a reformatory on modern principles must be provided for the boys who graduate from the police courts if we wish to prevent the ripening of a crop of criminals to become a strong menace to the peace and prosperity of the city in the future.

IMPORTANT TO BUILDING SOCIETIES.

The Supreme Court of Illinois has given a decision which means that Building Societies should figure premiums as premiums and not discounts.

If A bids 25 per cent premium in procuring a loan, the stock is represented with 100 per cent and a premium of 25 per cent, it would be 100 per cent plus 25 equal to 125 per cent, or he bid $125.00 to receive $1000.00, or at the rate of 80 cents on a dollar or $80.00 a share, which is less the premium bid. It being a premium and not a discount, the word "premium" meaning prize, or an advance on the original value, and not a reduction as most Building Societies have been calculating.

We are informed that the State League will endeavor to gain a rehearing of the case. It is very doubtful if they will be successful in having the decision reversed, any more than they would be able to convert the commercial world to believe that premium is a discount. This premium question with most Building and Loan Associations is an important one. It means a reduction of at least one million dollars on loans in the State of Illinois, or a reduction of about 20 per cent in their premium account—thus the activity of the League.

Will the League bring the matter before the next session of the General Assembly? That is doubtful because it might open up the whole premium question, and by so doing, premiums might be legislated out of existence, which would be approved by at least ten thousand borrowers in this State, and will be vigorously fought against by the League. Query, can the State League as it is now constituted exist without premiums?

AN IDEAL ROAD.

A rural subscriber to the "Burlington Hawkeye" writes to his paper as follows:

If I were to make an ideal road for this prairie country, it would be something like this:—I would have sixteen feet made solid with some material in the middle of the road, and on each side about the same width of dirt road for several miles out of the city. Farther away, the hard road might be narrowed to eight or ten feet. The reason for this plan is, that there is no road as good as a dirt road when dry and smooth. In dry weather the travel would be on the dirt road, saving the hard track, and vice versa in wet weather, saving both.

The writer has had some experience in that line in the days gone by, when he had a plank road from Middleton to Burlington. In muddy times we all went on the plank road; in dry weather the dirt road was used. If some of our wise men would frame some law to improve our roads they would confer a great benefit to the country and state. Indiana has made her thoroughfares so you can travel from one part to another without muddying your vehicle, while Ohio still goes floundering through the mud. Which are the wisest statesmen?

I think it would be better to pay our road tax in cash instead of working There would be as much wisdom in saying I should preach out my tithes, teach out my school tax, as to demand me to work out my road tax.

The benefits from a home market are many and various. My mind was directed to this some two years ago, when hay was selling in Burlington for $16 a ton, when we were feeding good hay to cattle and realizing about $6, because we would have lost all profit in hauling our hay over the wretched roads.

LATE LEGAL DECISIONS.

The owners of adjacent lands may, by parol agreement, when fairly entered into, settle and establish the boundary line between their lands, which, when followed by possession to the line thus established, will be binding upon them and their privies. Such agreement operates, not by way of conveyance of the land, but as determining where the true boundary in fact is, and it will be enforced, as well at law as in equity.

The adoption of a division line by adjacent land owners may be implied from the acts and declarations of the parties, and their acquiescence therein for a considerable length of time; and such agreement followed by possession in accordance therewith, will estop the parties from disputing it, although the statute of limitation has not run.

The filing of a cross bill in a suit for foreclosure, for the cancellation of a mortgage, will arrest the running of the statute of limitations, and so will a recovery of a judgment at law by the holder of the mortgage against the mortgagor arrest the running of the statute, and it will therefore begin to run only from the date of the judgment.

One making an absolute and unconditional deed of land to his mother without any actual consideration, the deed reciting a consideration of one dollar, can not establish a trust in the grantee by a parol agreement that she was to hold the land during her life for the use of the grantor, and his brother and sister after her death; nor can such trust be shown by the declaration of the grantee that the land belonged to her children.

In each case, the grantee, after the conveyance to her, made a will, in which she devised the land according to her parol agreement, but the will contained no declaration or statement that she held the land in trust, and she afterward conveyed the land and made a different will: Held that the execution of the prior will did not take the case out of the statute of frauds. If the testatrix had stated in the first will that she held the land in trust, then the trust might be enforced.

As a general rule, where real property is purchased and a conveyance in the legal title taken in the name of one person while the purchase money is paid by another, a resulting trust immediately arises from the transaction, and the person to whom the conveyance is made will hold the property for the party who furnished the purchase money.

So where one purchases land and pays for it out of his own means, but takes the deed to another who pays nothing therefor, the grantee will take and hold the land in trust for the one so purchasing and paying the purchase money.

The Supreme Court of Nebraska held, in the case of Richardson v Campbell, that where money has been loaned at a specified rate of interest, as 10 per cent, and the note contains a provision that if not paid at maturity the maker shall pay 12 per cent thereafter, the higher rate is in the nature of a penalty; and the contract will continue as before the maturity of the note.

The Supreme Court of Nebraska held, in the recent case of the Phoenix Insurance Company v Perry, that where a fire insurance policy provides for notice and proof of loss, but not the manner of making it except that the notice shall be in writing, and the company is immediately notified of the loss by its local agent, by letter, and sends an adjuster to investigate it, who makes an estimate of the loss, this is sufficient to entitle the insured to recover.

The Supreme Court of Louisana held, in the recent case of Stanton v Harvey, that rent due under a lease entered into by a husband in the name of his wife, though the lease was signed in another State, the place of their domicile, for property situated in Louisana, can be claimed by the husband. It is, the court said, a community debt incurred by him, for which he is liable and can be made to pay.

AGENTS' BUDGET.

Recent sales, however small, not yet recorded, will be reported in this column. All matter must apply to the real estate business and real estate men.

The Columbia Steel Car company now controls about 800 acres of land at Riverview, about a mile south of Desplaines, and lying between the Wisconsin Central and Northwestern railroads. This company has recently passed into the control of a large English syndicate, which will convert the property into a plant for an electric light company that intends to locate in Chicago. This puts an end to the suits now pending before the courts. The company was organized about a year and a half ago with a capitalization of $1,000,000, and the announcement was made at the time that shops would be erected to employ over one thousand men. Other industries were planned to locate at the same place, and one of them, a paper mill, is now in operation. Last August, however, the Columbia people found themselves short of money and sold a controlling interest in their company to an eastern syndicate, which was represented here by the law firm of Adams & Hamilton. Legal complications arose shortly after this sale and the affairs of the Columbia Car Works have been in litigation ever since. During the last two weeks agents have been busy securing options on numerous acre tracts adjoining the land owned by the car company, and it has been learned that this activity is caused by the fact that the English syndicate desires more land. The names of the persons interested in this syndicate are withheld at present, all of the details of the negotiations being attended to by Adams & Hamilton. One of the former stockholders, who sold out his interest, states that besides the electric light plant already referred to a large car-wheel foundry is also to be located there and that the syndicate now in control will develop a large manufacturing center at this point.

W. D. Kerfoot & Co. have negotiated a lease of the property 100 and 102 Randolph street to Koelling & Klappenbach. The ground has a north frontage of forty feet and is 100 feet deep. The rental to be paid is $8,000 a year for the first seven years and $9,000 annually for the balance of the term of ninety-nine years, making the value of the property for the bulk of the term on a 5 per cent basis $180,000, or $4,500 per front foot. The leases in the present building expire in May, 1894, when the lessees will erect a modern building on the lot, of which they will occupy the store floor and the balance will be devoted to office purposes.

An interesting sale of West side property is reported. Jno. J. Berry has sold to O. W. Johnson the block of buildings on the northwest corner of West Twelfth street and Hull avenue for $110,000. The ground has a frontage of 125 feet on Twelfth street and has the same depth. It is improved with a four-story store and flat building erected about two years ago. EDGEMOOR.

We are now offering for sale blocks and lots in EDGEMOOR the new suburb on the Chicago Central road, at 79th street. Edgemoor is one half mile square and includes 160 acres of the beautiful ridge property in the southwest part of the city, with an east frontage on Western ave., and a north frontage on 79th st. The Chicago Central, the Northern Pacific's new suburban road, runs directly through the center of the property with a depot at 81st st.

On this road will be inaugurated, within 90 days, the most complete train service as to elaborateness of equipment and quick running time, given on any suburban road in the city. The scheduled time from Edgemoor to the Grand Central depot will be 22 minutes, The south 80 acres of Edgemoor will be improved in a high class manner the coming season, the improvements to include water and sewer, macadam streets, granite cement walks six feet wide, combination curb and gutter also of granite cement and a double row of trees. A special form of warranty deed has been prepared which establishes a 20 foot building line, a $3,000 building restriction, and also prohibits factories of all kinds and the use of buildings for saloon purposes. Contracts for the grading and sidewalk and curb and gutter work have already been let. The work will be begun soon as the ground is in condition in the spring and all of the improvements will be pushed to completion as rapidly as possible. The contract for the side-walk and curb and gutter work on the 80 acres has been let to The Northwestern Asphalt Co. the cost being $50,000. Several houses will be built and occupied by June 15th. We are prepared to offer special inducements to individual investors and syndicates who will take a five acre block interest in the property. LIBERAL COMMISSIONS PAID TO BROKERS AND AGENTS.

This grand Literary Competition is open to everybody everywhere. The following are the conditions:

1. The words must be constructed only from letters in the words, "The Illustrated Agriculturist" and must be only such as are found in Webster's Unabridged Dictionary, in the body of the book, none of the supplement to be used.

2. The words must be written in rotation and numbered 1, 2, 3 and so on, for facilitating in deciding the winners.

3. Letters cannot be used oftener than they appear in the words "The Illustrated Agriculturist" for instance; the word "egg" cannot be used as there is but one "g" in the three words.

4. The list containing the largest number of words will be awarded first prize, and so on in order of merit. Each list as it is received will be numbered, and if two or more tie, the first received will be awarded first prize, and so on, therefore the benefit of sending in early will readily be seen.

5. Each list must be accompanied by $1 for six months subscrition to THE AGRICULTURIST.

The following gentlemen have kindly consented to act as judges; J. G. MACDONALD, City Clerk, peterborough, Canada, and COMMODORE CALOUTT, Peterborough.

CASINO.

Haverly's Mastodon Minstrels are, without question, the most complete organization that has ever appeared in Chicago, and their performances at the Casino (Eden Musee) have been endorsed in most thorough manner by all classes of amusement seekers. Particularly attractive are the entertainments to out-town visitors, who after an inspection of the various objects of interest in the Musee department, attend the minstrel concerts. The program of the past week has been very pleasing, but the coming week will be a gala week, commemorative of Ireland's patron saint, St. Patrick, the great and good, whose birthday is celebrated throughout the entire civilized world. The program will include all the members of the company, and Irish ballads will predominate. The theater will be decorated and draped with the national colors and flags, and our beautiful wax figure of Robert Emmett will be exhibited free. A new singer will be heard in the person of Mr. Albert Yale, well known to all Canadians as a vocalist of much merit. Banks Winter the celebrated tenor, will have a new song. The comedians Rice, Hall, Denton, Rudworth, Bogert, and O'Brien will have new specialties. Ellwood, the wonderful male soprano, will display new feminine toilets. Constantine, the dancer, will execute new solos, and Harry Budworth will repeat his new repertoire, The latter's song, "Come to Baltimore," has "caught the town" and is encored three and four times every performance. Altogether, the week will be one long to be remembered, and all desirous of hearty, wholesome pleasure should not fail to attend. "Excelsior" is Mr. Haverly's motto. Much has been done by this gentleman "but more remains behind."
